TWELVE PACIFISTS EXPECTED STAND AGAINST WAR BILL

FLOOD ANNOUNCES VOTE WILL BE TAKEN TONIGHT

Cooper Questions the American Right in War Zone—Asks if President Wilson Previously wanted War. Told that America is Going to Fight and is Not Debating Any Question of Neutrality.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.—The house of representatives met at 10 o'clock this morning. Representative Flood, chairman of the foreign relations committee, immediately called up the war resolution.

Representatives Harrison, Flood and Siegel aroused much patriotism in the house by eloquent speeches favoring the passage of the resolution.

Speaker Clark surrendered the chair to Representative Fitzgerald in order to be on the floor.

Representatives Cooper and Stafford, of Wisconsin, and Britten, of Illinois, voiced the pacifist opposition and asked Flood if the president when arguing for armed neutrality had not declared that he did not want war.

"We are not defending armed neutrality or any other sort of neutrality. We are going to fight," roared Flood.

Representative Cooper indicated that a dozen pacifists plan to speak against the resolution. He expressed a doubt whether the American right to travel the seas was a right over which the nation should fight.

He also declared that Germany had made no absolute promise to restrain the ruthless submarine warfare, saying that it had been merely conditional.

At the conclusion of Cooper's speech Representative Harrison declared that Cooper's speech would have been excellent if given in the reichstag.

Representative Britten offered an amendment providing that no army shall be sent to Europe without the consent of congress.

Representative Foss, of Illinois, declared that the Germans in America will, for the most part, be loyal to this government.

Representative Miller, member of the foreign relations committee, read this afternoon what he declared was the unpublished portion of the Zimmerman Mexican-Japanese plot note.

"Bases were to be established at all Mexican ports," read Miller. "All reservists are ordered into Mexico and arrangements are to be made to attack the United States all along the Mexican border."

Miller declared that Germans are leading the Villa band and are dominating President Carranza.

Chairman Flood said that the house would vote on the war resolution at 11 o'clock tonight.
