MERRILL VOTERS HEAR McCAMANT ARRAIGN WILSON

DELIVERS LAST OF THREE SCHEDULED ADDRESSES

Contrasted Failure of Democratic Administration to Uphold Country's Honor and Fulfill Promises With Achievements of Republican Party Since the Days of Lincoln, Grant, McKinley, Roosevelt and Others

The last of the three scheduled speeches of Hon. Wallace McCamant in Klamath county was delivered at Merrill last evening, where he addressed a representative gathering of the citizens of that section.

The presence of a number of ladies evinced the interest they feel in the present issues. Mr. McCamant was warmly congratulated at the close of the address by a majority of the hundred or more present on the masterly way in which he contrasted the ignominious failure of the democratic party to uphold the honor of the country and live up to its platform pledges, with the splendid achievements of the republican party in that respect, running through its entire career as a party. His merciless arraignment of the democratic party for its "gold brick" legislation on the eve of a presidential campaign met with unstinted applause.

He demonstrated the utter futility of the democratic rural credit bill as a measure of relief to the farmer, in whose interest it was supposed to have been enacted. The anti-dumping law and the much-heralded so-called eight hour law were shown up in their true light.

There is no question but what the addresses of Mr. McCamant will have the effect of unifying the republican party in Klamath county on the proposition of the necessity of placing the affairs of the government in the hands of competent, experienced statesmen with Charles E. Hughes at its head.

Joseph S. Kent, republican candidate for district attorney, presided at the meeting, and in a short address bespoke the support of all republicans for the county ticket, as well as the national. He stated that in some sections the idea that party politics played no part in county elections was prevalent, and that if this idea gained too much ground, party distinctions would ultimately be lost and the great gain that party lines made in forming issues of the day would disappear.

He stated that there would be little trouble this year for those who believed that they should vote for the best man, for at a recent conference of the republican candidates it was decided that all of the best men were on the republican ticket.

After the speech of Mr. McCamant, Mr. J. W. Smith, who enjoys the distinction of having voted for Abraham Lincoln twice, briefly addressed the meeting, and gave the democrats some hot shots.

BARNI IS FINED $150 AND COSTS

ITALIAN WHO DISPENSED BOOZE AT PELICAN CITY IS FOUND GUILTY—CASE AGAINST HIS WIFE WILL NOT BE PUSHED

One Hundred and fifty dollars and costs is the penalty A. Barni, an Italian, must pay for selling liquor at Pelican City in violation of the state prohibition. This fine was imposed by Justice of the Peace E. W. Gowen yesterday afternoon after he had found Barni guilty of the charge of selling liquor.

District Attorney Irwin placed on the stand Sheriff Low, who told of his raid on Barni's joint, and two laborers, who swore they had purchased liquor at Barni's house. The defense offered no testimony, but in his address to the court Attorney Renner attacked the credibility of the laborers' testimony, and urged that if the defendant were found guilty, the fine be made light, because the offense was the first. No action will be taken against Mrs. Barni.

Fighting for Suffrage

Miss Margaretta Van R. Schuyler has had unusually good training for a suffrage worker. Born in New York and always ambitious, she began work as newspaper reporter of the Portland Express, not in the society department nor as a sob writer, but as a straight reporter. She was later secretary to Mrs. August Belmont, and in this work she not only learned something of the woman's movement, but she learned women as well. Women in various walks of life. She brought to Mrs. Belmont's work a trained observation, and has entered suffrage organization with a zeal that knows no limit. She has been assigned to Wyoming as a preliminary worker in the woman's party campaign.
