MARY PICKFORD AT THE STAR TONIGHT

Mary Pickford, the idolized star of the Famous Players Film company, adds another striking characterization to her notable repertoire of screen successes in Frances Hodgson Burnett's great drama of optimism, "The Dawn of Tomorrow," the world-famous story of a young girl's unflinching faith and triumphant ultimate reward. In this celebrated play that gladdened the hearts of so many, and the screen version of which will cheer as many thousands more, Mary Pickford portrays the weird and wonderful character of Glad, the beautiful and ragged girl of the London slums, whose undying optimism and heroic courage even starvation and deadly peril are unable to quench. The delicacy of Miss Pickford's portrayal and the threads of forceful symbolism woven about the drama will make an unforgettable impression on the spectator. How the ignorant little slum girl, by her beautiful faith in the mysterious Power she but vaguely comprehends, is enabled to save her lover's life from the gallows, keep a great financier from suicide, bringing him a new hope and meaning of life, and awaken his reprobate nephew to a better manhood, are vividly told in this sublime drama of human suffering and hope that has brought to many despairing souls a new inspiration to bear the trials of today in the expectancy of tomorrow's dawn.

Many Changes in Tener League to Be Suggested

By HAMILTON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The elimination of the spitball—in fact, the elimination of the use of any foreign substance as an aid to the pitcher; the question of raising the player limit; the complaints regarding short fences and bleacher walls; John McGraw's fall from grace; umpire baiting; world's series changes—all these and many other questions will be well threshed out when the National League magnates get together December 12 for their annual gab-fest in New York.

Gov. Tener, president of the National League, is one of those who believe in the elimination of the spitball and its variations. A pitcher, Gov. Tener believes, should have no need for outside agencies, and the cleanliness of the game has something to do with his opinion. He believes, along with a great many others, that the spitball is just a wee bit indecent and repulsive.

The change in the player limit has found many champions and it is one of the things that magnates and critics alike expect will be doctored. Clubs have suffered because they didn't have an adequate number of substitutes to carry on their games. The Philadelphia and Boston clubs are two examples of this. The New York Giants and the Phillies are expected to lead a fight for the rescinding of the twenty-one player rule.

The short bleacher wall in Philadelphia is certain to come in for discussion. It is obviously unfair to opposing clubs to count all balls into the left field bleachers home runs. The wall is low and many a drive would be good for only two bases in other parks, bounds into the bleachers for a circuit clout. As the Phillies play many more games there than any other club they get too many whacks at the short wall, opposing clubs contend, and they will make an effort to have something done about it.

John McGraw's statements are certain to be aired when the magnates get their fanning started. Several of them are said to be in favor of rigid discipline for the Giant's leader.

Umpire baiting has been carried on without regard to the pen season in the National League and the good work started last season for the benefit of the Braves probably will be carried to a satisfactory conclusion.

DUCK SEASON ENDS JAN. 15

IMPRESSION GAINED FROM UN-AUTHENTIC SOURCES ABOUT GAME LAWS TRIED TO BE CORRECTED BY SURVEY.

To correct an erroneous story printed in some Oregon papers to the effect that the water fowl season does not close in certain counties in Oregon until February 15, and an additional season extends from March 1 to April 30 in Clatsop, and in Coos county from December 31 to January 31, the bureau of biological survey has issued the following statement:

The Federal migratory bird law does not permit the shooting of geese, brant, wild ducks, coots, gallinules and jacksnipe after sunset January 15 throughout Oregon and Washington.

Black-breasted and golden plover and the greater and lesser yellowlegs open season closes December 15 at sunset throughout Oregon and Washington.

A closed season extends throughout the United States until September 1, 1916, on the following migratory game birds: Band-tailed pigeons, little brown, sandhill and whooping cranes, wood ducks, swans, curlew, willet and all shore birds except the black-breasted and golden plover, Wilson or jacksnipe, woodcock and the greater and lesser yellowlegs.

All shooting of migratory game birds is prohibited between sunset and sunrise throughout the United States.

Insectivorous birds are protected indefinitely.

A state date governs when it opens the season later or closes it earlier than the Federal regulations if the state game authorities so order, which will not be in conflict with the Federal regulations.

If you will kindly give this due prominence in your paper it may be the means of keeping innocent sportsmen out of serious trouble with the Federal authorities.
