H. N. MOE RETURNS

H. N. Moe of Moe & Co., returned last night from a week's business visit in San Francisco, where he has been engaged in the purchase of his fall and winter goods. Mr. Moe reports that prices on all goods are high, and that material is growing scarce.

Prices are about 10 per cent higher in New York than on this Coast, he declares, and there is every reason to believe that the increase will be felt here within the next few months.

Business conditions in San Francisco are very good, apparently, at this time. The town is full of soldiers and the relatives of soldiers who are on hand to visit them. The hotels are all crowded.

Genuinely large women perfectly shaped.

Warner's Abdominal Corsets

Do not think it is necessary if you are stout to wear a larger size in any corset, for you make a mistake.

Select a model scientifically designed for big women. They can be designed quite as fashionably as corsets for small women, only shaped proportionately and made with the necessary strength and support that big women require.

Then too, some are designed to accomplish certain results for certain parts of the body.

Some women are just plain large all over, whereas others have "big hips" or "high abdomens" with a flat back, fat, short waists, and busts rather small by comparison with their hips.

We could analyze at length, but it is unnecessary. You will get the idea—there is a corset made for you.

You will find it in our new styles of

made specifically for types of big women—each model a wonder for strength, a surprise for reducing and a marvel for shaping.

Slackers From Now On Dealt With Severely

PORTLAND, Aug. 17.—From now on the fate of the man who tries to evade his duty under the draft law will be anything but enviable.

Failure to appear for physical examination when called up by his local exemption board will not help the slacker. In fact, it will be about the shortest cut he could take to get himself drafted automatically into the army without further consideration.

If a man does not appear before his local board when called—unless he applies by reason of absence from his district to have his examination transferred to another board, or can give a very good reason why he was unable to appear—his name will be certified to the adjutant general of the state as having been called for military service and not exempted or discharged.

The adjutant general, who acts under instructions from Washington, will give him one more chance, and only one, to clear his record.

A notice will be sent to the address on his registration card, directing him to report within five days, either in person or by mail or telegraph, to the adjutant general. If he doesn't report as directed, at the end of five days he becomes automatically drafted into the army of the United States.

Failure to appear for duty will then become equivalent to deserting from the army. Men who desert from Uncle Sam's army in time of war are not treated very kindly. They are classed in the same category as traitors.

Such men will be rigidly hunted down by the military authorities. They either will be compelled to serve or court martialled as deserters. In time of war a court martial can inflict the death penalty for desertion.

"KIP" VAN RIPER IS SOME HUNTER

TACKLES BEAR BARE HANDED.
BEAR HANDED "KIP" SOMETHING IN RETURN—WITNESS TESTIFIES TO HIS BRAVERY

Kip Van Ripper and W. A. Delzell returned from a two days' hunt at Bybee Creek yesterday, bringing with them the hide of a young bruin, and thereby hangs a tale.

On the way up to the hunting country Delzell over-estimated the pushing powers of a Ford, and striking the end of a log, crippled his Lizzie. They were soon picked up by D. B. Campbell and Dad Wilson, who also were out for blood and horns.

Camping on Bybee Creek early next morning, Van Ripper went down to the creek for water, and soon woke the echoes with his cries for help. Rushing to the scene, Campbell and Delzell were thrilled to see Van Ripper waving a bloody hand, and pointing to a bear lying dead in the stream with its head under water.

Van was too modest by nature and too much excited by the scrap to tell just how it happened, but from what Delzell and Campbell could make out and the way the ground was torn up it was evident that Kip had tackled the bear single handed, and after a terrific struggle had drowned the critter in the stream.

As mute evidence of Kip's part in the fray there's a bear hide hanging on his garage door, and customers of this popular groceryman are noting he carries a bandaged hand, along with the proud look of a successful hunter.

"D. B." and Dad Wilson are still in the wilds, and will stay out until Dad gets the buck or "D. B." gets the hives.

NATION HYMN AIR IS 147 YEARS OLD

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—Does anyone know who composed the music of "The Star Spangled Banner?" The hymn "Anacreon in Heaven," composed by John Smith, an Englishman, about 1770, is the original music of our national anthem, according to a recruiting official of the United States Marine Corps.

Anacreon was an ancient Greek poet, a sycophant and a great drunkard. The young Maryland lawyer, Francis Scott Key, set the words of his masterpiece to the tune of Smith's hymnal inspiration.

PEACE PROPOSAL RECEIVED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—The pope's peace proposals have been received thru London.

TOO MANY DECLARATIONS

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 17.—John Ersson, a farmer of Njutanger, grew so weary of making out the various declarations required by the authorities concerning stocks of cereals, bread, sugar, potatoes, etc., that he hanged himself in a final culmination of weariness and exasperation.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE FILED

Alleging desertion and non-support, Mrs. May Stanley has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Julius Clifford Stanley, in the office of the circuit court clerk.

The complaint states that the couple were married in Boulder, Colo., February 2, 1892, and that the defendant deserted her and ceased to provide for her in June, 1915.

There are no children. E. L. Elliott represents the plaintiff in the action.

WESTERN APRICOTS SHIPPED TO EGYPT

Selected California fruit will grace the mess tables of British army officers in far away Egypt. The British government has placed an order for $50,000 worth of canned apricots, the fruit to be delivered from canneries at Pomona, Hemet and Kingsburg.

The Southern Pacific company announced today that it was starting the first car over its lines to Ogden. The car contains 90,000 pounds of fruit in 1,500 cases. The balance of the shipment, say Southern Pacific officials, will be hurried across the continent and across oceans as fast as possible.
