F. L. Campbell, president of the University of Oregon, has been elected vice-president of the National Association of State Universities. The association invited President Campbell to deliver an address before it, which he did last week, at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. George McDonald to Turn First Dirt on Road

With Mrs. Robert E. Strahorn, Mrs. George McDonald of Klamath Falls will share the honor of turning the first earth at the ceremonies when construction of the Oregon, California & Eastern railroad begins. This was decided upon before Mr. Strahorn left for Portland yesterday.

By more than one consideration Mrs. McDonald is entitled to this honor. She has lived in Klamath county longer than any other white woman, coming here from Talent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wilson, in 1873. She is 63 years old, and moved West with her parents in 1871.

After moving to Langell Valley in 1872, she married George McDonald, and in the same house gave birth to

Great Railway Chiefs Fight New Labor Law

M. ELLIOTT, N.Y.N.H.&H. SAMUEL REA, P.R.R. A.H. SMITH, N.Y.C.

Railroad presidents who were compelled to submit during the summer to the passage of the Adamson law relating to employes of the brotherhood, have begun to fight, and the presidents of three of the greatest systems in the country have begun conjunction suits to prevent the law going into effect January 1, 1917. Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania; Alfred H. Smith, president of the New York Central, and Howard Elliott, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, directed their general counsel to act.

Dixon Visits.

Tom Dixon spent today in Klamath Falls transacting business. He operates a farm south of town.

REMAINS OF LATE EMPEROR WILL BE BURIED THURSDAY

BODY NOW LIES IN STATE AT SCHOENBRUNN CASTLE

Public Will Be Permitted to View Body of Aged Monarch Next Week As They Lie in Augustiner Chapel. Royalty of Germany and Neutral Countries Will Attend the Funeral Next Thursday.

United Press Service.

VIENNA, Nov. 24.—The body of Franz Josef, late emperor of Austria and king of Hungary, lies in state today in Schoenbrunn castle. It will remain there until Monday night, when it will be taken to the Augustiner chapel, where the public may view it.

Thursday afternoon the remains will be buried in Capuchines chapel. German and neutral royalty from many nations are expected to attend the last rites over the dead monarch.

In Franz Josef's farewell to the people of the nations over which he ruled for sixty-eight years he thanked them for their loyalty in times of both joy and distress and thanked the army and navy. He said he was confident they would be as loyal to his successor as they were to him.

OFFICIALS ONLY WILL LEARN OF DIVER TROUBLE

NEGOTIATIONS CONCERNING THE SUBMARINE TO BE SECRET

President and Secretary of State, Following Several Submarinings of Allied Vessels Not Armed in the Last Few Days, Decide Not to Make Public Official Discussions Over Situation.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24. President Woodrow Wilson and Robert Lansing, secretary of state, today declared that no longer would they discuss with anyone except officials submarine questions.

They declare that no crisis exists, but believe that the negotiations and discussions should be kept secret.

It is believed in Washington that both feel Germany of late has been overstepping her pledges to this nation concerning submarine warfare.

DECLARES ARMY AND NAVY BLIND

PRESIDENT OF AERO CLUB OF AMERICA SAYS "EYES" FOR NATION'S FORCES ARE VERY SORELY NEEDED.

By GEORGE MARTIN

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Declaring that the United States army and navy are blind, Alan H. Hawley, president of the Aero Club of America today pointed to the record-breaking Chicago-to-New York flight of Miss Ruth Law and other great strides recently shown in the development of aviation here as an indication that "eyes" for the country's fighting forces are now available.

The development, however, has been through private enterprise, and he declared failure of the government to increase its aerial forces would be a "menace to our national security."

"We lack two thousand aeroplanes, a dozen dirigibles and 125 kite balloons for observation work. We lack them as needed national defenses and to place this country aerially where it belongs," said Hawley. "The head of the British admiralty, Lord Balfour, recently said what might well be heeded by us:

"It avails England nothing to have control of the sea unless it also has control of the air."

"The splendid records recently made by Miss Law, Carlstrom, border fliers and others in private enterprise prove that it is not lack of good aeroplanes and aviators that keeps our army and navy blind.

"While half a dozen other countries have between two thousand and nine thousand aviators each and twice as many aeroplanes, our army and navy combined have only about one hundred flying men.

"The 45 batteries of field artillery and the 75 forts in the six coast artillery districts have not a single aeroplane, dirigible or observation balloon. They are blind and the territory which they should protect would be at the mercy of the long-range guns of vessels lying beyond the point of vision of the artillery observers stationed in the forts. Hundreds of millions of dollars are invested in these coast defenses and field artillery which would be ineffective without aerial eyes.

"In these days of trans-Atlantic submarines, eyes for our navy are absolutely necessary. A chain of aerial stations should be established through the country. Each of our thirteen coast naval districts should have a station."

VILLA HURLS MEN AT CHIHUAHUA CITY

Senate Leaders Will Fight for their Places

JOHN W. KERN AND WM. E. CHILTON WITH THOMAS TAGGART

Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, Democratic leader in the upper house at Washington; Senator Thomas H. Taggart, democratic leader in Indiana, and Senator William E. Chilton of West Virginia, democratic power in Congress, have determined to fight for their seats. The election returns showed Harry S. New and James E. Watson elected in Indiana, and Howard Sutherland elected in West Virginia in their places. But it is probable their seats will be contested by the present democratic occupants.

To Outdo Ruth Law

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—Katherine Stinson, the first woman aviator in America to loop the loop, intends to fly across the country, and to do it ahead of her contemporary, Ruth Law. Miss Stinson, who passed through here recently, en route to the Orient for a series of flights, first sent a telegram of congratulation to Miss Law, then announced that she intended soon to make the Eastern girl's record look pallid.

Indian Service Balks; Freer Can't Quit Job

A tribute has been paid by the Indian service of the department of the interior to William B. Freer, agent for the Klamath Indian reservation. It has refused to let him resign his office.

About two months ago Mr. Freer handed in his resignation to the Indian service, expecting to be relieved soon. Before long an answer came

MAKES SECOND ATTACK ON CARRANZA STRONGHOLD

Withdrew Last Night as Ruse, But Again This Morning Began Siege On Only Carranza Post in Northern Mexico—General Trevino, in Command of the City, Is Running Short of Ammunition.

United Press Service

EL PASO, Nov. 24.—Villa launched another attack at Chihuahua City this morning, striking simultaneously from the south and west.

The retreat of the bandit chief last night was merely a ruse.

Carranzista officers in Juarez admit that the ammunition of General Trevino, in command at Chihuahua City, is very short.

Villa has the town surrounded and no reinforcements or supplies can be sent to Trevino. With this siege it is not expected that Trevino can hold out. The capture of Chihuahua City would give the Villistas control of practically all of northern Mexico and would embarrass the efforts of the joint peace commission, now sitting at Atlantic City, in that it would show Carranza's inability to control the situation in Mexico.

CARS ORDERED RETURNED HOME

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE TAKES ACTION TO AVERT THREATENED CAR SHORTAGE ON ALL LINES IN UNITED STATES.

United Press Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24. The conference committee on car efficiency, which is studying the transportation problem with the joint interstate commerce committees of the two houses, today announced that all railroads in America were ordered to return all fruit and refrigerator cars to their home lines as soon as possible.

This action was taken to prevent the threatened disastrous car shortage.

Eight Drunks in Dry Town

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 24. Within three hours' time last evening eight drunks were arrested by the police and the jail was transformed from a gloomy, silent place to a regular carnival center, with singing and shouting like unto the days of yore. About 122 liquor permits were issued Monday and 120 more yesterday. This is about the average number of late, meaning that liquor is coming into Walla Walla at the rate of about sixty gallons a day. It is practically all whiskey, too, and bootleggers get $5 a quart for it.
