YOU'LL HAVE TO HURRY TO SEE IT

MONDAY MORNING AT 9 O'CLOCK IS LAST CHANCE TO TURN IN SUBSCRIPTIONS TO HERALD TO SEE CIRCUS FREE

No matter how old we may be, we are all young when the circus comes to town. One just can't resist the seductive lure of umpah-umpah! bands, the funny clowns, the bright red wagons, glittering decorations, waving flags, representing all the nations of the world, and as the parade winds its way down the street, you just can't help standing on tip-toes of expectancy of surprise after surprise as they come down the streets of Klamath Falls. We'll live the same old emotions over again Monday when the Al G. Barnes wild animal circus parade will practically have all business suspended along the line of the magnificent procession. However, it may be said that the old emotions will hardly be the same old emotions, because this parade will be "different." Just imagine if you can, a glittering two miles of splendor in which will be scores of open dens containing wild beasts of every kind, the star performers of the wonderful aggregation, the harnessed elephants, camels and zebras all captured in white trappings, drawing dens of animals, making the most unique and attractive free exhibition ever given to the people of America. All of the trappings and uniforms of the Barnes show are new, and more gorgeous than any like organization. A half dozen bands inspire one as the mighty cavalcade trends its way along the streets of the city to the plaudits of thousands. Not content by giving the greatest street parade ever seen, Mr. Barnes has arranged to give early comers to the show lot something out of the ordinary of free acts, when Mr. Wilkins will do a chair balancing act in a forty-foot swing and "Dare Devil Does" will thrill everybody in his high dive act, in front of the main tent at 1 p. m.

Remember, you must be at the ground at 1 p. m. and see the free act and take advantage of the personally conducted tour for nothing this big show offers in the big tent must not be missed.

Listen, boys and girls! There is no limit on the number of free tickets we have for you to the Al G. Barnes big circus, if you will only bring in one new subscriber to the Herald. The subscription must be for three months, but they are not required to pay more than one month in advance, and that is to help you see this big educational circus free. Be careful and take no subscriptions from children and have the name and money of your new subscriber into the subscription department of the Evening Herald by 9 o'clock Monday morning.

SOCIETY

By MABEL MARTIN

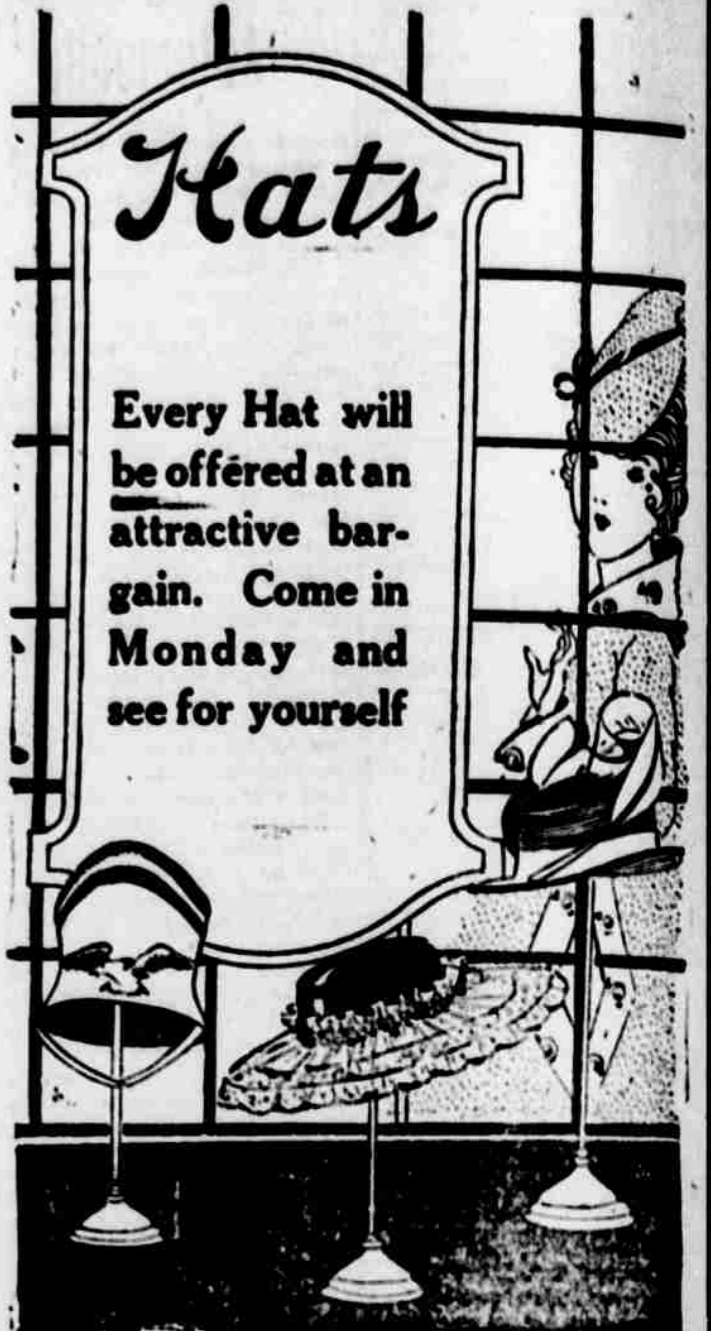

Klamath Falls society has largely given its interest and assistance to Red Cross work and First Aid, the Red Cross work consisting of making bandages, pads, etc., while the First Aid is practical knowledge of applying bandages and how to dress wounds. A special meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held in the west hall of the Odd Fellows' building Monday evening. About forty ladies were initiated into the order and many interesting talks were given on Red Cross work and the corps planning readiness to assist the Red Cross as soon as a chapter is organized. The Relief Corps has sent money to the Klamath Falls boys at Vancouver as a treat from home. They will also send money to the boys in San Francisco and other places as soon as addresses are secured. After the meeting, light refreshments were served in the dining room. The decorations were in American color in flowers and flags, the flowers being sent by Mrs. C. F. Willard of Red Bluff, Cal., for the occasion.

The First Aid Society met at the White Pelican hotel at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance and Dr. G. A. Cathey delivered the first lecture to the class in first aid, which was very interesting. All women interested in the First Aid come to the White Pelican hotel every Wednesday afternoon at 3.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Watt entertained the Bridge Club at her home, honoring Mrs. W. O. Smith. Tables were arranged for bridge, the high score falling to Mrs. Willits. Af-

FEDERAL TIRES

Driving with one eye on the road and the other on your tires is more strain than pleasure. When you are sure of your tires, the miles slip behind you and make motoring a real pleasure. Equip your car with FEDERALS. Their Double-Cable-Base Construction does away with the most common causes of tire trouble. They are known as "Extra Service" Tires—and they deserve the name.
