"There Are No Bad Men in the World"—Osborne

"He says what I very seriously doubt; that he has had a change of heart. He writes poetry. Oh, awful poetry; and he reads the Bible. Poor

Thomas Mott Osborne
Formerly Warden of Sing Sing Prison

follow. I believe he thinks he is having a fine time—just as he had when he was racing up and down Broadway in an automobile and pretending to perform delicate operations at hospitals. He still has his feminine admirers, and he revels in them just as much as ever.

"You would be astonished at the number and sort of women who write to him. You should see the line of gush that some of them send him, to which he replies in kind. One woman has discovered that she is his soul mate.

"But Waite's case stands alone. In all but these exceedingly rare instances the honor system is an absolute success. We have reduced the form to fundamentals now, and hereafter I shall hold myself in readiness to help establish the system wherever it is asked. All I demand is that the head of the institution be in sympathy with the idea. I expect also to further the work by reducing some of my lectures and other data to book form.
"Depend upon it, the honor system may be hindered, but it cannot be hurt by its enemies. It will go right along, whether I am at Sing Sing or in the grave."

SHIPPINGTON SCHOOL CHANGES TEACHERS

A change in the Shippington school was made this week, whereby Mrs. Fred Peterson becomes principal and Mrs. G. G. Johnson instructor. They take the place of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Barton, who left yesterday for their home in Packard, Mich. Both Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Johnson are experienced teachers.
