

Advances in Shoes May Make Them Real Luxury

Shoe Stock Threatens to Supercede Mining Stock as Get-Rich-Quick Investment--Women's Footwear Higher Than Men's

SEATTLE, Jan. 2—Anyone possessed of a few uneasy dollars, instead of purchasing oil or mining stocks, would do well to lay in a supply of shoes for the entire family, for—
From 35 to 50 per cent within the next six months, possibly even more.
This announcement is the composite statement of local leather and shoe findings dealers, manufacturers and dealers, and is based on announcements that all leather findings quotations have been withdrawn and that considerable advances will be announced in the immediate future.
Summarized, the following is the prediction of Seattle men in the various departments of shoe making and shoe selling:
"Women's shoes now selling at $12 and $14, will go to $18 before many weeks have passed.
"Men's shoes of the $6 to $9 variety will be sold for $9 to $12.
"Children's footwear will show a 25 to 50 per cent increase also, with every indication that the European war just ended before shoes will return to normal in price.
This announcement considers, of course, first grade shoes. However, according to leather dealers, it will have a proportionate effect on the cheaper grades of shoes whose counters and caps are made of a composite material, and whose heels and inner soles are of pressed leather, paper and other substitute material.
Sole leather has advanced from 50 to 55 per cent. Uppers have skyrocketed until there seems no stopping their aerial flights, and even thread, brads and nails have increased in price enormously.
The recent advance in cost of women's shoes, out of proportion to that shown by men's footwear, is the result of the style which demands a high-topped article, often of varied coloring. One of the Seattle makers, discussing the question, said:

"Not only has stock cost advanced, but the prices of reliable dyestuffs are out of reach of the average buyer. Style which demands high shoes for women has cut large amounts of available material out of every hide used in shoe making. So lovely woman has herself to blame for the high prices, as compared with those shoes for men.
"Heavy leathers have advanced more than the lighter grades, though the latter also are away up. This refers to upper leather, and is a big item in the manufacture of shoes. Sole leather has gone so high that we shudder to think what the cost of shoes will be unless the rise is checked.
"Information received from the big leather centers indicate proportionate advances in all other lines of the leather industry, particularly belting, harness, suitcases and bags."

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

HOPES EVERY MAN AND WOMAN ADOPTS THIS SPLENDID MORNING HABIT
Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness?
If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we would see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms poisonous-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.
Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels of the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing, sweetening and refreshing effect upon the system.—Adv.

NEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

DRUGGIST SAYS LADIES ARE USING RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR
Hair that loses its color and lustre, when it fades, turns gray, dull and brittle, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and we that even color, that beautiful shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old time recipe.
Everyday we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw it through your hair, taking one fall strand at a time. By morning gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair for a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre, and gives it the appearance of abundance.
Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound imparts color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

Eighteen Governors Who Held Annual Meeting in Washington

(1) Charles S. Whitman, N. Y.; (2) John B. Kendrick, Wyoming; (3) H. C. Stuart, Va.; (4) Richard I. Manning, C. C.; (5) Keith Neville, Neb.; (6) Charles Henderson, Ala.; (7) Edward F. Dunne, Ill.; (8) Arthur Capper, Kan.; (9) Emerson C. Harrington, Md.; (10) Samuel W. McCall, Mass.; (11) Carl E. Milliken, Me.; (12) J. Franklin Fort, N. J.; (13) Frank M. Byrne, S. D.; (14) Roland M. Spalding, N. M.; (15) William Spry, Utah; (16) David I. Walsh, Mass.; (17) Marcus H. Holcomb, Conn.; (18) Jas. P. Goodrich, Ind.

Governors, ex-governors and governors-elect of American states held their annual meeting in Washington, and one of the most important things they did was to have their photographs taken all together. They stood on the White House grounds and posed. Some of them have been in this annual photograph for years, but there are many new faces, showing how many men have risen to power.

Football Season of 1916 Gave Surprises

In East Brown Upset Dope by Crushing Both Yale and Harvard--Yale Ends Many Harvard Victories

By H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2—Mystery simply oozed and gurgled around the football season of 1916. Beginning the year it was possible to get almost any kind of a slant at the dope.
Princeton had a good team, Harvard had a good team, Cornell was unbeatable, and so was Pittsburg. Syracuse would clean up everything. Then the playing got down to the last convulsions and Brown tipped over the whole dope of a season. Brown and Pittsburg were given even slices of the honors, only to see little Colgate step in and give the bucket a final push down the incline. Princeton started off by beating every one with the help of a little luck, and then fell at Cambridge. Yale hung another black eye on the Tiger.
Harvard was beaten by Tufts to start the season, and both Yale and Harvard lost to Brown. It was the consensus of opinion that Harvard would continue its string of victories over Yale, but it didn't. Yale played rings around Percy Haughton's system. Pittsburg added the final touch by completing its second year without a defeat, giving that school an unquestionable right to a claim on the championship. The Army also went through without a defeat, and the Cadets engraved their initials on the claim.

Washington State University, with Coach Dobie duplicating his previous feats, went through another season without a defeat, making the ninth season for such a performance by this university. Coast enthusiasts are certain this team would beat most of the good Eastern colleges, and have put in claims for Dobie's men.
It is the general opinion in the East, however, that Pittsburg is entitled to the crown. This team met some of the East's best, and only came near defeat once, when the Navy scored nineteen points to Pitt's twenty. Pittsburg defeated Penn State and Syracuse, rated two of the East's high class machines.
Yale and Harvard played to the greatest crowd that ever witnesses a football game in this country, more than 80,000 persons jamming themselves into the huge bowl at New Haven.

Boy Beats the Stars

Teddy Cann, a New York lad, 19 years of age, not only captured the 500 yard national A. A. U. swimming title recently in St. Louis, but in so doing he conclusively defeated one of the greatest watermen the world has ever produced, Duke Kahanamoku of Honolulu. This victory, following close upon other brilliant performances, establishes the young star as the most promising swimmer of the day. In fact, Teddy has officially covered 100 yards in 55 2-5 seconds and 200 yards in 2:27 2-5, records that no contestant of past or present ever touched at his age. Progressing as he has of late, he should soon brook no rival.

Teddy has everything to succeed, strength, stamina, form, grit, a level head and competitive ability. An unusually husky lad, standing 5 feet 8 inches and weighing around 160 pounds, he possesses all the traits of a born all-round athlete. Besides his amazing work in swimming he has made his mark in scholastic football, baseball, basketball and track and field sports.

ENGINEER MUST WEAR OVERALLS

HEAD OF BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS GIVES EDICT AGAINST PECKING, AND SAYS OVERALLS IF OCCASION DEMANDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2—"No more pecking in this department. And college bred engineers must wear overalls if the occasion demands it."
Timothy A. Reardon, president of the board of public works, expressed himself thus, and thereby hangs a tale.
The boilers at the Junipero Sierra school recently gave out after seven years of use. John Ingram, steam fitter and inspector for the board of works, inspected the boilers, and reported that ten new sections were needed to put the boilers in working order.
Eddie O'Connor, mechanical engineer attached to the bureau of architecture, rechecked Ingram's inspection, and reported that only six new sections were needed.
"I'll stake any amount on Ingram's accuracy," said Reardon. "He received his training in the Union Iron Works, and that's a good enough diploma for me."
Friday Reardon, O'Connor, Ingram and other city and school officials, visited the school. O'Connor was decked in his Sunday best, while Ingram wore a greasy pair of overalls.
Following a suggestion made by Reardon, O'Connor donned the overalls and crawled into the boilers while Ingram held a light.
Dripping with water from the leaking boilers and his collar hopelessly ruined, O'Connor emerged. He grinned as he confirmed Ingram's inspection—ten new sections were needed.
"Overalls in the future," said Reardon, "and, mind you, no more pecking in this department."

Food Inspector of Two Big Hotels

Mrs. M. J. Simmons has created a position for herself; she is a pioneer in work that has never before been undertaken. For she is now the food and sanitary inspector in two of the largest hotels in New York city, the Claridge and the McAlpin. Lordly chefs, tyrants of the kitchen, have to show her that the food they serve the guests is not filled with germs. Not only does she watch the hotels, but the health and cleanliness of the employes in the kitchen departments. The physical side of food handling, especially the women, to see that they wear sensible shoes for working, dress comfortably to give their bodies plenty of freedom, care of teeth, and the importance of bathing, all are in the roster of her day's work, with occasional lectures and demonstrations on the care of the hair, the right kind of bath, the care of throats and air passages, for her subjects are often young girls and women from the peasant classes of Europe, who, while excellent workers and willing, are at first woefully ignorant of the most common matters.

CLIP THIS OUT MAY COME HANDY

TELLS HOW TO TAKE SORENESS FROM A CORN AND LIFT IT RIGHT OUT
Hospital records show that every time you put a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freestone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.
You simply apply a few drops of this on a tender, aching corn and the soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.
This drug is sticky, but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.
If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.—Adv.

Must Respect Authority
CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—To "observe proper respect for authority" will be the irksome task of school ma'ams as well as their pupils in the future here. President Leob of the board of education will install a merit system for teachers beginning this year, in which "proper respect for authority" will count most. The plan follows trouble with the teachers' federation, which as protested arbitrary dismissal of teachers by the board.
