SHASTA VIEW NOTES

Wednesday evening about fifty guests were entertained at the home of F. H. Jobs. Music and games formed a large part of the evening's entertainment. We trust this is only one of many such gatherings, as they help to break the monotony of the long winter evenings, and bring us closer together as a community.

Saturday evening there was a large audience at the school house, anticipating an illustrated lecture by Mr. Dunbar of Klamath Falls, but as Mr. Dunbar did not reach us the evening's entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental music the latter by the orchestra, election of officers of the Literary Society, and the young people spent about half an hour playing games, much to the amusement of the older ones present.

Harry L. Martin autoed to Silver Lake Thursday, returning Sunday evening.

O. E. Hunt and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of an eight pound girl at their home, November 26th.

Henry Voss and family of White Lake were guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ben Dähnel, Thursday.

Ollie Martin is home for the winter, after spending some time working for the Pelican Bay Lumber company.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Garrison leave soon to spend the winter with their children in Southern California. They will be joined at Klamath Falls by C. C. Miller and wife, who will also spend the winter in and near Los Angeles.

Visata Dobry, who is teaching at Henley, spent Thanksgiving vacation with her parents at Shasta View.

The Clover Club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Barnes Friday evening.

The ladies of the Helping Hand Society were entertained by Mrs. Edna Garrison Wednesday.

Moving Pictures

"Black Friday" will be seen at the Orpheus theater today and Friday. It is a five-reel Red Feather feature production and the plot is a stirring romance of love and the stock exchange. The enemies of Richard Strong, a power on the street, plan his downfall while he is away on his honeymoon, but the plot does not succeed. However, one of the plotters is not satisfied with trying to rob Strong of a fortune, but tries to take his wife as well. This plot is more successful than the other, but in the end the two lovers are reconciled after a thrilling time in Paris during the revolution of 1871.

Record Talk

Victor Records are conceded the best in the world. The world's greatest singers, violinists and bands make records EXCLUSIVELY for the Victor company, and are continually renewing their contracts upon the same basis.

A visit to the homes of these great internationally known artists always ends at least five Victor Records to one of any other make, regardless of superior claims made by others.

To show you how superior the Victor Record service is we have only to give a statement of the number of new records brought out this month by three-record manufacturers:

- 67 Victor Records for December
- 42 Columbia Records for December
- 11 Edison Records for December

For a soft sweet tone and freedom from foreign sounds which are great items in the home of ordinary size the Victor Record always demonstrates its superiority.

Last, but not least, many records made by artists who produce for all three companies are priced one-half to one-third lower in Victor records than the others.

It is now unnecessary to change needles for Victor records, no matter what machine is being played. The new Victor Tungstone point has solved this problem.
