

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On last Tuesday the nominees for editor in chief and business manager of the Annual were voted upon. The students were allowed to vote before and after school and at noon, and at the close of school 119 had voted. Cecil Adams, a junior, was elected editor in chief. He received 63 votes; Graham Kiehl 45, and George Riggs 11. Carl Newbury, also a junior, was elected business manager, receiving 72 votes; Wade Short 19 and Robert Hillot 20. The rest of the staff will be appointed by the editor and the work of publishing a better annual than ever before will start soon.

A luncheon was given to members of the faculty by the girls of the domestic science class on Tuesday, at noon. This is the first of a series of luncheons to be given by the members of this class, which is divided into two sections. The section giving the luncheon was Myrtle Ward, Erma Rumber, Edith Sing, Maude Miller, Mary Thomas and Helen DuFaut. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mot-

Where U-53 Sank Two British Ships in American Waters and Held Up American Steamer; Location of Great Liners

This map shows where the German submarine U-53, which made the remarkable voyage from Wilhelmshaven to Newport, reaching there Saturday afternoon, a little more than twelve hours later, sank the two British ships, West Point (arrow No. 6 on map), and Strathdene (arrow No. 7) and held up the American steamer Kansan (arrow No. 5) off Nantucket lightship, about 120 miles southeast from Newport. At the same time the Alaunia (arrow No. 1), a freighter of the Cunard line, was in the neighborhood bound to Europe with a heavy cargo; the Philadelphia, a big American liner (arrow No. 2), was bound for England with many passengers; the Cameronia (arrow No. 3) of the British Anchor line was moving toward New York, and the Espagne (arrow No. 4) of the French line was bound for Bordeaux. In all twenty-one great ships, owned by corporations in allied nations were on the ocean at the mercy of the U-53.

The high school orchestra played several selections at a reception given in honor of the new minister of the Christian church last Tuesday evening. The orchestra consists of ten students and two members of the faculty. It is progressing rapidly and a successful year is looked for. The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Taylor.

Rev. W. H. Cox of the Emanuel Baptist church of this city gave the students a very interesting lecture Thursday morning at assembly. His subject was "The Real Things of Life." "Above all things," said Mr. Cox, "master the studies you don't like." The talk was enjoyed by all present.

Night school is now in full swing, and has a larger enrollment than ever before. There are twenty-one enrolled, besides the day students. There are eleven in the typewriting class, three in the bookkeeping class, eight in shorthand, seven in penmanship and four in rapid calculation. Coach Huggin's injury proved to be a broken bone in the left leg, directly above the ankle bone. He has been confined to his room on account of this, but expects to be in school at the beginning of next week. His place is being filled by Vernon Moschenbacher, who was a member of last year's faculty. Mr. Bain is coaching the football squad.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Eller are the proud parents of a nine-pound girl, born last Friday.

LORELLA LOCALS

This week completes the threshing in Langell Valley. The grain crop is unusually light.

The frosts of the past week finished all kinds of garden truck, but Langell Valley is now enjoying the beautiful fall weather for which it is noted.

A dance was held at Fordney's hall at Lorella, Friday evening, October 13th.

The Literary Society of Langell Valley held its first meeting for the year Saturday evening, October 14th.

A pie and coffee social for the political candidates will be held at the Lorella school house Tuesday evening, October 17th. Ten cents will be charged for the lunch. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the school. Everybody come, and hear both sides of the question and decide how to vote.

W. D. Campbell is improving his residence. He is adding a bathroom, sawdust cellar and two porches. Will Penkey is doing the carpenter work and Earl Scheble the plumbing.

Alle Pinson is the latest to acquire a new Ford.

Louis Pankey and bride arrived from Medford Saturday afternoon. Their friends honored them with an old-time chiavari.

Oscar Campbell has been down from the reservation for a few days. He returned Wednesday and took with him his mother, Mrs. D. Campbell, who will visit him and her son Walter.

Dr. Harry Irwin of Wyoming is visiting his brother John. He is talking of locating in Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stewart left last Sunday in their car for Ashland, where they will visit in the home of Mr. Stewart's mother. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bert Childers.

Buried Homes Found
The buried homes of a new race of American aborigines have been discovered in Socorro county, New Mexico. The race is supposed to have inhabited that section of the country before the Pueblo Indians.

Wool to Go Higher
Increasing difficulty of getting wool from abroad and its heavy shortage in this country passage an unprecedented rise in the price of wool goods in the near future, according to current reports. The shortage of the year's crop is estimated at 200,000,000 pounds.

New Music Teacher
Klamath county has added another musician in the person of Mrs. Ray P. Burke, a recent arrival from the East, and a conservatory of music graduate, who today selected a piano at Shepherd's Piano Depot. Her new home is at Bonanza, where she will take a class of beginners and advanced pupils in music, thus filling a long-felt want in that vicinity.

FEW TROOPS TO BE WITHDRAWN

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS CONDITIONS ARE MUCH IMPROVED IN NORTHERN MEXICO—MILITIA SERVICE DECLARED GOOD.

United Press Service
ASHBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 14.—Owing to the improvement in conditions in Northern Mexico, the United States Government soon will relieve more border militiamen from duty, according to a letter from President Wilson to Governor Whitman of New York.

In the letter the president says the possibility of Mexican aggression, which called the militia troops to the border, still exists. He stated that he feared a new outbreak would follow complete withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico, but that conditions were improved.

"The militia is rendering service of the highest quality, and one urgently needed," says the president.
