As well as every business man should have a bank account.

Why?

Because:

Your money is safer in the bank than anywhere else. Paying your bills by check is the simplest and most convenient method. Your check becomes a voucher for the debt it pays. It gives you a better standing with business men. Money in the bank strengthens your credit. A bank account teaches, helps and encourages you to save. This bank does all the book-keeping. Your bank book is a record of your business. To those desiring banking connections with an Old Established bank, we extend our services.

OTHER MEXICAN TROUBLES

If the United States should break with Mexico, as conditions now seem to indicate, it will be numbered on the pages of history as the second conflict with the neighboring country. Students of history will remember that a state of war existed between the United States and Mexico from 1846-1848, as a result of the outrages Mexico heaped on American citizens, the recognition of the independence of Texas by the United States, the annexation of Texas and finally the boundary dispute as to the border line of the United States.

As that country is now, so was it at that time, torn with revolution and contending factions, and teeming with internal troubles. A great many of the officers were politicians, hoping for position through military influence.

The Mexican army at that time numbered 30,000 of all arms in addition to the national guards of the cities. The American army was inferior in numerical strength to the enemy, consisting of only 7,533 in 1845. This was afterwards increased by volunteers and the national guard, so that the total number of soldiers who served added up to 44,536 men. What the American army lacked in numbers it made up in fighting quality. The effective power of the Mexicans was enhanced by the fact that they represented the defense and were fighting in their own territory.

A long series of victories followed for the United States, in spite of the small numbers. General Zachary Taylor and General Scott played an important part in the war. General Scott it was who marched to the City of Mexico. California and New Mexico were taken by the American soldiers. Peace was declared on February, 1848.

MUZZLING THE PRESS

ONE of the most high handed pieces of legislation ever contemplated by a political party is a clause in the pending postoffice appropriation bill conferring upon the postmaster general the power to deny mail transportation to any magazine, or other periodical, and require it to be shipped as freight. The clause gives the postmaster general unlimited discretionary power of selection and any publication may come under the ban of his displeasure without further recourse.

The enactment of such a clause would enable the postmaster general to hamper the circulation of periodicals inimical to the campaign prospects of the democratic administration.

"The democratic party offers itself to the country as an agency through which the complete overthrow and extermination of corruption, fraud and machine rule in American politics can be effected," says that splintered relic, the Baltimore platform. President Wilson has considerable to say about "pitiless publicity."

Concentrated to this cause, the party in power now seeks to stifle the greatest medium of publicity possessed by the American people—the mail service.

Officers in Command of Operations in the South

CAPT. BENJAMIN D. FOULOUS - GEN. JAMES PARKER

Brigadier General Frederick Funston, commanding the Southern department, is in command of the operations along and south of the border. From his headquarters at San Antonio, he is also directing the movement of the militia of the country, and has been instructed to secure 60,000 horses and mules for service, and to recruit several new regular regiments of infantry and cavalry.

Brigadier General J. J. Pershing is in command of the American expedition sent into Mexico in pursuit of Villa after the Columbus raid. His troops have engaged in several skirmishes with the Mexicans, and it was because he refused to obey the unauthorized orders of General Trevino of the Carranza army that Sunday's battle at Carrizal occurred.

Brigadier General James Parker is commander of the First cavalry brigade. His headquarters is Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Captain Benjamin D. Foulois is in command of the aviation corps on the border and in Mexico.

Meat on the Table Is a Real Treat for Germans

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROTTERDAM, May 27—(By Mail)—Many families in Germany go meatless for days and weeks at a time. This I have from a neutral business man of Dresden.

"It's as bad as housecleaning to get meat. It upsets our whole household economy as well as our financial economy. It's a dreadful operation and we don't go through it oftener than we have to. In the last sixteen days we have had meat twice.

"Fish, new asparagus just in the market, potatoes, spinach and dry, crumbling war bread made largely of potato flour, make up our list of edibles. We get so tired of it we hate to go to the table. Sometimes we even get so tired of it we decide we'll have meat. Then there's trouble."

He was requested to go into the details of a meat purchase in a German town.

"Well, it's like this," he said, lighting a good cigar (in some mysterious way a huge shipment of Havana cigars direct from Cuba reached Berlin the other day). "When we decide to have meat, my wife and I talk it over the night before. If the next day is Tuesday or Friday we can't buy anything but fish, for those are meatless days."

"My wife calls our maid, and says: 'Elisabeth, we want you to buy a beefsteak for us tomorrow.' Elisabeth frowns and goes out.

This means that Elisabeth must get up at 4 o'clock the next morning and go to the nearest butcher shop and stand in line until her turn comes to buy meat or until the butcher comes to the door and says to the waiting line: 'I'm all sold out of meat.'

"It is always a four or five hour job for her, unless she wants to get into the queue at 1 o'clock in the morning, as some maids do. 'When my wife and I get up, Elisabeth is down at the butcher shop and so I have to make the fire while my wife gets breakfast. I go off to the office and Elisabeth comes home at 8 or 9 o'clock, sore on the whole world."

"Sometimes she has been able to get meat, but more often than not she comes back empty handed. Officially, there are only two meat days a week, but in reality you find the butcher shops meatless day after day. 'I call up my wife sometime during the morning to find out whether we are going to have meat for supper. If she says we are, I'm happy all day. You'd be surprised to know how much difference a little meat makes."

"How much would Elisabeth pay for a beefsteak?" "Five marks and a half pound. 'How we linger over our supper when we have meat! Elisabeth hasn't done any work all day. She has been upset by her morning experience. 'You read of food riots in Berlin. That was only Elisabeth and her fellow fighting to keep their places in the line. 'But about supper time Elisabeth wakes up, cooks the meat and brings it in with smiles all over her face. She knows she'll get her share. But if we asked her to go out for meat every day, she wouldn't stay with us. 'That's where the rich folks come in. They can hire maids who have no other work but go through the meat raid daily. 'There are injustices galore about the food distribution in Berlin. That is why they have had food riots in front of the reichstag and in front of butcher shops. (The next article will tell of the injustices in the distribution of food in Germany which give the rich man the best of it.) Chilcote collects rents and looks after property of all kinds. AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TINGED GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.
