NEW "SUGARINE" FOR SWEDEN

STOCKHOLD, July 25—The shortage of various necessities of life in Sweden is already beginning to bring various substitutes into the market. One of these is a liquid called "economy sweetening," purporting to contain to each bottle of 120 grams the equivalent in sweetening value of thirteen pounds of sugar. Analysis has just shown the contents to consist of one tenth of one per cent of crystalline, 12 1/2 per cent of ordinary sugar, and 87.4 per cent water.

Russia Certain to Stand Firm

Statement By C. H. Boynton Gives a Clear Idea of Conditions Existing in New Republic

NEW YORK, July 25.—Russia, as now constituted, is as little likely to make a separate peace as is the United States, in the opinion of C. H. Boynton of New York, president of the American Russian Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Boynton, who is now in Petrograd, has forwarded to the organization, of which he is president, a statement on the conditions in Russia, in which he presents an optimistic view of the Russian outlook. Wherever separate peace has been mentioned, it has been howled down with indignation, he writes. Efforts made by the Russian extremists to create disorders have been overthrown, not by armed force, but by the force of public opinion.

"If in the future appearances in Russia should seem alarming," Mr. Boynton asserted, "the real situation will be in the hands of a ministry composed of the best Russia can offer." He predicted that the task of re-organizing the government's policies will be accomplished before many months.

Industrial operations, according to Mr. Boynton, would at present meet insurmountable obstacles, owing to the requirements of the war; but he declared that American capital and merchants interested in the Russian field should lose no time in preparing and equipping themselves for the huge commercial business which, in his opinion, is certain to be coincident with the end of the war. Mr. Boynton's statement follows:

"That one may have a fair and just appreciation of the events which have taken and are yet to take place in Russia, it is necessary to understand the psychology of the situation. A nation under a rule of absolute autocracy for centuries suddenly found itself an absolute democracy. Almost overnight autocratic Russia became the most liberal democracy in the world. Liberty, freedom and equality were proclaimed and political exiles and agitators were admitted within her borders from wherever arriving. A nation that had not dared to express its individual feelings or opinions, either in writing or in speech, was released from all restraint. Years of repressed ideas and sentiments were able to find full vent. The government has allowed every phase of political discussion, and even that of such extremists as Lenin, to proceed without interruption, and refused every suggestion of repression. If under these circumstances there should be a babble of conflicting opinions and some fanatic agitation, it is not only understandable, but, indeed, quite natural. The wisdom of the policy of permitting unrestricted assemblage and discussion was evidenced in the quick stamping out of anarchistic preaching by the power of public opinion.

nation, who have been sentimentally touched by the evidence of American friendship and our quick recognition of the new government. President Wilson's address to congress, in which he set forth America's attitude toward the war, has been recognized as practically expressing the same views as are held by the provisional government, and Treretelli, who is one of the leaders of the Left, emphatically denied to the duma that his party was considering separate peace, and stated that it was an outrage against patriotic men to attempt to place upon them the burden of such a position. The embassy and consulate officials are in close touch with the new government, and everywhere Americans received the most courteous and cordial attention.

"The high commission which Russia is sending to the United States should receive greatest consideration, and the United States, as well as Russia, will benefit immensely by the information which can be mutually exchanged.

"Wherever separate peace has been mentioned, it has been howled down with indignation, and unless my judgment is entirely astray, Russia, as today constituted, is as little likely to make a separate peace as is the United States."

Etma accident and health policies are the standard. Ask Chilcote. 9

Businessmen Work for Red Cross

Four great business men, perhaps among the most important in the United States, are now giving all their time to the work of the Red Cross. Henry P. Davison, the most famous partner in the J. P. Morgan & Co., the international bankers, is chairman of the war council of the organization, and manager of all its activities. Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the boards of the Harriman railroads, the greatest system in the country, is chairman now of the committee on co-ordination of the Red Cross. John D. Ryan, president of the Anaconda Copper company, is now director general of military relief. Harvey D. Gibson, whose elevation recently to the presidency of the Liberal National bank of New York city, one of the great financial institutions of the nation, attracted much attention, is the latest acquisition of the Red Cross. He has just been named general manager of the organization.

BOND ON SECURITIES ADVANCE DURING JUNE

LONDON, July 25.—According to the Bankers Magazine, the value of 287 representative securities during June shows an advance of 7,000,000 pound sterling.

Altho a substantial improvement is recorded among foreign government securities, bank shares and iron and steel shares, this has been offset by a setback in the value of some British and Indian funds, as well as in American gold bonds.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLES

TAKE SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF BLADDER IRRITATION OR BACKACHE

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder troubles.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

DARKENS BEAUTIFULLY AND RESTORES ITS NATURAL COLOR AND LUSTRE AT ONCE

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready to use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it is done so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes dark, glossy, soft, and luxuriant, and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.
