

ALL RUBBER ARCTICS

CORN BELT ARCTIC

No cloth about this Corn Belt arctic to get foul and ill-smelling. It is all rubber from toe to top—pure long-wearing rubber. The sole is made of long-wearing Red Rubber. We challenge any maker to put out a better arctic. It is water-proof to the top of the bellows tongue. It's light as it's consistent with strength and durability.

The Corn Belt Arctic is strengthened, reinforced, protected at the "strain and wear points." The heel is extra thick and toe has an "armor plate" toe cap. Wear it over regular shoes. Has four buckles strongly attached. 11 in. high. This is an ideal shoe for farmers' rough, wet, sloppy work in stable, barnyard or field where a high rubber boot is not needed. Drop in and handle this good arctic. You'll like it.

WASHINGTON AND OREGON PLAY TIE

Local people who have attended or graduated from the University of Oregon were much disappointed Saturday evening when it was learned that the University of Washington and University of Oregon football teams battled for an hour at Eugene Saturday afternoon without either team scoring. The game ended nothing to nothing with ball in Oregon's possession on the Washington 45-yard line.

In the first quarter Washington kept the offensive and rushed Oregon down the field repeatedly. Oregon didn't attempt a single play in this period, but punted on first down each time it got the ball. Oregon was penalized 45 yards for holding an offside in this period.

In the second quarter neither team could gain consistently, both punting most of the time, until the last five minutes of play, when Oregon ploughed through the Washington line for substantial gains.

Oregon outplayed Washington in the third quarter and kept the ball in Washington's territory, but was not able to gain consistently. Fumbles cost Oregon 10 yards. Both teams played straight football, not attempting any open attack because of the slippery condition of the field.

The fourth period was but a repetition of the other three, neither team gaining consistently but Oregon keeping the offensive.

The result of the game is considered no satisfaction to Oregon because she failed to break the record of Washington for no defeats since 1908. Other teams have tied her, but never since Gilmour Doble became coach nine years ago has he suffered a defeat. This was considered Oregon's year and Washington was believed to be weaker than in the past. Oregon played her evenly, but failed to smash the record of no defeats.

Statement of C. R. DeLap County Clerk

As there has been some statements made relative to the work of the Board of Equalization, and in order that the public may be correctly informed on the subject, I wish to make the following statement:

All the adjustments made by said Board of the timber lands were made for no other purpose than to equalize the valuations as between the different companies.

The Algoma Lumber Company's lands on the east side of Klamath lake were assessed at $1.25 per thousand. The timber in the seven sections where same is now being cut and marketed was raised by the Board to $1.50 per thousand.

Timber lands directly across the lake from the Algoma holdings were assessed by the Assessor at the following rates per thousand, to-wit: $2.50, $2.00 and $1.50.

The Board of Equalization adjusted these values as follows: All lands sloping toward the lake where same had not been assessed at $2.50 per thousand were raised to $2.50 per thousand and lands on the opposite slope where same had been assessed for more than $1.50 per thousand was reduced to $1.50 per thousand.

The following companies as shown by the tax rolls are now assessed, and after all adjustments have been made by the Board, higher than last year or any previous year—Weyerhaeuser Land Company $20,000 higher, Yawkey Lumber Company $21,180 higher, Oregon Land and Livestock Company, commonly known as Booth-Kelley Company, $40,000 higher, and $73,200 higher than last year after being adjusted by the Board.

The other timber companies as they now stand on the tax rolls are in some cases assessed higher than last year, and in some cases the same as last year. And in no case lower than last year or any previous year. Had the timber lands all been assessed equally according to their locations the Board would not have made any changes whatever in the valuations as placed by the Assessor, but we, as a Board, made these adjustments simply in the discharge of our sworn duties as public servants.

Respectfully submitted, C. R. DeLAP, County Clerk

New Things

Dearest Public: The birthstone for this month is the topaz. The golden topaz or precious topaz is very pretty and inexpensive, and they are just reeking with luck; so if you got here in November you should have a topaz. Why, women with this topaz-colored hair are widows four or five times, so you can see that the topaz is the stuff for luck. We have new cut glass and hand-painted china at ridiculous prices. Lots of wrist watches and diamonds. Many new creations in jewelry. The sweetest new line of traveling manure sets at right prices. New stock of Parisian Ivory in most every design that you might want. If you are ever going to need an umbrella, you will need it now. If you want yours re-covered come in at once and let me make you a price. These umbrellas are all guaranteed, so you take no chances. Hurry over to my aid. I need your help and you should have a diamond. MCHATTAN'S. 511 Main St., on the wrong side.

ASSESSOR LEE EXPLAINS THE LEVIES

I find unknowingly, some people of this county have blamed me personally for high taxes and I wish to say a few words on this subject so that folks who are unfamiliar with same may know that I have nothing whatever to do with it.

I simply place a valuation assessment on a person's property, according to what I think or figure is worth, in some cases consulting with experts to determine the value for assessment purposes. After I have assessed all the property (this year amounting to over $15,000,000) the county court meets and figures up what money is required for the running expenses of the county, together with money to be expended on roads, court house, etc., and fix a tax rate, or levy, high enough to bring into the coffers of the county the money they had previously agreed would be required.

I am not a member of the county court and have nothing to do with it. How, then, can I make the taxes higher or lower? If the county court figure they will require $450,000 this year they will make a levy of 30 mills per dollar valuation on my assessments; but if they should figure that $600,000 is needed, they will make a levy of 40 mills of my total assessment of $15,000,000. Consequently your taxes would be higher. This is exactly what happened to you this last year. The county court raised the tax rate, or levy, to a point that was higher than any other levy in the history of the county. This is what made your taxes higher this year than any other, my friends. Look on your tax receipts and see for yourself.

If your land is assessed at $2,000 and the levy is 30 mills per dollar, your tax will be $60; but if, in the wisdom of the county court, they place the levy at 40 mills, your tax is $80.

Please don't saddle me with the blame of the extra $20 you pay in tax. I'd help you if I could, but I can't.

Taxpayers Should Vote For Their Interests

And there is no other place where their interests are so vitally affected by public business as in the assessor's office. Each year there is collected in Klamath county over $100,000.00 in taxes. This amount will soon be a half million. The man who distributes this burden among the taxpayers must be capable, careful, systematic, and square. He must have no grudges to nurse, and no friends and dependents to receive official assistance. The laws governing assessments must be enforced, when tempered by reason and judgment. The rich are able to make themselves safe when the law is not enforced, but the poor man's only protection is the law. The assessor's office should be re-established in the respect and confidence of the taxpayers of the county. I am not the candidate of any class of property owners, and I will know no other interest but the interests of the WHOLE county.
