JUSTICE NAMES NOT ON BALLOT

COUNTY CLERK C. R. DE LAP ANNOUNCES THAT NO NAMES ON BALLOT FOR OFFICE OF JUSTICE OF PEACE

In no precincts in Klamath county at the general election November 7 will the name of a candidate for the office of justice of the peace be on the ballot, declared County Clerk C. R. DeLap today. This decision has been made by County Clerk DeLap following the decision by the state supreme court that all judicial officers elected in 1914 were chosen for a term of six years.

This ruling applies not only to justices of the peace, but to circuit judges and county judges.

In several precincts justices of the peace were nominated at the primary last spring. The names of none of these will be on the ballot next month.

Moving Pictures

"The Saleslady," by Willard Mack, one of the most novel screen subjects in which Hazel Dawn has ever been starred by the Famous Players Film company, is the tale of a country girl whom poverty forces to try her fortune in New York. Her beauty attracts the attention of a band of villains who become instrumental in subjecting her to a series of strange vicissitudes. A unique fact connected with this Paramount picture is the reproduction on the screen of one of New York city's greatest department stores, in which many of the more important scenes of the play occur. This production in five reels at the Star tonight.

DESPITE RAIN, FRENCH GO ON IN OFFENSIVE

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE SOMME FRONT, Oct. 13.—Despite the almost constant rain of the past ten days, the French have methodically and uninterruptedly continued their northwest rush, until they have finally captured the dominating points of Sully Sallesel, on the crest of the ridge over which runs the Bapaume-Peronne road.

Approaching Sully Sallesel from Albert just before the French and British swung forward on Saturday, I discovered why the rains have failed to check the French offensive, which has pushed forward so rapidly that the French have not had time to remove the German dead from the trenches around Combles.

With the advent of the autumn rainy season in Northern France, the French are employing vast armies of men constructing permanent corduroy and macadam roads. These will permit the continuation of operations both fall and winter, and will not permit the Germans to take advantage of the winter lull to re-trench and re-fortify themselves.

Following the British and French advance from the Albert pathway since July 1st, I found the artillery-wrecked villages of Becourt, Fricourt, La Boisselle, Contalmaign, Mametz, Montau Aban, Hardecourt, Gulleumont, Maurepas and Combles occupied by veritable armies of French territorials.

These soldiers were scrupulously digging out every brick and every stone for road construction. In fact, every brickbat and stone from all the fifty villages destroyed during the allied advance is now being utilized in the construction of permanent artillery ammunition supply roads. These will enable the French to keep up the advance all autumn and winter, if necessary, regardless of rain and snow. This work is regarded as so important that in several villages soldiers continued excavating bricks and stones under violent bombardment.

Approaching Combles we discovered two of the gigantic British "tanks" that had participated in the final attack on the town, debouching from Lause Wood.

From a point beyond Combles we saw the final dash of French and British infantry that drove the Germans from the positions about Sully Sallesel. The troops dashed on, extending their lines 1,200 yards northeast of Morval, occupying the Peronne-Bapaume road to within 200 yards of Sully, and also positions south of the village.

Yet through this solid sheet of shell fire French and British infantry dashed with such irresistible spirit that though the attack was merely intended to occupy some trenches facing Sully, the troops dashed on, extending their lines 1,200 yards northeast of Morval, occupying the Peronne-Bapaume road to within 200 yards of Sully, and also positions south of the village.

TOM SHANNON PASSES AWAY

VETERAN TIMBER CRUISER OF THIS COUNTY IS FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS OF MENDOCINO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

News of the death of Thomas Shannon, pioneer timber cruiser of Klamath county, in Mendocino county, California, reached here yesterday. Shannon's body was found in the woods where he was cruising timber. He left Klamath Falls about ten days ago to cruise timber, and expected to return here when he had finished his work. He had been working only a few days when he died. Disease of the heart is believed to have been the cause of his demise.

Drafted to 17 of your dimensions

YOU might as well try to grow roses on a snow-shovel as to try to make an inaccurately-fitting suit and clothes look smart and becoming.

"Poor Fit" will vanish every virtue that can be stitched into a suit. It will nullify the style and weaken the wearing qualities. A single seam or section that pulls, binds, sags or bulges will often undermine the whole shape of a garment in a few weeks of wear. We hold that Royal Tailored Clothes are the best tailored and most staunchly constructed clothes in the world. But we put our first emphasis on the fact that Royal clothes are built to fit; precisely; completely.

A Royal Suit or Overcoat fits the body it covers because it is drafted to every fit-deciding dimension of that body. It isn't cut and average size; but to an exact size; your exact size—to the smallest split fraction of an inch. It is made to your measure as precisely as a male-die is dovetailed to its female.

Why Don't You Get That Royal Tailored Look?
We offer Royal Made-to-Measure Suits and Overcoats at $18.50, $20, $25, $30, $35 and $40

Oil Stock $2,000,000,000

Stock of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey was quoted at $2,000 a share September 28th. Applying that value to the old Standard Oil shares with equity in the subsidiary companies intact, the market value of the company's original stock was close to $2,000,000,000, a value said incidentally to make John D. Rockefeller easily a billionaire. Further advances September 30th are said to have added over $3,000,000 to the value of his holdings.

Announcement

To Whom It May Concern: Contrary to rumors which have recently been given circulation, it is not the intention of this company to close down its night shift before December 30th. This desire of the company to continue operations will, of course, depend on their ability to maintain a competent and sufficient crew of workmen.

The day shift will be continued steadily throughout the winter months at all times when weather conditions permit, and no doubt will operate as steadily as any factory of its nature in the county. 11-4t EWAUNA BOX CO.
