

"Kill Us," Cry Wounded; Officers Use Grenades

WINCHESTER, Mass., July 15.—John Sheehan, Harvard '13, back from the Verdun front with a medal of honor for courageous work as an ambulance driver in the American legion, today told the United Press this story of the battlefield as it was related to him by a French captain of Zouaves, who lay mortally wounded in a base hospital.

Following one of the terrible drives by the Boches up a shell swept slope held by the French, the field was strewn with dead and dying. Incessant artillery fire for three days before the final charge had pitted the hillside with high shell craters, and had driven the French first line infantry back to the crest of the knoll. Then came the Germans, pouring out of their network of trenches, stumbling up the steep slopes and going down before the rifle fire of the French Zouaves. Three times the Boches attempted to gain the crest, and each time they were mowed down by a hail of lead, falling back to their lines in scattered groups.

When night came on and the German charge had been stayed, "no man's land" between the French lines on the top of the hill and the "Tutuons" position on the plain below, was piled high with dead and wounded; and the huge holes torn by the German shells were filled level full with bodies.

Now Kid McCoy is a Soldier Boy

Here is Kid McCoy, but to speak in a military way, Private Norman Selby of New York and Indiana, the man who invented the famous left corkscrew. If he lands that punch on the chin of any "greaser" as hard as he landed it on Peter Maher and Tom Sharkey there will be one less Mexican. The "Kid" is an enthusiastic private in Company K of the Seventy-first regiment of New York. This photograph shows him in the center of an admiring group in camp at McAllen, Texas.

INFANTILE SPINAL PARALYSIS

By DR. A. A. SOULE

Infantile paralysis is attracting wide attention and much interest, due to the epidemic now raging in New York city. The federal government has been asked to give $125,000 to fight the disease which has claimed in the present epidemic 400 or more victims, and has attacked about 2,000 people.

The sorry part of this disease is that it does not produce death, it leaves the victim a cripple for life. Deformities of various sorts are produced. It may leave club feet, a crooked spine, a claw-like hand, a shriveled arm or leg, or even paralysis of all the extremities.

The scientific name of infantile paralysis is acute anterior poliomyelitis, which means an acute inflammation of the front portion of the spinal cord, which part of the cord controls the movements of the body. Recent cases show an inflammatory softening some place along the extent of the cord. If the inflammation is high up on the cord, death will result. Lower down it affects the arms or legs, as the case may be. If the disease occurs in infancy the limb affected may always remain the infantile size.

It is a disease of early childhood, but may occur in adult life. Boys are affected more often than girls. It is essentially a hot weather disease. Its cause is of an infectious nature which has not yet been determined. The New York health department was premature in announcing that they had found the germ, which they named poliomyelitis. It is not known if the virus is bacterial or chemical, or by what path it gains entrance into the body. It is infectious, for it has been inoculated into monkeys producing the characteristic paralysis. Quarantine is of no use, as the disease has no definite way of spreading.

The symptoms at the onset are fever, general malaise, vomiting, diarrhea and sometimes convulsions. After a couple of days paralysis sets in, which is fully developed in twenty-four hours. In a few days the paralysis may leave and the patient recover, yet the rule is that the paralysis remains. When the disease appears, the patient should be put to bed. Cold baths, oxygen, electricity and drugs are used, but there is no specific curative treatment known.

Oregon in 1906 had a number of cases. There were fifteen patients at one time in Roseburg, in September, 1906. Since that epidemic and at present there has been no cases reported.

BOND BUYERS CAN DODGE INCOME TAX

FORCE SELLERS OF STOCKS AND BONDS TO PAY INCOME TAX. COST ADDED TO THE COMMON CITIZEN

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—The rich, it was learned here today, have found a way to dodge paying their federal income tax. The poor pay it for them. The treasury department has information that well-to-do persons will not buy stocks and bonds unless the corporation they buy them from contracts to pay the income tax on them.

The corporation selling the stocks or bonds agrees to do this, then just adds the income tax to the retail price of its goods to the public. Thus the $10, $20 or $50 a week citizen, when he buys an article of wearing apparel, food, tools, instruments, machinery or what not, may be paying the income tax of his plutocratic neighbor.

Never Sang "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here"

United Press Service
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—A chorus of 1,000 voices, not one of which ever raised its clarion tone to the strains of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," will lead the prohibitionists' national convention in song when it opens here tomorrow. More than 30,000 song books of the convention have been scattered throughout the country, and prohibitionists from every state have learned the list.

Hundreds of auto parties are on their way into the city today from as far as 3,000 miles distant, bringing prompt prohibition news wherever along the route. The chorus will be led by Eddie M. Peace of St. Paul, who, though now a professional singer, has been law clerk, miner, tramp, rancher, machinist and builder. He wrote many of the convention songs. Among the songs are such as these: "Our Country's Going Dry," "Sing Out, White Man," "Hail to Cashing My Check," "Hail to the Licensed Saloon," and several dozen more like that.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLES

TAKE SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF BLADDER IRRITATION OR BACKACHE

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts like the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then be set free. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder troubles.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delicious effervescent little water beverage, and because in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good thing flushing any time.—Adv.

HEAR CASEMENT'S APPEAL THIS DAY

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT TAKING MUCH INTEREST IN HIS RIGHTS FATE, BUT THIS GOVERNMENT CAN DO NOTHING

United Press Service

LONDON, July 17.—Six black-robed judges are sitting here today to hear Sir Roger Casement's appeal for a new trial. Should the judges rule that Sir Roger's conviction on the charge of giving aid and comfort to England's enemies by stirring up the Irish rebellion was just, the Irishman must hang.

Sir Roger, one of the most brilliant men ever in the king's service, whose work among the colonies brought him a title and the royal favor, recently was found guilty of high treason. His defense was that he was working in the interest of Ireland's sovereignty, but not against England.

Although a statement has been communicated from the American government, through Ambassador Page, informing the British government that much interest is taken in the disposition of Sir Roger's case, nothing more nearly approaching a formal appeal for clemency could with diplomatic propriety be presented. The judges may not announce their decision today.

stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting new food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the acid fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble; others who have a flow skin, blood disorders and sticky complexion are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside bathing before breakfast.—Adv.
