RESERVE BOARD GIVES WARNING

ADVISES AGAINST INVESTMENT IN FOREIGN TREASURY BILLS TO AVOID TIKING UP THIS NATION'S FUNDS

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—Safety for America, Americans and their money lies behind the federal reserve board warning, published today, against undue loan expansion secured by foreign treasury bills, experts held. Some declared a possibility of unsettled conditions ahead was the immediate move for the warning. Many read into the board statement an actual apprehension as to the outcome of enormous financing of the allies, especially in view of the possibility that they are "biting off more than they can chew."

The board, however, disclaimed any intent of reflecting on or discussing the status of foreign nations involved. Its sole idea, said the statement, is to keep America's funds liquid, and to avoid tying up funds through the purchase of foreign treasury bills under long time obligations.

"The board deems it its duty to caution member banks that it does not regard it in the interest of the country at this time," said the statement, "that they invest in foreign bills of this character."

The order was taken as a reply to J. P. Morgan & Co., for approval of loans contemplated under the treasury bills method.

Moving Pictures

"The Disciple," written by S. Barrett McCormick and Thomas H. Ince, will be presented as one of the big features of the Triangle program at the Star tonight. This is not only remarkable as a play, but also as putting forth the favorite star, William S. Hart for the first time in the Triangle service. A Western plot that holds the interest of spectators tensely from beginning to the close characterizes this story. A frontier missionary (William S. Hart) after conquering at the point of a revolver the hostility of the cowpunchers to religion and building up his church, "splits" with God because his wife elopes with "Doc" Hardy, ex-physician and the village saloon keeper. With his little daughter he goes to the mountains and takes up a new life. But the child falls ill of mountain fever. Just at this time Hardy finds it necessary to return to the village. Mary returns with him and in a violent snow storm comes to her husband's cabin. Houston takes her in for the child's sake. He goes for Hardy as the only physician who can save the child. The child's life is saved. Mary, forced to make her choice between the missionary and Hardy, points toward the child and goes to its bedside. Houston is about to kill Hardy when he sees a vision of the crucifixion, with this legend above the three crosses: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." He relents, and Hardy goes forth free.

Lame Ducks Waddle to Washington Last Time

United Press Service.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—Seventeen members of the senate and the seventy-odd "lame duck" members of the house today began their final legislative duties. When the spotlight fades March 4 on the Sixty-fourth Congress, they will gather up their togas and start for home and private citizenship.

These "lame ducks" are those the populace turned thumbs down upon in the last election. Their services range from anywhere from a little less than a year, in the case of Senator Tom Taggart of Indiana, to twenty-two years in the case of Senator Clarence D. Clark of Wyoming and Representative Sparkman of Florida, Clark ranking third in point of service in the senate, and Sparkman fourth in continuous service in the house.

Perhaps the most conspicuous figure in the line-up of the prospective has-beens is Senator John W. Kern, one-time candidate for vice president and senate democratic floor leader and chairman of the powerful committee on privileges. He went to make way for Harry S. New, senator-elect from Indiana, with James E. Jim—Watson, former whip of a recently republican house, who brought to an untimely end the senatorial service of "Tom" Taggart.

W. F. Kirby of Arkansas will succeed the late Senator Clarke, who died during the summer. Senator Chilton of West Virginia, well known here for his interest in blooded horses as well as for his legislative activities, will make way for Representative Howard Sutherland, republican, who fought his way from the house to the senate in two sessions.

Senator Johnson of Maine carried to the senate on the democratic tide of 1912, will be succeeded next congress by Frederick Hale, son of the late senator from Maine.

The defeat of Senator Blair Lee of Maryland sealed two political fates for the present. He was defeated in the primaries by Representative David J. Lewis—"Father" Lewis of the parcel post. Lewis in turn was defeated by a republican—Dr. Joseph I. France.

Another of the old-timers listed among the missing at the next session will be Senator DuPont of Delaware. DuPont is succeeded by J. O. Wolcott, democrat.

Four men among the new ones are of particular interest. Philander C. Knox, former secretary of state and former senator, will replace Senator Oliver, republican also, in the limelight last session when he was accused of having big war bride holdings. He was not a candidate for reelection. Peter Goelert Gerry of the upper strata of Newport, and a democrat, will succeed Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island, republican.

Political interest will center on Frank B. Kellogg, trust-busting Kellogg of some years back, former governor and senator-elect from Minnesota, to succeed Senator Clapp, also republican; and Senator-elect Hiram Johnson of California, succeeding Senator Works, likewise republican, not a candidate for re-election. Of Kellogg and Johnson there is talk that they won't stand with the hard-shelled republicans unless the lining up is done on their side of the street.

The house, by grace of the changing favor of the country, lost its two most picturesque members and gained another, who bids fair to surpass in popular interest any on record.

"Cyclone" Davis, foe of rum and preparedness and friend of prohibition and fannel shirts, will make room for another democrat from Texas—Daniel E. Garrett. Davis, with flowing whiskers and conversation, gained a measure of fame when in the Congressional Record he stated he was not a "collar" democrat, and when in the house proper he later confessed he had fallen a victim to the gay and festive necktie. He says "booze and boodle" defeated him.

"Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma, who jumped lightly into the gallery of immortals when at the Baltimore convention, asked how the Oklahoma delegation stood, he replied: "We stand as a unit; separately," will be succeeded by T. D. McKeown, democrat.

But the house's taste for the picturesque will be appeased with Miss Jeanette Rankin of Montana, republican, who succeeds Lame Duck Tom Stout, democrat.

He Wants $300,000

Wilbur W. Marsh, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, wants 2,000 cities in the United States to make up the deficit of some $300,000 in the fund used to re-elect President Wilson. He believes that each ought to contribute $100 in addition to what it has already given. Wealthy men interested in the Democratic party, he believes, will make up the remainder.

Food Embargo Threat is Attracting Attention

United Press Service.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—Representative Fitzgerald and his threatened food embargo legislation was the center of interest when the Sixty-fourth Congress convened for its dying session at noon today. Fitzgerald's declaration late in November that he would introduce a resolution for a food embargo to keep products in the United States and reduce the cost of living stirred up a political hornet's nest.

Aside from the possibility of the embargo itself, Fitzgerald's action, if he takes it, may portend a fight between supporters of President Wilson, who is against an embargo, and the Tammany delegation, whose leader is Fitzgerald.

Both members and gallery in the house watched with interest for any indication of the attitude of the Tammany delegation toward the democratic machine. Any move by the Tammanyites would be the more significant because they hold the balance of power in the house.

Representatives from West and Middle West farm districts were absolutely alert for any factional split on the threatened embargo resolution. They are opposed to it, and have threatened that if it is introduced they will combat it with a retaliatory measure calling for an embargo on manufactured articles such as constitute the bulk of the exports to Europe from the Eastern manufacturing states.

Packed galleries greeted the gavel of Speaker Clark and Vice President Marshall as chattering members of both houses, in most cases meeting for the first time since the eventful day in early September when they rushed through the Adamson signature law, turned to hear the familiar admonition to "be in order."

Little business was expected today. Interest centered principally on the floor of the house and senate chambers and in the galleries—a man of color, his membership made up of members of the White House family, diplomats, families and friends of congressmen, and the populace crowding the public galleries.

Senator Gallinger and Senator Kern, republican and democratic floor leaders respectively, were named senate members of the joint committee to notify President Wilson that congress was ready to hear him. They named as its members Majority Leader or Kitchin, Minority Leader Mann and Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

WE EAT TOO MUCH MEAT, WHICH CLOGS KIDNEYS, THEN THE BACK HURTS

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged, and need a flushing occasionally else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness, and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. The famous salts is made from the softest grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent mineral-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney troubles while it is only trouble.—Adv.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

DOUBT SAYS LADIES ARE USING RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it falls, turns gray, dull and brittle, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who wish that even better, that beautiful deep shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Whenever we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by adding at any drug store for a 25 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair as naturally, as evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been touched. You just dampen a comb of soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one comb stroke at a time. By morning the hair has become darker; but what do you do with the hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound in that, he has been already darkening the hair with other applications, it also brings the hair clean and lustre, and gives it the natural appearance of abundance.

Use this Sage and Sulphur Compound on the scalp, but not intended for the face, as it may irritate it.
