SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

WHEN MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT BRINGS BACK ITS BEAUTIFUL LUSTRE AT ONCE

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhance its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wynth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. As you massage the gray hair disappears; and another application or two, its natural color is restored, and it becomes black, glossy and lustrous, and you become years younger.

Wynth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

MORE HUMILIATION

IT CERTAINLY should be humiliating to the administration to have this great and glorious nation reduced to such a position that we are compelled to permit England to dictate the manner in which we shall handle our commerce.

England tells the United States what goods she can sell abroad, and to whom she can or cannot sell them. The humiliating part of it is that England is doing this very thing, and the only action the people can expect from the administration is the writing of some more notes. In the meantime the commerce of the United States is being ruined.

The method adopted by England to control and dictate the commerce of the world is the placing of the names of several hundred New York firms on the blacklist, under the trading with the enemy act.

Although the British government in its last communication to the United States upon this subject declared the act was "purely domestic legislation," the investigation is said to have convinced the officials that in reality it operated to restrain American commerce.

A mass of data has been obtained. In Siam one American firm was informed that it would appear upon the blacklist if it had dealings with a German firm. Neutral steamship companies, including American corporations, are understood to have been informed that if they carry goods to German firms in neutral countries, such as those in South America, they would be denied the courtesies of British ports, such as Jamaica, where many ships stop to coal and supply.

So broad is the scope of the act that should any American firm deal with those whose names appear on the blacklist they may find themselves added to it.

While Great Britain may have the right to specify what merchandise shall be carried on her own ships, it certainly is no concern of hers if firms in the United States should desire to trade with German firms abroad.

J. A. Kahl, an exporter of New York, and one of the firms blacklisted, says: "I am and have been for twenty years an American citizen. Not only has my business, which was mainly with China, Japan and Far Eastern countries, been broken off completely by seizure of goods, but I have been unable to buy bills of exchange or in any other way settle my affairs. Others have been unable to get bills of exchange through me."

Alfred Richter, a trader with Chinese and Japanese merchants, tells a similar story. "My goods have been seized at Hongkong and elsewhere regularly, until I stopped doing business. My mail to my agents in Canton, Tientsin and other cities has been returned to me. The reason, so far as I can guess, is that once, almost thirty years ago, I was connected with a German firm." Mr. Richter has been a citizen of the United States for twenty-five years.

In retaliation for this treatment of citizens of the United States it is announced that the state department is getting ready for action, and England is liable to receive a strong note from President Wilson.

SHIPPINGTON SIDELIGHTS

It is reported that the big steamer Winema will be run on regular trips soon.

The immense beet crop in North Klamath Falls is attracting much attention lately. This crop will surely be an object lesson for beet factory men to study.

It is reported that the Johnson mill will start running a night shift soon. The box factory is using up 100,000 feet of lumber daily.

Two new comers are in Shippington today. One is Ole Olson and the other is Mr. Rockford. Both come from Toronto, Canada, and may locate in Shippington.

The C. A. Smith Lumber company at Marshfield will build a vessel in a local shipyard with a capacity of about 1,350,000 feet, designed to handle lumber by the package system. It will be completed in six months.

Medford Says Game Will Be Hottest This Season

Seventy-five auto loads of Klamath rooters have signed up for the trip from that baseball Mecca to Medford for the big game Sunday. The presence of so many out-of-town attendees to the game made it advisable to reserve the first five rows in the grand stand, and the seats are now on sale at Harkins drug store at 75 cents each. Owing to the big expense incurred in putting on this game, the management found it necessary to make extra charge, but patrons of the game may be assured that the extra charge will be more than compensated for in the class of baseball offered.

Without any question, this should be the hottest contest in local baseball history, and any lover of the national game overlooking this contest will lose the opportunity of getting at first hand epochal baseball lore for the next generation. Holders of season tickets may have reservations made without extra charge. Now is the time to show your pride in your home town. Let us all turn out and make this bunch of Klamath rooters look like a Mexican pany in the United States treasury.—Medford Sun.

STOCK TRESPASS; EMPLOYE IS HELD

UNITED STATES COURT HOLDS THAT EMPLOYE MAY BE RESPONSIBLE FOR TRESPASSING OF STOCK

(Herald Special Service)

PORTLAND, July 21.—Barney Parks of Harney, Oregon, indicted for willful grazing trespass upon the Malheur national forest, has pleaded guilty and was fined $50 by the United States court. Parks paid his fine and the case is closed.

Parks was in charge of sheep going to their allotted range, and instead of following the regularly established driveway, trailed them across the allotted cattle range of other stock owners, consuming four or five days in crossing and using about $100 worth of forage on the cattle men's allotment. Instead of holding the sheep owner, who had no part in the action, responsible for the willful feature of the case, the government brought trespass charges against the camp tender, with the result mentioned above. This is the second case in which an employe has been held responsible for a trespass of this sort in Oregon. It is believed that this court decision, fixing the responsibility upon the man in charge of the stock, will stimulate employes to comply with regulations and instructions when handling stock on national forest range.

In the past, when herders or others in charge of stock have refused to observe the regulations and trespassed upon range allotted to another stockman, the owner of the stock was held entirely responsible. The government has now adopted the plan of segregating such cases and criminally prosecuting the man in charge of the stock when he acts on his own authority and willfully violates the grazing regulations.

The government undertakes to give grazing permittees quiet possession of the range allotted to them for the use of their stock, and the action in this case was necessary for the protection of the cattle men whose allotted range was trespassed upon by the sheep.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS IF BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.—Adv.

ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE POSSIBLE

CHANGE MAY COME, SAYS POSTMASTER GENERAL, IF REFORMS IN THE DEPARTMENT ARE MADE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—Postmaster General Burleson told the National Association of Postmasters' convention the other day that if revenues from second class mail were increased, "extravagance for useless political service" in the rural mail system were curtailed, and payments to railroads for mail transportation under the new space basis were reduced, he could recommend to congress next year that letter postage be reduced to one cent.

The postmaster general praised congress for the space provision for railway mail pay in the postal bill as "the first step toward settlement of railway mail transportation."

"If next year we can have those who use the second class mail privilege pay a fair part of what that service is worth, we can send a recommendation to congress for the first step toward penny postage in this country. If I can keep down useless extravagance, not postal, but political, in the rural mail service, I could promise you now that I would take the first step toward penny postage."
