INDIANA FOURTH

STATE TO FILL

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 24—Indiana became the fourth state to furnish her full quota of army recruits. Nevada, Oregon and Utah being the others. Wednesday's total acceptances in the entire country reached 1517, and the total since the war was declared is 81,457.

To Draw All Names.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25—The provost marshal general has announced that he will not grant any exemptions to selective military service until after the names have been drawn.

Maxim Claims He Has Beaten "Subs"

NEW YORK, May 26—Hudson Maxim announced that he had invented and perfected a device which will make ships immune from the dangers of the submarine. He said that torpedoes, even when fired at close range and striking their targets, would explode harmlessly against the hulls of their intended victims.

The inventor made the announcement at a luncheon given in Brooklyn. He asserted that the invention soon will be demonstrated by the Government which had already been advised of the details.

"The invention is practical for every type of vessel," he said. "It can be applied within a few months at a comparative cheap price to the hulls of ships already constructed. The only change necessary in vessels already built, will be a slight enlargement in their beams.

"My device is of solid material and encircles the entire ship from the bow to the stern. It is no sense or manner resembles either a screen or net."

Two Women Who Are Ready for War

Mrs. M. J. Muller in auto

Mrs. M. J. Muller and Mrs. Waldo Pierce have decided the branches of service they will endeavor to enter in the war with Germany. Each is now ready. Mrs. Muller, wife of a noted auto driver, wants to carry despatches for the army in an auto that will travel 100 miles an hour. Mrs. Pierce has her aeroplane ready, and is willing to teach young women who want to join her school. She thinks and hopes the government will accept women aviators to do some of the work men are now doing in Europe.

Moving Pictures

Violet Mersereau will present, in Bluebird photoplays, at the Orpheus Theatre on Sunday and Monday, "Little Miss Nobody," a drama of life in the North Woods. Intrigue and jealousy furnish a strong and logical motive for a gripping story told in fast moving scenes with exciting episodes galore. Miss Mersereau plays the role of a wife who finds happiness and a good husband under the most unusual circumstances, following a conflict that would have made most girls surrender to fate and take their chances.

William Clifford, who plays Robert Carver in William Fox's master production, "Sins of Her Parent," once played "Romeo and Juliet" without costumes or scene in Selkirk, Canada a place about sixty miles from Winnipeg. Selkirk was in its infancy then, and the stage on which the tragedy was given was scarcely larger than a billiard table. The balcony was made by piling up empty boxes, and the house was crowded.

"There was only one comfort about this performance," says Mr. Clifford now. "We had no scenery or properties, but we had something far more precious, an intensely sympathetic audience. And they had all been sympathetic enough to give five-dollar gold pieces for entrance fees. We enjoyed the performance. To be seen at the Star tonight.

With the Great American Fleet

on one of the greatest of romances—that of the sea. The movies take the lads back to other days and to strange worlds and situations. But as for going home, they don't want that. The only place they want to go is out on the naval firing line.

One film showed a farm scene—father and son doing their ploughing.

"By gosh, that looks like home," I heard a sailor lad remark, "but believe me, this is the life. No ploughing for me." "None," his partner replied. "This suits me from the waterline up."

When it comes to vaudeville, you can get some real talent in the fleet. Male quartets, dancers, humorists, acrobats—the whole list can be found in abundance aboard any dreadnought, and the show they produce compares favorably with any dollar show in any town in the land.

Boxing always draws a big crowd, and the go is guaranteed to be a bell ringer every time.

Below decks, some of the men tuck themselves away in corners and play cards or gather in knots to listen to a phonograph. Still others get a lot of fun out of the reading rooms.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

LOOK YOUNG! BRING BACK ITS NATURAL COLOR, GLOW AND ATTRACTIVENESS

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 5-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite, and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

each ship, so there are fresh records for the phonograph and new films as soon as they can be obtained. Incidentally, some patriot could do a fine service by arranging for the fleet to get up-to-date films before they have gone the rounds of the nickelodeons and are worn down.

Mail time aboard the fleet is a happy occasion. The sailors can receive all the mail they want, but their own communications are limited by the censor.

zines, and the scramble a little later on ship shows what a precious thing a message is. A cheerful letter from home is about as good a tonic as a green man or a seasoned one can have on ship.

JUMP FROM BED IN MORNING AND DRINK HOT WATER

Open sluices of system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter, says authority.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank each morning before breakfast, keeps us looking and feeling fit.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost but little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.
