RAILROAD MEN TALK OF FIGHT

United Press Service.
CLEVELAND, Nov. 13.—A general strike of 400,000 members of the railroad brotherhoods is certain unless the railroads abide by the Adamson law, according to President Lee of the trainmen. President Lee made this statement today when enroute to New York to attend the conference of railroad managers and heads of the brotherhoods regarding the law. It was indicated by President Lee that the brotherhoods expect the railroads to attempt to evade the law.

United Press Service.
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—With the brotherhoods saying that the vote for a general strike is still effective and the railroads indicating that the fight on the Adamson law has only begun, peace in railroad circles is believed to be very remote. The conference of railroad managers and executives of the brotherhoods over the Adamson law began this afternoon.

Labor Protests Bill to Compel

ple, the committee viewed it as second in importance on the general administration program to the eight-hour day principle.

"This effort to again subject wage-earners to involuntary servitude has aroused the determined resistance of wage-earners generally," it continued. "To their declaration against involuntary servitude the proponents of the legislation have replied that although strikes would be made illegal under the proposed law and strikers criminals, yet individual workers were not deprived of the right to quit work."

The committee, taking up politics, urged woman's suffrage, Porto Rican independence, government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines, a national child labor law to all government departments, exclusive from inter-state commerce convict labor products, preparedness, vocational training as a means to preparedness, and a host of other planks designed to help the cause of labor.

During the year, the report stated, strikes cost the federation $3,708,789. Two hundred and thirty-five strikes were won; 163 were compromised, 305 are pending, and 49 were lost. The federation gained nearly 218,000 members, and issued 2,700 charters to organizations joining it. Death benefits paid totaled $2,264, 310. Sick benefits totaled $1068,609.

Failure because of the war to arrange an international meeting of labor organizations was announced with regret by the committee. Both German and British leaders, it was stated, frowned on the suggestion.

The committee commented on the "transferring from federal to state courts" injunction proceedings against labor organizations. This was held due to amendments to antitrust act which declare labor not a commodity.

A decision of the Massachusetts court declaring unconstitutional a law designed to prevent the issuance of injunctions against labor organizations was attacked strenuously as "justifying . . . the principle that labor or labor power is a commodity."

"This unequivocal assertion of the Massachusetts court," it is declared, "is wholly dogmatic; the only line of argument that the judges condescend to offer is the declaration of fellow judges."

The committee suggested it be empowered to try to obtain the repeal of the decision and to replace the old law with one that will stand the test of courts.

That there is a concerted movement in legal organizations toward the "new freedom," an awakening to new conditions, was stated. There is a "growing understanding," it is said, "of the real service just law ought to perform for society, that it ought to serve the best interests and welfare of the people—that human welfare is of greater significance to a nation than undeviating conformity to precedents."

Discussing the work done by the Canadian organizations, the committee stated that a movement will be started at the next session of parliament for the repeal of the Canadian act that prevents strikes during investigation. Enlistments in the Canadian regiments overseas in the European war have cost the organization 32,000 members, and have created a labor scarcity, it was said.

TRAPPERS LEAVING FOR WINTER TO SPEND WINTER

With winter rapidly approaching, many trappers are striking out for the tall timber to spend the next four or five months trapping and hunting. They are going to Sprague river, Aspen lake, Spencer creek, the mountains in the extreme northern part of the county, and to other places. Their principal catches will consist of coyotes, mink, bobcats and skunk.
