Proposed New Tax Law is Feared by Officials

SALEM, June 22.—Should the state-wide tax limitation amendment being initiated by the State Taxpayers' League be passed by the people at the coming general election, the state will be financially crippled, and its progress retarded, according to state officials versed in taxation matters. The amendment is wrong in principle, and would prove disappointing in its practical results, they assert. The amendment limits the taxing power of the legislature, counties, port districts and city councils by providing that they shall not make a levy exceeding that of the preceding year, by more than 6 per cent.

The enactment of the amendment would make the low levy for 1916 the basis for the 1917 levy. Including the millage taxes the levy for 1916 totaled only $2,550,000, and should the amendment be adopted the legislature would be prohibited from increasing it by more than $153,000, it is asserted.

Pointing out that the total levy for 1915 was $3,112,000, and that for 1914 $4,165,000, they declare that such an increase would be insufficient and that the state and its institutions would suffer.

"The chief trouble with our system of taxation in Oregon today is the strait jacket of constitutional restraint which prevents an orderly and rational development," said one authority. "On account of the iron rule of uniformity in assessment and taxation prescribed in our constitution, we are prevented from using methods of classification in taxation which have everywhere been found necessary if the various forms and classes of property are to be effectively and fairly taxed."

DAIRY COWBOYS ARE ORGANIZED

BASEBALL AGGREGATION WILL PLAY THE YAINAX INDIANS SUNDAY, AND TACKLE OLIVER'S TEAM LATER ON

Ross Sutton is again a baseball manager. He has just completed the reorganization of the Dairy Cowboys, and is arranging a schedule of games for the remainder of the season. Sunday the team will play the Yainax Stars at Dairy.

Last Sunday the team played the Indians at Yainax and lost 10 to 4, but considering the fact that this was the first time the Cowboys played together, the Dairy people are not disheartened. Since then several new men have been added, materially strengthening the team.

Later in the season, Sutton hopes to play Oliver's Segundos here.
