GERMAN-U. S. OUTLOOK BETTER

Germany Yields on Three Late Incidents

FULL AMENDS MADE BY GERMANY IN HONORATONIC CASE

Act of United States in Calling on neutrals to follow United States considered grave step, but custom attention of United States on the attitude of the various neutral countries.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—America today entered the real danger period of her position towards Germany. The time of grace for the safety of neutral shipping in the barred zone has expired.

Three simultaneous developments, however, have improved the situation.

Germany has yielded to America's demands for the release of Americans imprisoned at Yarrowdale, who were taken off ships either sunk or captured recently by the Germans.

President Wilson asked all neutrals to follow his course in severing relations of Germany should start the unrestricted warfare on the high seas, believing that such action "would make for the peace of the world."

Germany has met full demands under the international law in regard to the sinking of the Housatonic.

These three incidents have greatly reduced the likelihood of trouble between Germany and the United States and has centered the attention of the American government on the neutral nations.

President Wilson went to the state war and navy buildings this morning. On entering the buildings he nearly bumped into Henry Ford, who had been conferring with Secretary Daniels and to whom he offered the use of his automobile plant for a munition factory, to be operated without profit.

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 5.—The Standard Oil company today dismissed all unaturalized German employees. Fifty guards with shotguns have been stationed around their docks here. Large quantities of oil for the allies are stored on the docks.

A 14-pound baby daughter was born Thursday, February 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hanan of Poe Valley, who reside five miles east of Olney. Dr. Geo. A. Cathey, attending physician, reported yesterday.
