KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1916

PEOPLE SHOULD WAKE UP

ONE of the greatest attractions of Klamath county to the tourist and visitor is the excellent fishing that obtains in the hundreds of streams and lakes in the county. Practically everyone here recognizes the value to this section of keeping the streams well stocked with young fish, so that this sport will continue indefinitely, and thus result in a yearly increase of the tourist travel, yet the impression seems to prevail that our streams will restock themselves without any effort on our part, or that outsiders will do for us what we should be glad of an opportunity to do for ourselves.

Occasionally one hears talk of the possibility of securing a fish hatchery in this county, yet the people seem to expect this will come without any effort on their part. With demands from every section of the state for hatcheries and expenditure of money for fish propagation and game protection, the state commission is not going to build a hatchery here unless the people show in a decided manner that they want one.

Simply because Klamath county has a member on the commission is no reason that they should expect him to secure all these much needed concessions single handed and alone. They should back him up in his efforts and show in a public manner that Klamath county is a unit in its request for a hatchery.

We have a very good egg-taking station at Spencer Creek, but the location is entirely unfit for a hatchery. This is recognized by the commission as well as the local people. From this station hundreds of thousands of young fry have been liberated in the lakes and streams of the county, and even a greater number have been shipped out to other sections of the state, where there were better facilities for feeding. Six thousand young trout were placed in Four Mile Lake two years ago, and last year 115,000 were planted in those waters, with the result that Four Mile Lake this summer will be the greatest fly casting body of water in the county.

This simply demonstrates what can be done in the other streams and lakes of the county, if there were a hatchery here. One or more suitable sites have already been found, any one of which can be obtained at a very reasonable cost, provided favorable action can be secured from the state commission. To do this the people here must show that they want a hatchery and some movement toward this end should be started at once, so that the site can be secured and the hatchery built this fall, in readiness for operation early in the spring.

LET THE other fellow do it, has been the attitude of the people of Klamath county too long. It's time to get busy. OTHER SECTIONS are spending real money for things Klamath could secure simply by asking for them.

THE FOURTH OF JULY is passed, and after that come the July Clearance sales. Are you ready?

IT IS HOPED that the red tape of the government will not delay unnecessarily the final closing of the Ankeny canal.

FUTURE CANDIDATES for mayor will have to find a new platform, now that the Ankeny canal nuisance is practically settled. It certainly served for a good many years.

SELDON KIRK said something in his Fourth of July speech when he remarked: "I stand before you as an aborigine of this country, a ward of a nation, but not a free man."

Special bulletins describing the work and equipment of the schools of architecture, commerce, journalism and law have been issued by the University of Oregon, and will be sent free on application.

"Good Bye, Daddy!"

Says Armenian Revolt Child of Turk Abuses

Editor's Note—A leader of Armenian thought in the United States, who is associated with a Western state college, volunteers this reply to the signed statement of Dr. Ahmed Emin, editor of the Constantinople Tanin, concerning Armenian atrocities that are charged against the Turks. In requesting that his name be withheld the writer says: "I would prefer you not to use my real name as signed under the story. I am doing this in order to safe guard the three remnants of my immediate family of thirty-four, who are in Turkey at present. The rest were killed by the Turks within this last year. If you wish to use a name you may use my pen name—Azad Ardiziv."

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, July 11.—"Revolutionary movement and open treason" have been the cause of the present plight of the Armenians in Asia Minor, according to Dr. Ahmed Emin, editor of the Constantinople Tanin, as set forth in his story, "The Other Side," recently printed in the press of the United States.

When the Turks conquered Armenia 500 years ago there were 40,000,000 Armenians in that country. Today there are hardly 3,000,000 of them all over the world. The 37,000,000 Armenians perished as the result of periodic annual and daily massacres at the hands of the Turks.

A fanatic may consider this the work of a "humane race"—the Turks—and indulge in pointing out the faults of other nations to justify the barbaric acts of his own. The assimilation of the Armenians is a historic impossibility. Even the Turkish practice of cutting the tongue of every Armenian when he failed to speak in Turkish did not make successful the assimilation policy of the Ottoman government.

By what sense of justice, then, does the Turk argue in favor of his own government as a giver of freedom of language? What does the gentleman mean by "freedom of community" if he does not wish to contradict flatly the facts of the Ottoman rulers?

Thirty thousand Armenians were massacred in Adana at the hands of the so-called Young Turkish party in 1908—soon after the proclamation of the "constitutional government." Five women were crucified. One of the bodies, still on the cross, was thrown into the river and the blood stained waves of the river to where the Christian battleships were anchored. To the mind of our critic this may be "absolute equality with the Turks."

Not long ago the government sent official doctors to "vaccinate" the Armenian children of the town of Zeitun. Instead of injecting vaccine serum, they injected poison, and 400 children died in one night. If this is the work of a humane race what might be its brutal deeds?

My own experience in the massacre of 1895 and 1896 are still fresh in my memory, and if necessary I can enumerate tales of horror which I heard and saw. With all these cruel inflictions, instead of fostering revenge, one Armenian political party held the bloody hands of the committee of union and progress, saying that it is enough, we are brothers; let us work for the welfare of the country.

The Armenian revolutionary movement was the child of persecutions at the hands of the Turkish government. When apparently a change took place in Turkey in 1908, the revolutionary parties automatically became political parties.

Suppose that a few Armenians or a group of them had conspired against the government. Why were not those directly responsible punished? Did the United States deport and massacre the German population because of the lawless acts of a few members of that nationality? Did Great Britain put to the sword the Irish people—men, women and children—because of the present uprising?

By what logic, then, can Turkey justify the burning, drowning, clubbing and killing in innumerable ways of

OREGON ANIMAL LIFE IS STUDIED

UNIVERSITY CONDUCTING STATE-WIDE STUDY OF ZOOLOGICAL FORMS—RARE SPECIMENS FOR THE MUSEUM

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, July 11.—Rare birds and animals seldom or never before reported as existing in Oregon, are being found high in the Cascades by the members of the University of Oregon biological survey camp above Oakridge. This camp is established in the interests of collecting specimens for the university museum. The hunting and trapping is under the direction of A. C. Shelton, curator of the museum, who spends most of his vacations in this way in far parts of the state. He is assisted this year by Frank Scatefe and Jack Montague.

One of the rare specimens is a red-eyed vireo, a small bird, reported before from this state, which is very rare. Another rare specimen obtained is a hermit thrush, which is probably similar to the Alaska bird of the same name.

The survey camp will spend five weeks in the region forty miles north of Crater Lake and around Diamond peak.

"The survey this year includes birds, mammals, insects, reptiles and amphibians," said Professor John F. Boward, head of the department of biology, under which the survey is conducted.

"This is just a part of a big survey of the entire state which we are taking for the university. Last year we spent some time on the coast, and again this spring, and are now high in the mountain region. Another year we hope to go into the Eastern Oregon region, and will then have a survey across the state. We expect after that to go into other regions of the state to get representative animals for the university museum. A comparison between the specimens from the Western and Eastern sides of the Cascades will be made."

GAY WILL FARM FOR CALIFORNIA

KLAMATH FARMER IS SUCCESSFUL APPLICANT FOR POSITION AS FARMER FOR CALIFORNIA POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL

Grant Gay, for the last few years a farmer of Klamath county, will leave tomorrow morning for San Luis Obispo, Calif., to enter the employ of the California state polytechnic school. Mr. Gay will superintend the farm work at the school.

When he was in California last fall Mr. Gay took the examination for this position, and among a list of 300 applicants ranked second.

Mr. Gay formerly farmed the Van Valkenburg ranch on the Keno road, and this summer has been in the employ of Ellis Young, a farmer of the Lost River section.

Ministers of all denominations will gather at the University of Oregon for the last week in July for the annual Oregon interdenominational conference.

Armenian men, women and children because of the alleged participation of a few Armenians in treasonable acts?

When the war broke out the Armenian men of military age were sent to the front to dig trenches and do other menial work. They were finally distributed among the Turkish villages and killed. Who was it, then, that rebelled? The old men, women and the children?

The Armenian language belongs to the Indo-European while the Turkish language is a mixture of Persian, Arabic and Turkish, which consists of about 500 words. Religiously the Armenians are Christians, while the Turks are Mohammedans. Generally speaking, there is social similarity between the majority of the people of the world. Particularly speaking, the lines of social habits are sharply drawn between the Turks and the Armenians.

The extermination policy of the Turk was followed even by Sultan Salim Canoony. It is as old as are the Turkish invasions. The disappearance of 92 per cent of the Armenian population and the attempts made by our critic to justify the unspeakable crime of the Turkish government shows that Mr. Ahmed Emin is a true exponent of Mohammedan theology, which justifies the telling of a lie when it "averts evil from a Moslem."

CITY HAS CLEAR TITLE TO CANAL

DEEDS TO WATER RIGHTS FROM THIRTY-THREE LIVE RIGHTS OR DERED RECORDED—CITY'S SESSION IS CLEAR

When the city council last evening directed $33 to be paid to County Clerk DeLap for recording the thirty-three deeds to water rights under the Ankeny canal, the last important step was taken to forever close the ditch. The thirty-three deeds, which include all living rights in the canal, will be recorded today.

For some time the city has been quietly buying up the rights of all persons who claimed water from the ditch. Two rights are still out, but no person with a clear title can be located.

According to City Attorney Grossbeck, the ownership of the city to the Ankeny canal can now never be successfully contested in court.

No water will be run in the canal this summer. Only the carrying out of a few legal formalities with the United States now stands in the way of actual filling of the canal with dirt. These are expected to be carried out soon, as the city and government already are in agreement on them.

RESERVATION OPENING GETS GOOD PUBLICITY

The movement on the part of Klamath Commercial Club and other interests to secure the opening of Klamath Indian reservation is securing much needed and valuable publicity in the East, according to a clipping from the Argus Press Clipping bureau of New York, the Financial American, published in New York, has printed a splendid article by Secretary Fred Fleet of the Commercial Club. The paper included an introduction to the article.

According to Secretary Fleet, publicity by Eastern publications of such standing as the Financial American will help mightily to get the bill to open the reservation through congress.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation, should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results. (Advertisement)

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW BRUDDIST SAYS LADIES ARE USING RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and brittle, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifying the hair, it also brings back the gloss and lustre, and gives it an appearance of youthfulness. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet preparation to use after each a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the hair, but for the prevention of
