

SPRING LAKE DRIPPINGS

The harvest moon is waning fast; Harvest time is gone at last.

Frank Stewart, Arthur Schreiner and Mr. Schubert have been hauling grain to Klamath Falls this week.

The Spring Lake Parent Teachers' Association met at the home of Mrs. Frank Stewart Thursday afternoon to prepare decorations for the Spring Lake booth at the joint fair.

Miss Zelma Folsom returned from Bly last week.

J. T. Gartrell, the Watkins salesman, was in our neighborhood Monday and Tuesday.

Arthur Schreiner has been helping Earl Rightmiller bale hay the last few days.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH RECEIVES PASTOR

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION IN GIVEN TUESDAY EVENING FOR REV. AND MRS. RAMBO BY MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the Christian church Tuesday evening when the members and friends met to extend a welcome and good wishes to Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Rambo, who have come to take up the work here.

R. H. Dunbar as president of the official board of the church, gave the address of welcome. "Ministers and their influence should always be welcomed in a community," said Mr. Dunbar, "for they bring only good. The churches should unite their efforts, and by so doing take the position meant for them."

Rev. Rambo followed with the response in which he emphasized the necessity of not so much liking each other, as having a desire to co-operate that we may put Christ and his work first, and by working for the same goal overcome any petty prejudice that might weaken the church's mission.

Those present were further entertained by interesting talks from Rev. C. T. Hurd, ex-Mayor J. B. Mason and Professor L. R. Bowman.

Hours before the first game of the world's series between Brooklyn of the National League and Boston of the Americans at Braves' Field in Boston, thousands on thousands of baseball fans waited at the gate. The crowd was estimated at 42,000.

Numbers rendered by the high school orchestra led by M. S. Taylor, director, were highly appreciated by all, as was also a beautiful solo by Mrs. E. B. Henry and a duet by Misses Marie Rambo and Joie Low, and a reading by Mrs. Rambo.

The church was artistically decorated with plants and flowers, and a dainty cafeteria lunch was served.

Mr. Griffin now has his house in good shape for old man winter.

Clarence Hunt has been filling the woodshed at the Orindale school house with wood this week.

James Stanable is preparing to do his long delayed haying, as he now has a man to help him.

George Shell is doing fall plowing. A. Switzer is plowing on the Whitline place.

Candidates better look wise to their interests in these parts soon. Mrs. J. Stanable and Mrs. C. G. Hunt visited the school this week.

Heading of grain in this section is now a thing of the past, and most of the farmers have completed threshing. The yield in many instances has surpassed the fondest expectations of owners of farms, as well as some threshing machine men.

School in Spring Lake is now in session and progressing well. M. D. Ford is the teacher, which this community feels is a guarantee of efficiency. The only complaint is the disfiguration caused by the non-removal of the discarded structure formerly used as a school house.

This section of the valley has petitioned the postoffice department for rural free delivery, and has secured the signatures of 100 heads of families qualified to sign the petition. The postoffice is now considering the petition.

Announcement
To Whom It May Concern:
Contrary to rumors which have recently been given circulation, it is not the intention of this company to move down its night shift before December 30th. This desire of the company to continue operations will, of course, depend on their ability to maintain a competent and sufficient crew of workmen.

The day shift will be continued steadily throughout the winter months at all times when weather conditions permit, and no doubt will operate as steadily as any factory of its nature in the county.
