

Yeggmen Blow Safe 8 Times; Can't Crack It

After Working for Two Hours on Safe Containing $17,000 Robbers Escape in Stolen Automobile

MODESTO, Jan. 31.—Three yeggmen this morning unsuccessfully attempted to rob the bank at Cerera, near here. Eight charges of nitroglycerine failed to open the safe. Approaching daylight compelled the burglars to give up the job. The yeggmen seized night watchman Ferrin, bound him with his own handcuffs, tied his feet, gagged him, and then threw him into a haystack. Then they worked for two hours trying to open the safe, which contained $17,000. When they saw the attempt to crack the safe was fruitless, the robbers stole an automobile from George Cressley, a Modesto banker, cut the telephone wires between Cerera and Modesto and fled.

Early Spring Arrivals

Charm of New Spring Modes

MOST seasons show some dominating influence in style—some one prevailing or preferred mode. The style of this season is always just a little different than that of last year. Women, particularly, always notice the difference.

We know you will be interested in knowing that we have received our first shipment of the new ideas in party and street dresses for spring wear. They are beautifully designed of crepe and Taffeta silks.

Our new spring line of plain wool challies is here. They come in a great variety of colors.

We are also showing the new spring suitings. The Empress Cloth is unusually popular for suits, in black, navy, champagne, gray, Albee blue and Copenhagen.

"Verge of War" Note, Not Leak, Caused Crash

New York Banker Says Lansing's Interpretations of Wilson Peace Note Was Real Cause of Drop in Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Secretary of State Lansing's "verge of war" interpretation of President Wilson's peace message, and not the leak to Wall street, forced the market down, E. F. Hutton told the house leak probe committee today. Hutton declared the tip originated in the Connolly company house, of which E. M. Molling, brother-in-law of the president, is a member, was not responsible for the crash. Connolly's company lost $40,000 during the leak period, the accounts show, said Hutton.

suits in the bringing to their town of several Easterners. One of these is Cliff Stone, another is Irene West, Stone's adopted sister, and the third is John West, Irene's husband. Stone and West are to take over the management of the Western works of the company. Kate at first takes sides with the new arrivals, for she has fallen in love with Cliff Stone. But Irene's unwarranted interference in their romance turns her against the intruders, and she decides to help the miners, and not the managers.

Mary Pickford will be seen in several unique costumes in "Less Than the Dust," all of which are most becoming to her. One will be in the native dress of India, the other in her "Sunday best," when visiting England and a third in a dainty ball room gown. The Oriental background of the scenes for the story of the East makes an unusually effective setting for Mary Pickford's beauty. Tomorrow at the opera house.

In announcing the booking of "Gloria's Romance" for the Star theater, Manager Houston believes that he has arranged for the best film attraction for his patrons that money can secure. Billie Burke, the fascinating international star, has been secured as the star of the production, though it took a salary of $4,000 a week to induce the titian haired Billie to place her name on the dotted line of a contract calling for her appearance in the story. The scenario of "Gloria's Romance" originated in the minds of those famous novelists, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes, who are known to people everywhere through their successful stories in the Saturday Evening Post, Cosmopolitan Magazine and the Red Book, for nearly everyone has read "What Will People Say?" "Clipped Wings" or "The Thirtieth Commandment"—and Mr. Hughes himself has declared that "Gloria's Romance" is the best of them all. Opening chapter, Star theater tonight.

WHAT Did You Save Last Year?

Think this over, and if this is not on account of your buying your goods on credit from a credit store. It is a positive fact that a store that gives credit loses a great many dollars, and who pays this loss? Not the store, to be sure. It is figured in with the price of goods. And who pays the death-benefit bills? The man who pays his bills, of course. Then why not pay cash, at a cash store, where you get value received?

Here are a few prices, compare them with what you are paying:

- Corn, per can 10c
- Tomatoes, per can 12c
- Peaches, per can 20c
- Cherries, per can 25c
- Dried Peaches, per lb. 10c
- Dried Peas, per lb. 10c
- Dried Beans, large, lb. 12 1/2c
- Dried Apples, per lb. 10c
- Unspiced Apples, lb. 12 1/2c
- Potatoes, per cwt. $2.75
- Linn Flour, per sack $1.00
- No. 1 Klamath Hides, roll. 75c
- Sugar, per cwt. $9.50
