

RURAL CREDITS BILL IS SIGNED

FARMERS MAY BORROW TO EXTENT OF HALF THEIR LAND VALUES AND 20 PER CENT OF IMPROVEMENTS

United Press Service
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 15.—Eugene President Wilson today signed the rural credits bill providing for long time farm loans. Many supporters of the bill were present at the signing. The president made a short talk in which he lauded the American farmers. The bill provides for twelve loan banks in the United States, each with a capitalization of $750,000, subscribed by the government, if not privately. Money is to be raised by selling farm loan bonds.

Loans may be made through national associations, if ten wishing to borrow will agree to buy stock equalling 5 per cent of the loans. Loans will be made equalling one half the land values, plus 20 per cent of the improvement values on which the loan is secured. Loans may be made for terms ranging from 5 to 40 years.

Opposes Change of Name
United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Chaffin, twice prohibition candidate for president, denied today rumors of the prohibition-progressive fusion. He declared the rumors were started to boom William Sulzer, former governor of New York, for the prohibition presidential nomination. In a speech to-morrow Chaffin will oppose the pre-convention move to change the name of the prohibition party.

HURRICANES PLAY HAVOC IN SOUTH

NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA DISTRICTS SUFFER DAMAGE TO MILLS AND CROPS BY RELEASED WATERS

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Floods and hurricanes in North Carolina and South Carolina have paralyzed communications with the districts affected. Many bridges have been destroyed and crops ruined. Five hundred people are homeless. The torrents broke several large dams, destroying mills and factories. In Asheville the streets are inundated. Losses of life are large. Many trains have been lost. Rescue work is progressing, but despite this the damage will be great.

CHECKS ENOUGH; CAN'T CASH THEM

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE FINES OFFENDERS, THEN CAN'T CASH THEIR CHECKS—ASKS STATE TREASURER

United Press Service
SACRAMENTO, July 15.—A justice of the peace at Hume in the remote mountains in the Kings River country, tells his troubles in a letter received by State Treasurer Friend Richardson. Justice J. E. Robinson hardly knows what to do with the people that he has to fine for violating the game laws. There is no bank there. The violators of the game laws have checks, but no money. Shall the justice send the violators without the real coin seventy-five miles over the mountains to the nearest jail, or take a check. The justice says:

"If I fine a man up here from a remote part of the state who has not the money, and no one here has the cash to cash his check, I must take his check or nothing, or maybe remit the fine, or send him to jail. Now what is the proper course for me to pursue? The jail is seventy-five miles from here. Am I to send a man to jail because I might think his check is no good, nor any bank or anybody here with money to cash it? I think I would make a worse blunder than taking his check."

MINE STOPS DAY TO GIVE MEDALS

IRISHMAN WHO HAS WORKED FOR MINING COMPANY FOR 50 YEARS REFUSES TO RETIRE ON A PENSION

United Press Service
CALUMET, Mich., July 15.—The biggest and richest copper mine in the world, the Calumet and Hecla, suspended business today, despite the enormous war boom business that's keeping all mines on the jump, to entertain its 20,000 employees and their families in commemoration of the semi-centennial of the discovery of the rich property. Gold, silver and bronze medals were presented to 1,355 veteran employees by President Agassiz, 165 of whom have worked for the company over forty years.

Timothy O'Shea, who worked the first pit of the mine fifty years and six months ago, refuses to retire on his pension.

GARRETT'S BOND SET BY COUNCIL AT $20,000

The bond of J. H. Garrett, who has the contract for improvement of the Shippington roadway, was fixed by the city council last night at $20,000. This is $48,91 more than the contract price for the road.

The ordinance authorizing Mayor Crisler to enter into a contract with Mr. Garrett for the work was read for the third time, and passed last evening.

Four Buds of Congressional Society

Miss Katherine Overman, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Lee S. Overman of North Carolina, has been a popular addition to Washington society since the family leased a home in the capital. Heretofore Miss Overman and her sister, Miss Grace Overman, have spent most of their time in North Carolina.

Miss Mary Hardwick, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia, is one of the beauties of the Southern congressional set, where beauty honors are won only against the severest competition.

Miss Eugenia Bankhead, daughter of William B. Bankhead of Jasper, Ala., who defeated Richmond P. Hobson for the democratic nomination for congress, will be one of the prettiest buds in Washington's official society next winter. Miss Bankhead is now a school girl in one of the capital's smart finishing schools, and is already well known here among the younger set. She is a granddaughter of Senator Bankhead.

Miss Isabel London, daughter of Representative Meyer London, the only socialist in congress, is popular in congressional society.

English Government Will Conduct Liquor Business

LONDON, July 15.—The British government's liquor control board has seized the four big breweries at Carlisle and all the saloons in the district, and will run them. This is believed to be the first actual move in Lloyd George's reported plan for the government to take advantage of our war control to take over the liquor trade as it has taken over and is running the telephones and railroads in war time. George's ultimate object is believed to be the death of the liquor traffic in England.

The government's agents in Carlisle district gave the liquor men only ten days' notice of the seizure. The owners will be paid for their properties, either in cash or government war bonds. Some of the saloons are to be closed, as the government's idea is to have only a few big saloons at central points rather than many small drinking houses scattered about in residence neighborhoods. The saloon and brewery men have no choice in the matter.

Epidemic of Bad Boys is Sweeping England

By HAL O'FLAHERTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, June 23.—(By mail)—England is being swept by an epidemic of bad boys. Ever since war began thousands of homes have been left in charge of mothers who had depended on their men to discipline the youngsters. Unrestrained, now that their fathers are at the front, the fatherless generation is running the gamut of mischief and petty crime.

American mothers left in the same predicament at the beginning of the Spanish-American war will understand how sorely tried are the English women in attempting to keep their sons in the paths of righteousness.

The situation is aggravated because the war has given rise to impetuous actions and words on the part of the youngsters, who daily read and hear of carnage and passion in the war zones. In appealing for funds for a home for boys the Bishop of Manchester declared that "anyone who has seen a mother trying to manage a boy between the ages of 14 and 16, knows she has her hands full. Her control is an appeal to the boy's affection, and it is very difficult for her to enforce the needed appeal to the boy's sense of duty."

Hundreds of boys have been arrested for petty offenses who are too young to join the colors and too old to put up with feminine discipline.

Juvenile homes are rapidly filling up with boys who have been declared incorrigible after numerous appearances in court. The London papers carry advertisements offering counsel and help to mothers whose sons have become unruly. The private services of men who have had wide experience in handling boys are offered. Records show that the majority of these bad boys come from war widows' homes.

ORINDALE NOTES

Another fine rain visited our parts Sunday.

L. M. Lyons of Boonanza visited with C. G. Hunt. Walter Mills and family also were guests there Sunday.

A. Switzer is hauling his winter wood now while the roads are good.

James Stansbie made a business trip to Klamath Falls Saturday.

The farmers in this neighborhood are a little uneasy about the grass hoppers at Long Lake. They seem to be working over the mountain in the direction of this neighborhood.

Chester DeLap expects to move soon to the Brown ranch at Round Lake, which he purchased recently.

LUMBER OUTPUT MUCH CURTAILED

CURTAILMENT IS SAID TO BE MORE THAN 50 PER CENT OVER THE PRODUCTION OF THE WEEK BEFORE

Herald Special Service
PORTLAND, July 15.—During the sawmill midsummer repairing season, which came to an end this week, production in the first district was curtailed more than 50 per cent, according to the weekly trade review of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association.

In its analysis of the barometer the association advised that while orders exceeded production by 47.82 per cent, and shipments exceeded production by 25.56 per cent, business did not show improvement as to volume over the previous week.

In other words, the barometer showing, while seemingly favorable as regards the relation of new business and shipments to manufacture, was wholly influenced by the abnormally restricted output.

In the matter of new orders for rail delivery, ninety-nine mills the previous week reported twenty cars more business than 116 mills last week; while the same ninety-nine mills the previous week shipped 891 cars more than did the 116 mills represented in the latest barometer. It also was explained that unshipped orders in the cargo trade had decreased 4,599,875 feet, as compared with the previous week.

For rail delivery, the 116 mills reported new orders at 1,760 cars, or an average of 379,310 feet per mill.

In the cargo trade new business amounted to 9,296,259 feet, of which 5,840,000 feet was represented in new orders for export delivery.

The total of new business for the week was, therefore, 53,296,259 feet, or an average of 459,450 feet per mill.

Orders shipped totaled 1,134 cars in the rail trade, equivalent to 28,350,000 feet. Local deliveries by team and automobile amounted to 2,901,988 feet. Cargo clearances totaled 8,790,980 feet, bringing the combined shipments, rail, local and cargo, up to 40,042,978 feet, or an average of 345,198 feet per mill.

Unshipped orders in the rail trade total 173,900,000 feet; in the coastwise trade, 54,035,982 feet, and in the export trade 25,894,981 feet.

DRINK HOT WATER AND RID JOINTS OF RHEUMATIC RUST

Why rheumatism and lumbago sufferers should drink phosphated hot water each morning before breakfast

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste material, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons, called uric acid, is formed and then sucked into the blood where it continues to circulate, collecting grain by grain in the joints of the body much like rust collects on the hinge shown above.

Men and women who suffer from lumbago, rheumatism or sore, stiff, aching joints should begin drinking phosphated hot water, not as a means to magic relief from pain, but to prevent more uric acid forming in the system. Before eating breakfast each morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will first neutralize and then wash out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's accumulation of toxins; thus, cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal, each morning, before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make any rheumatic or lumbago sufferer an enthusiast on the morning inside bath. Millions of people keep their joints free from these rheumatic acids by practicing this daily internal sanitation. A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate, drank before breakfast, is wonderfully invigorating; besides, it is an excellent health measure because it cleanses the alimentary organs of all the waste, gases and sour fermentations, making one look and feel clean, sweet and fresh all day.

Those who try this for one week may find themselves free from sick headaches, constipation, bilious attacks, sallowness, nasty breath and stomach acidity—adv.
