COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

DARKENS BEAUTIFULLY AND RESTORES ITS NATURAL COLOR AND LUSTRE AT ONCE

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the sage tea and sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application of two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON
SATURDAY, AUGUST 26, 1916

THE NEW SECTIONALISM

TWELVE Northern and Western states, with a population of less than twice that of the twelve states comprising the "Solid South," were taxed thirteen times more heavily by the democratic tax measures—the war tax, corporation tax and income tax—than were the Southern states during the fiscal year ended June, 1916. The per capita tax of these twelve Northern and Western states by reason of these three taxes, was $9.53, and for the Southern states, 53 cents. Distributing these taxes among the heads of families, allowing five to a family, each provider for the home was assessed $2.65 in the South, and $17.65 in the Northern and Western states during the fiscal year just passed.

The twelve Northern and Western states paid 81 per cent of the total collected during the fiscal year, while the Southern states paid but 6.4 per cent. The total wealth of the twelve Southern states in 1912, according to the statistical abstract, was $27,400,000,000; of the twelve Northern and Western states, $109,000,000,000, or exactly four times as great, yet the contribution of the Southern States to the corporation and income taxes was one-sixteenth, and of the war tax, one-tenth that of the Northern and Western states.

The twelve Southern states cast 1,996,743 votes for president in 1912. The twelve Northern and Western states cast 8,753,197. In that year the twelve Southern states sent 110 democratic representatives to congress, and 24 democratic senators. They made a wretched botch of the tariff law, which because of its failure as a revenue producer, necessitated the passage of the "war tax," saddled onto the country whilst "he kept us out of war." At present these twelve Southern states have 24 democratic senators and 103 democratic representatives in congress—Louisiana having elected a progressive protectionist, an euphemism for republican, and North Carolina having elected a republican to the lower house. Today the South has absolute control of the senate, and, under the ring-of-iron reign of King caucus, absolute domination of the house, handling practically all of the important legislation of the country, twenty-two are headed by representatives from ten of the Southern states, the only Northern committee chairman being Fitzgerald of the committee on appropriations. Mississippi and Louisiana have no chairmen of committees. Not one of these chairmen comes from a manufacturing center. Six members of the cabinet are of Southern birth, and the president himself was born in Virginia.

The extent to which these Southern representatives favor the South in making appropriations is well exemplified in the rivers and harbors bill, just passed. Excluding appropriations for the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers, which are national waterways, nearly $11,000,000 was carried in that bill to make navigable, and in some cases, to "irrigate" rivers in the South, while the Northern and Western states, paying four-fifths of the above named taxes, received about the same amount. In addition to this, the "flood control" bill was passed, carrying about $45,000,000, to reclaim lands in Southern states along the Mississippi, and an appropriation is pending of about $26,000,000 for a government-owned nitrate plant earnestly recommended by three in power to be located at Mussel Shoals in Tennessee. Is it any wonder that the South favors these forms of taxation, knowing that it will remain for the North and West to pay them, while the revenues derived therefrom will provide "pork" for Dixieland?

Our total ordinary expenditures for the fiscal year 1913 were $648,000,000, for which customs revenues, under the republican law, provided 47 per cent. The total ordinary expenditures for the fiscal year 1916 were $716,000,000, for which customs revenues, under the democratic law, provided 30 per cent; and our foreign competitors contribute this tax to the federal treasury, while we pay the internal taxes. They reduced the protection on American industries and then saddled the sections of the country possessing the bulk of these industries with additional taxes.

Mortar Captured From Germans by the British

In their drive against the Germans, the British have discovered some things they did not know about war, and this gun is one of them. It is a mortar used to throw bombs into the British trenches. The gun, as is evident from the picture, moves on a track through an arc of about 60 degrees, and in that range it can throw deadly bombs into British trenches. It had been used against the men who took it for a long time.

WOMEN VOTERS GREET HUGHES

MET AT DENVER BY MANY SUFFRAGETTES, WHO ARE ENTHUSIASTIC BY HIS DECLARATION FOR NATIONAL SUFFRAGE

United Press Service
DENVER, Aug. 26.—Coming to a suffrage state enthused by his declaration in favor of national woman suffrage, Charles E. Hughes was greeted by almost as many women as men on his arrival here today. Union station was jammed by a crowd which wanted to catch first sight of the republican candidate for president. A committee of Colorado's leading republicans met Governor Hughes and escorted him by automobile to his hotel. Conferences with republican leaders were to precede the first address scheduled for tonight at the municipal auditorium. Twelve thousand persons can be jammed into this hall, and an overflow crowd was expected.

Candidate Hughes, Mrs. Hughes and the newspaper men who have crossed the continent with them will leave shortly after tonight's meeting for Estes Park, Colorado's beautiful mountain resort, where Governor Hughes will spend three days climbing hills and vacationing in preparation for his return to the East.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

TAKE A TABLESPOONFUL OF SALTS IF BACK HURTS OR BLADDER TROUBLES

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.
