KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1916

TIMBER SALE MONEY

MUCH interest by the counties of Eastern Oregon will be taken in suit authorized by Baker county against Secretary of State Olcott to collect something like $35,000, which is claimed Baker county is entitled to from the sales of timber on the government forest reserves.

There seems to be a feeling among Eastern Oregon counties, where the largest portion of the forest reserves are located, that these counties are not receiving their full portion in the distribution of the money received from the sales of timber. An act of congress provides that 25 per cent received from sales shall be paid over to the state to be distributed for school and road purposes, as the legislature shall provide.

The manner of distributing this money is in question. The act of congress provides that it shall be apportioned among the counties in which the reserve is located in proportion to the area of the reserve lying within the county. It is claimed that the money has been distributed among all the counties of the state in proportion to the area of forest reserve contained therein, irrespective of the location of the reserve from which the timber was sold.

During the year 1915 the Pelican Bay Lumber company alone paid over $50,000 to the government for the purchase of timber in Klamath county, although only $10,000 of this amount was paid prior to June 1st, which is the end of the fiscal year of the government. For 1915 Klamath county only received $3,454, which is 57 per cent of the year from the Crater Lake reserve, of 25 per cent of the total sales during fifty-seven per cent of this reserve in Klamath county and the remainder in Jackson. Promont reserve has a larger area in Klamath than Crater Lake, and a portion of the Cascade reserve is also in this county, so it would appear that no sales have been made in these two latter reserves, or else Klamath county has failed to receive its share.

This matter has been under investigation for some time by the Klamath Commercial Club, and they have reports from the state treasurer's office and the foresters of the different reserves, besides information from a number of timber companies as to the amount of timber purchased.

As the timber sales in Klamath county are increasing at a most rapid rate, the question of the proper distribution of the money received from sales is an important one to the people of this county. If this money is distributed proportionately among all the counties of the state containing forest reserves, of course Klamath county will not receive near the amount, as if it was distributed among just those counties in which the reserve was located from which the timber is sold.

MAN ARRESTED HERE NOW IN PORTLAND JAIL

M. H. Evans, who was arrested at Fort Klamath Monday by Deputy United States Marshal Jackson, is now in jail in Portland on a charge of using the mails to further a scheme to defraud. Federal officers say that Evans posed as an expert insurance solicitor, and as such was sent out by a Portland insurance agent, whom he victimized by means of fake notes, purporting to be from persons for whom he had written policies. These notes were sent to Portland, it is alleged, by mail. It is also alleged that Evans got $100 under false pretenses at Bend.

Says Accounts on Farm Should Be Standardized

through uniform government reports, and conservation of human energy by scientific management. It is just as necessary that business methods of the farm be standardized and uniform as the business methods of factory.

If the production of farm commodities is going to keep pace with the increasing demand, farm accounts must be kept and kept in a systematic, uniform way.

If accounting systems are standardized they will serve as a basis for comparing success and failure of neighboring farms with a view to correct the mistakes. With the young farmer just starting in business the standardized accounts would serve as a partial substitute for experience.

Contrary to the usual understanding of the matter the subject of farm accounts is not new, but was discussed frequently by the ancients, especially Pliny and Cicero.

Uncle Sam to Conduct Woman's Work Bureau

Uncle Sam's all ready to help his women and girls get jobs. Organization of the recently created women's and girls' division of the United States employment service of the bureau of immigration now is on a working basis, Commissioner of General Immigration Carminetti announced here today.

Branches of this bureau have been established in all the leading cities of the country. They are in charge of women. Uncle Sam's investigation disclosed that women and girls don't like to deal with men when they go to an employment bureau, that's why.

The service stations will give special attention to the requests of women wage earners for work and to meeting the demand for female help in rural as well as urban communities. If a woman in Des Moines wants a job in Kansas City but doesn't know much about conditions down there, she will be told by the bureau. Detailed information about pay, hours and general conditions will be placed at her disposal by the bureau.

Work on the million dollar postoffice at Portland will start next month.

Chairman of G.O.P. Central Committee

In announcing that he would accept the chairmanship of the republican state central committee, Judge Charles L. McNary said that he would do all that he could to aid in the election of the state and national tickets. Judge McNary was elected at a meeting held by the committee in Portland Saturday.

"I had no intimation of my selection as chairman until after the act was accomplished, and I shall do all I can to assist in the election of the splendid state and national tickets chosen by the electorate in the open primaries last May," he said. "I appreciate most keenly the value of a united republican party having for its purpose the restoration of American ideals of honor and dignity abroad and the welfare of the masses at home. Therefore, I contemplate with pleasure the unification of the republican and progressive parties.

"It was fortunate for Charles Evan Hughes that the people of Oregon could express their preference without political or legal hindrance, and it is equally fortunate that the agents of the people at the Chicago convention harkened to the voice of our commonwealth and nominated him as the candidate of a united and triumphant party.

"In the contest which is impending I ask for the aid and assistance of those who believe in protection, preparedness and prosperity."

Judge McNary was born in Salem in 1874, and is regarded as one of the ablest lawyers in the state. He is a graduate of Stanford University, and for a number of years was dean of the law department of Willamette University. He was appointed a member of the supreme court in 1913, and was defeated in the primary election of 1914 by one vote by Justice Henry L. Benson.

Discoverer's Daughter Would Learn to Fly

Marie Peary, daughter of Admiral and Mrs. Robert E. Peary, has engaged in the study of aviation as a summer pastime. She said her mother are spending the hot months on the Maine coast, and Miss Peary is absorbing everything she can find on the subject of flying with the intent of taking a course in actual flying as soon as she has finished her preliminary work. Her interest in the study is inspired by her father's absorption in it.

LOCAL MEN AT SUMMER SCHOOL

STATE UNIVERSITY'S SUMMER SCHOOL SHOWS INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE OF 66 PER CENT OVER THAT OF YEAR

Herald Special Service UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, July 12—Vernon T. Moteschbacher and T. A. Barton of Klamath Falls are registered for the summer session of the University of Oregon. Both students are taking courses in Experimental Education under Dr. Ayer of the University, and School Administration under Professor Chas. R. Frazier.

The University summer school this year shows an increase in attendance of more than 66 per cent over last year, and more than 100 per cent over the year before, constituting one of the most rapid gains in size in such a short period ever made by an old-established institution in the state. The summer school has been in existence eleven years, but its great spurt in growth dates, like that of other departments of the university, from the time of the withdrawal of the Oregon educational institutions from the field of politics, and from the establishment of a high standard of graduate work in all the summer courses.

The summer students are said to average more than thirty years of age, many of them being successful men and women in many lines of work.

Numerous married couples are registered this year, husbands and wives taking work together. The overwhelming majority of the students are Oregonians, but the following states are represented: Washington, California, Idaho, Montana, Iowa, Kentucky, Arizona, Kansas, and the province of New Brunswick. The most distant student comes from Amoy, South China.

DEAREST PUBLIC

This is to let you know that I am starving.

Pretty, tho, isn't it? Why don't you come in and get a set of those ice tea glasses. Sure, you can use them for beer on water—anything you like; and they are cheap. We also have the ice tea spoons, and they have the same disease—cheap.

Science has just revealed that most of the "peaches" hang round on their limbs. No, I mean twigs.

If you wish to have your Parisian Ivory engraved bring it in, as Mr. Davis is the champion at this work.

We will have a sample of the work in the window this coming week. If you are going fishing you should have a set of nested drinking cups, as they are useful and sanitary, and prevent pollywogs from going down the esophagus.

And, Dorothy, if you ever are going to crave love, it should take on you soon. We have a stack of diamond rings and a big bunch of "slavery" rings in the latest patterns.

We can reset your diamond while you wait, and you are foolish to let it go, for when you do lose it the check is not great that you are going to find it again.

If 'tis a watch you crave see our stock. Solid gold wrist watches for $12.50.

You ought to have a Thermos bottle if you go to the trout.

When is love the youngest? I shall be off for life if you don't get a move on, and hurry to my aid, as I am starving right now.

Please come over and buy a diamond. McHATTAN.
