HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

At Assembly Tuesday morning Clara Calkins sang "I'm Longin' for You" and "Sweet Mis Mary," accompanied by Marjorie Delsall. Marie Rambo played two piano pieces, "Whispering Winds" and "Dance of the Demons." This musical program was quite a success, and was greatly enjoyed by everyone.

Mr. Huggins is back in school this week, after a week's absence on account of his ankle being hurt. He cannot use his foot yet, but is able to hear his classes.

The new Academy song books, expected for some time, have just arrived. They will probably be in regular use next week. They are well bound books, and contain a good collection of songs. Many of the best schools are using them. The orchestra and the chorus also have new books. The chorus is the largest in this part of the state, as it contains seventy-five girls. They are planning to do some public singing this year.

"OCTOBER"

Dearest Public: This is to let you know that our sale is still on. The Opal is the birth stone for this month, also is the tourmaline. It is supposed to be bad luck to have one on you, but that is a lie, as luck is a state of mind; so you see if you ain't got no mind there ain't no luck. (I am out of luck all the time.)

The opal is found in Hungary and Mexico, but the mines in these two countries are at a standstill as they are very busy sending souls up where they belong—(latest advices are down where they belong.) The opal is also found in Queensland, Australia, and in Virginia Valley, Nevada, some ninety miles from Lakeview, Oregon.

Some of the finest black opals the world has ever seen are from these mines.

The opal is nine parts stone and one part water.

The secretion of water in the stone is the secret of the beautiful color scheme of all opals as the light is refracted and reflected in every direction showing every color of the spectrum.

"October child was born for woe And life's vicissitudes must know But lay an opal on her breast And hope will lull those woes to rest."

If you have loved and lost you are "winner," as two can't live as cheap as one, of course, if one don't believe this meet her at the old trusting place, grab her little mitt and put your loving bread winners around her willowy chassis and press well her ruby lips, (be careful of pyrrhoes), get that one word y-e-s—that makes her a permanent slave for all time; then star this two on one meal ticket. It's the life if you don't weaken.

The tourmaline is an electrical stone. No darling, you won't get shocked if you look what you are doing. This stone is found in Brazil, Sweden, Burmah, Canada, Tyrol and the U. S. A. Their colors are red, green, blue, pink and black and white. These stones are inexpensive and you should have one as your luck will never be any good till you have a birth stone.

I just returned with a fine new stock in many lines and am going to have more and I don't want you to fall to see our windows as we have a fine bunch of bargains in all lines we handle.

We have most anything you want in watches, lavallieres, brooches, collar pins and diamonds. See us before you buy anything in jewelry. McHATTAN'S 511 Main St.

Moving Pictures

Every boy and girl in the village went to the picnic, except Mina Rogers. Mina lived with a mean, old uncle, and he refused to allow her to attend. The orphan girl "sneaked away," enjoyed herself, and upon returning home found the door locked against her. The crabbed old uncle threw a bundle of her clothing out of Mina's way led through many trying circumstances, along paths bordered with temptation and hardship—but the girl "went straight" in spite of all. Impersonating Mina Rogers at the Orpheum theater on Sunday and Monday Mary MacLaren will be the star. Lois Weber's newest Bluebird photoplay, "Wanted—A Home."

The Lubin five-act feature plan, "A Man's Making," a story of the struggles of a young American college-bred fellow for success, his rise from a sailor to the head of the fishing industry, his redemption in the eyes of his father who had cast him off, and his conquest of that little crooked street with a river at one end and a graveyard at the other, Wall street, in the attraction at the Star theater for tonight.

Richard Buhler, the favorite American actor, is seen in the leading role supported by dainty Rosetta Brice of the Lubin company, William H. Turner, George Clarke, Herbert Fortier and Nelson Hall.
