DRINK HOT WATER
BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, daisy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure, for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleans, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder, and almost tasteless.—Adv.

THUMB-NAIL SKETCHES

MEN WHO RUN U. S. NAVY

Admiral William S. Benson

WASHINGTON, April 25.—"What has come to him, he has won by hard work anyway."

This is what the navy department thinks of Admiral William Shepherd Benson, Chief of Naval operation, President of the General Board of the Navy, and the one man above all others upon whom rests the success or failure of the fleet.

When Congress recently wrote into the law that Admiral Benson's orders "were to be considered as emanating from the Secretary of the Navy and have full force and effect as such," it showed what it thought of him.

The Chief of Operations is truly a Southern gentleman. He was born on a small plantation in the heart of Georgia in 1855, and has carried with him throughout his brilliant career the best traditions of the old South.

Tall, spare, with a most courtly bearing and a full white mustache, much like his predecessor, Admiral Dewey, the Admiral presents the most distinguished appearance. His rise has been meteoric during the past few years.

His first cruise as captain of a battleship was in 1913, when he piloted the Utah to the fleet pennant. He then assumed command of the Philadelphia navy yard, where he did "his bit" with such "great labor and excellence" as to be called to Washington in 1915, when a man was sought to create and take charge of the new vital office of Naval Operations.

Admiral Benson is not a man given to epigrams especially those of the first person. "I" seldom falls from his lips.

If he can be induced to admit his services in Washington have met with "fair success" the Admiral will immediately impress it upon you that it is solely owing to "the loyalty and co-operation" of his associates.

This is what his brother officers say of the present ranking officer of the United States navy:

"This is the happy warrior:

This is he—

Whom every man in arms would wish to be."

TWO ST. PAUL WOMEN ANSWER CALL OF FARM

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 25.—Two St. Paul women have answered the call of Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, for a million women to help solve the problem of helping to feed America and her allies by volunteering for farm work.

They are Miss Ruth Hillman, who developed a 2,700 acre farm in Canada through her own hard work and ability, and Miss Edythe Jenks, who declares she has plowed, pitched hay and done all kinds of farm work.

Canadian women set an example for American women to follow when they went into the fields as their men left them to go to the front. Miss Hillman declared today. Both offer their services in organizing a "back to the soil" movement among the women of the Northwest.

Experience Is the Test of Tires

Every tire claims to be the lowest-cost-per-mile tire.

If you knew the experience of any considerable number of other tire users, —that would help you decide which tire makes good on the claim.

We don't know about other makes of tires, but we do know

- that motorists who have used United States Tires continue to use them;
- that more and more motorists who used other makes of tires are turning to United States Tires.

These two facts are proved by the amazing sales increases of United States Tires

- sales increases that are vastly greater than even the greater natural increase in the number of automobiles this year over last
- which shows where tire service is.
