

AMERICAN RED CROSS WORK IS INTERNATIONAL

BODIES RAISING FUNDS IN MANY FOREIGN LANDS

KLAMATH'S TOTAL IS BOOSTED OVER $5,000

Portland Exceeds Its Allotment of $200,000 - Possible That Another Convass Will Have to Be Made of America, as Wider Scope of Work for Society May Demand More—Yesterday Saw Over $1,000 Raised Here

WASHINGTON, June 22.—America's campaign to raise $100,000,000 for the Red Cross Society assumed international proportions today when word reached headquarters here that the American committee are raising funds in London, Paris, Panama, Ecuador and Peru.

Sixty-three millions of dollars have been raised in four days in the United States, and the total is expected to reach $75,000,000 by tonight. It is believed that a new convass will be necessary soon, as the field of work has increased, and $100,000,000 is not enough to carry on the necessary work.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—It is announced that Washington has given $200,000 to the Red Cross and Oregon $200,000. Seattle has subscribed $220,000 and Portland $225,000, over-subscribing her allotment of $200,000.

RED CROSS DRIVE RESULTS. Reported today: Public Booths $394.00, City Wards $70.25, Rural Districts $78.25, E. H. Dunbar $155.00, Business men $115.00. Yesterday's total $1,013.50. Grand total $5,522.50.

One thousand and thirteen dollars and seventy cents added to the Red Cross fund by local workers in the big drive yesterday gives very substantial addition to the amount received previously, and brings the total so far this week to $5,522.50.

Some of the outlying districts which have not reported thus far are almost certain to have substantial amounts which will swell the total at the close of the week.

A big dance at the Elks Temple for Monday night is being promoted by Mrs. E. E. Hall, Mrs. H. D. Mortenson and Mrs. W. F. Johnson. Tickets will be one dollar per couple, and the proceeds will go to the Red Cross fund.

A rally is to be held at Pine Grove tonight, at which all local people are invited to attend. Following is the list of reports turned in for yesterday: West Side Upper Lake, Low Fritchard $8.25, Glens, Mrs. A. L. Marshall 70.00, Merrill, Mrs. M. A. Hilton 41.00, First Ward, Miss Maud Baldwin 63.25, Fourth Ward, Mrs. E. H. Hall 200.00, Shippington (Fifth Ward), Mrs. E. E. Yancy 7.00, Public Booths, Mrs. W. P. Johnson 284.00, Business Men, Captain J. W. Siemens 115.00, Membership Committee, R. H. Dunbar 105.00.

LYMAN DOTY TO FLY HERE JULY 4

CONTRACT SECURING EXCEPTIONAL AVIATOR TO BE SIGNED TODAY OR TOMORROW, PAUL JOHNSON ANNOUNCES

Definite announcement is made that the celebrated Lyman Doty will be on hand with a biplane July 4th, and loop the loop for the benefit of Klamath Falls and its visitors.

Arrangements were completed for this event last yesterday by Chairman W. F. Johnson of the celebration committee, and the contract will probably be signed today or tomorrow.

Four flights are arranged for, although it has not been decided whether these will all take place on the Fourth, or be given partly on the third in connection with the dedication exercises.

That an unusual man has been booked for this occasion is ascertained by many local people who have seen Doty perform, and praise of his reckless audacity in the clouds is voiced without exception by these. It has been an extremely difficult matter to get an aviator for this celebration at figures within the limit of funds raised, and much satisfaction is felt by the committee in securing so spectacular a feature.

PORTLAND MEN SEE CRATER LAKE

H. P. Rasmussen and E. R. Rasmussen of Portland arrived here today, after spending several days on a trip to Crater Lake over the snow, and enjoying a sleighride on their trip down this side of the mountain.

They went as far as possible by automobile from the Medford side, to the vicinity of Whiskey Creek, and walked in on the snow from there. They secured several interesting pictures, one of the Rim Hotel with a snowbank reaching the roof on the side facing the lake.

They state the snow on the road from headquarters to Fort Klamath still lies solid six or eight miles below headquarters. They enjoyed the trip, and came out with healthy snow burns.

H. E. Mosyer was in town last week and reported four feet of snow at headquarters.

KLAMATH YOUTHS REPORTED ARRESTED FOR SLACKERS

It is authoritatively reported that two Klamath youths whom it is reported left Klamath Falls previous to June 5th, Registration Day, with the intention of escaping registering, have been arrested and placed in jail in Washington. Local authorities know that they are not registered in their home precincts. One of the boys was advised to register before he left by both his father and mother. His father, C. L. Wyman, has since expressed the hope that if he has not registered that he is arrested. A third man who left with one of the boys is also said to have been arrested.

The Little Citizens of Nancy

By Marion Bonnell Davis

Some of the Little Citizens of Nancy at Play Within Sound of the Big Guns By Marion Bonnell Davis

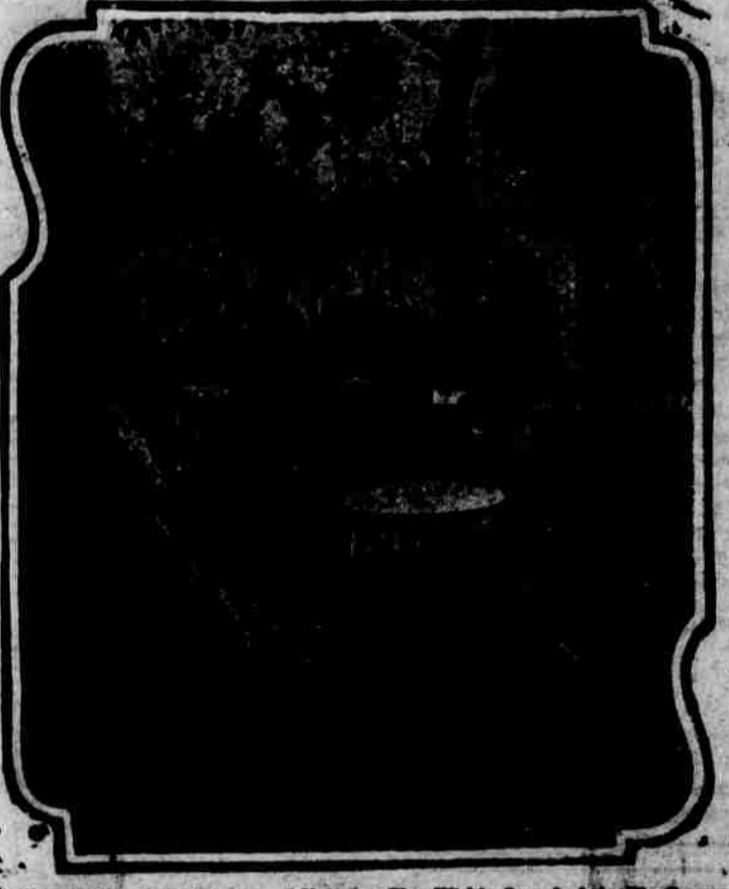

(Mrs. Davis spent six months in France as a volunteer worker. This sketch is the result of a visit to Nancy)

To learn patriotism, it is well to sit at the feet of the little citizens of Nancy, and the children refugees who have found shelter there from shattered and burning homes. Sometimes you can hear them sing while the guns are booming on the Lorraine frontier less than three miles away—patriotic songs about Alsace and Lorraine. Then the older people take a new grip on their courage.

There are some children in Nancy who live comfortably in their homes. Because so many bombs fall on Nancy, and because the city is sometimes bombarded, the children know that on a town signal they must run into the cellar of the nearest house marked with the great red cross of Lorraine. Perhaps there they will have protection.

Then there are the children in the hospitals, victims of the bombs. We are so used to talking in millions now that it seems more than legions to see one little girl, whose legs were cut off, hugging a doll tight in her arms, her grave face never smiling. Two little boys who have had amputations from the bombs have asked to be allowed to lie in the same room with the wounded soldiers. The soldiers smiled and said "Bism"; and the little fellows are inordinately proud of the accidents that gave them the fight to lie in a ward of crippled soldiers, in equal rank with heroes.

Then, too, there are the little ones in the refugee colonies. If you have helped to carry the world burden, by your service, by your money, you can look clear into their eyes. Otherwise you turn away. These little ones are like other children except in one thing. No horrible thing can ever surprise them, for their baby eyes have seen the unspeakable. They have seen violence and wrath in its most perverted forms—grandparents herded and driven, mothers hunted down. They are too young to know that these things are not a common part of life. And the they are so much older than you in knowledge of suffering, and violence, and terror, yet, because you are big and seem to them wise, they look up at you in child appeal. When you have seen that look you have touched the war. And when you have touched the war there is only kind of relief possible to you, and that is to help.

At Nancy, the mayor, Monsieur Mirman, a remarkable and far seeing man, has turned the big army barracks into refugee schools and dormitories. It is a wise and kindly shelter. But one does not see little refugees at their stoves and primers and hear them sing their nursery and patriotic songs, without seeing in one's mind the countless army of the helpless where the frightened look still dwells. You see the little red heads, the pig-tails and the curls, the freckled noses and the turned up ones, the faces made to laugh turned solemn, and the lumpy younger legs. In them you see your own children. This of course, this possession of you . . . "of such is the kingdom of heaven" . . . than that he should offend one of these little ones" . . .

There is a very quick, definite, practical way to help. The American Red Cross is asking for $100,000,000 immediately. Some of this goes to the children directly; all of it, of course, indirectly. Every cent you give will go further than you would believe a cent could go. A cent will give a bowl of soup to a hungry, frightened, orphan child. One dollar, ten, one hundred . . . There is a phrase now in common use—"the luxury of doing good."

McGOWAN QUITS EWAUNA COMPANY

VICE PRESIDENT AND MANAGER WITH COMPANY SINCE STARTED, SELLS TO PARTNERS—MAY ENTER SAW MILL

Chas. W. McGowan, vice president and manager of the Ewauna Box company of this city, has disposed of his interest in the plant to the other three partners, and has severed his connections with the company, with which he has been connected for several years.

Mr. McGowan's interest has been taken over by C. E. Crisler, president of the company; Fred Schollock and Claude Daggett, the other three owners of the concern.

Mr. McGowan's future plans are not known at this time, but it is understood he expects to remain in this locality, and may become interested in the saw mill business.

The Ewauna Box company was the first factory installed here, and has been one of the thriving institutions of Klamath Falls ever since it started, and at all times has usually had more orders than could be filled. At the present time it is running overtime daily until 9 p. m.

SCHOOL DIRECTOR MAY BE OUSTED

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ASKS THAT G. C. SNODGRASS BE OUSTED AT CRESCENT AND KATE NACKER INSTALLED IN COMPLAINT

As a result of difficulties at the Crescent school election, suit has been filed with the circuit court clerk here, asking that G. C. Snodgrass, declared elected school director by the chairman of the election board, be ousted, and that Kate Nacker, really elected, it is claimed, be placed in the office.

The complaint signed by W. M. Duncan, district attorney, Ross Farnham and Bert C. Thomas, alleges that the defendant, G. C. Snodgrass has usurped and holds unlawfully the office of director of School District No. 23, since June 16, 1917.

The complaint further alleges that there were forty-two ballots cast for school director in the school election Monday, thirty-six of which were for Kate Nacker. It is further declared that the tellers of the board, G. C. Snodgrass and C. A. Hallow, declared that G. C. Snodgrass received twenty-five votes and Kate Nacker seventeen, and that chairman Jesse Davis of the board declared Snodgrass elected. The complaint asks as judgment that Snodgrass be ousted and excluded from office and Kate Nacker be declared the incumbent. A number of Crescent people have been in the city since the election, calling on the sheriff and district attorney over the school election scrap, in which one man received a black eye and other injuries.

PORTLAND PASTOR UNABLE TO COME

WIFE'S HEALTH AND DRAIN OF WAR ON CONGREGATION ARE ASSIGNED AS REASON FOR NOT ACCEPTING CALL

Word has been received by the local congregation of the Presbyterian church from Rev. Seemann of Portland, stating that he will be unable to accept the offer of the local pulpit for two reasons, according to Rev. C. Thomas.

One reason given is his wife's health and the other is the drain on the Portland church by men of the congregation going to war. Rev. Seemann does not feel he ought to leave the church at this time. Mrs. Seemann's health had always been good until about the time Dr. Seemann came here, when she was taken ill, and has since suffered a complete breakdown, he writes. Several other applications have been received by the local congregation, and others will now be considered.

A telegram received last night from Gibson by Manager Walt said that Glenn McCloud and the fans from several points will put up a "small sum if Klamath Falls fans can cover it" that McCloud wins.
