NEW ARMY MATERIAL ATTRACTING ATTENTION

THE HAGUE, Sept. 1.—The Dutch general staff, as well as one or two foreign military attaches, are evincing considerable interest in a new army material devised by an inventor here.

The principle on which it is based is that of distributing the pressure of projectiles and explosives as rapidly as possible. The armor consist of a system of double plates with more or less space between them filled with a material that is very similar to sand, but is of extremely fine grain, and at the same time extraordinarily hard.

I HAVE for sale a few Pure Blood Rhode Island Red cockerels and pullets, hatched from a strain carefully selected for early winter laying; ready for delivery about October 1; $1.50 each. Pasture Right, 1,000 acres, including 300 acres marsh land green and growing until snow flies, $100. I will also sell my Registered Berkshire Boar, Wisconsin Champion 6th, son of the famous Laurel Champion; comes from six successive generations of prize winners; 2 years old; is sire of large litters of rapid growing, perfect pork shaped pigs; easily worth $100; will sell to highest bidder up to September 10th. No bid under $50 will be considered.

Camp Scene in Negro Regiment Which Ran Amuck in Houston

This photograph of a camp scene in the Twenty-fourth Regiment of negroes, who ran amuck in Houston, was taken in Mexico, when this regiment was a part of Pershing's force in the chase after Villa. Some sixteen men were killed and many more wounded when many of these men marched into Houston, firing on all whites in sight. The negroes charged that the police of Houston had abused some of them unjustly.

Chancellor Is Criticized By His Countrymen

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 1.—Attacks upon Imperior Chancellor Michaelis continue, and Professor Hans Delbrueck now asks the chancellor an embarrassing question concerning peace. In the Prussian year book Professor Delbrueck inquires of Dr. Michaelis why, if he really accepts the reichstag resolutions as the basis of his policy, he neglects to answer the inquiry made on July 26 in the English house of commons by former Premier Asquith regarding Germany's readiness to evacuate and restore Belgium.

Professor Delbrueck, who openly questions the good faith of the chancellor in professing to agree with the terms of the resolution, asked whether his silence in the face of Mr. Asquith's summons does not show that those are right who insist that Dr. Michaelis takes another standpoint from that contained in the resolution. "If the German government is ready to conclude a peace upon the basis of no annexation and no indemnities," asks the professor, "why all this unprecedented apparatus of a joint committee of the reichstag and bundesrath to assist the chancellor in drawing up a simple answer to the pope's proposal of a peace on that basis?"

The truth is that Michaelis does not enjoy the confidence of the reichstag. He could not possibly do so, he adds, after last week's events in the reichstag main committee, and his tact submission to the assertion that he is in reality opposed to the resolution. Neither the German nation nor the world knows what the chancellor's policy is. "The reichstag's resolution," Professor Delbrueck concludes, "would have had a different effect if it was not believed abroad that the reichstag is powerless, and that the chancellor is double-tongued."

NEW DAIRY LAW EFFECTIVE TODAY

COWS OF ALL DAIRYMEN SELLING MILK TO THE PUBLIC MUST BE TUBERCULIN TESTED—BUTTER MAKERS, ALSO

The law enacted at the last session of the state legislature requiring all dairymen selling milk to the public to dispose of milk only from cows that have passed the tuberculin test or milk that has been pasteurized, went into effect today.

The new law does not apply to farmers selling milk to the creameries, cheese factories or condenseries, as these institutions are held responsible for the pasteurizing of the milk used. Those farmers making their own butter and selling direct to the public will come under the purview of the act.

Sections two and eight of the act follow:

"That from and after September 1, 1917, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, company, corporation or association, to sell or offer or expose for sale or exchange, for human consumption, any milk from cows that have not passed the tuberculin test, unless such milk shall have been pasteurized as hereinafter provided. It is understood and hereby expressly stated that nothing in this section shall apply to the delivery of milk or cream to creameries, cheese or condensed milk factories by the producer of such milk or cream, or in bulk to the wholesale trade."

Section 8 of the act makes provisions as follows: "Milk from any cow or cows whose owner or lessee shall apply to the State Livestock

PUBLIC WARNED REGARDING FIRES

U. S. TROOPS NOW PATROLLING FORESTS, AND ANYONE ACTING IN SUSPICIOUS MANNER IS LIABLE TO BE SHOT

PORTLAND, Sept. 1.—All persons entering the forests must be extremely careful at this time about lighting fires. This is not the fire marshal warning of the usual type. There is a very urgent reason for this warning. The woods just now are filled with military patrols with rigid instructions to shoot public enemies caught setting fire to the forests.

Therefore, it is doubly necessary to be careful, as military patrols, while instructed to exercise every precaution, might possibly make a mistake. These military patrols are operating in every part of Oregon where forests are to be found. Their location is not revealed for obvious reasons. They move from place to place and keep to cover as much as possible. Their task is that of hunting down public enemies who have been firing the Oregon forests, and they are under orders from the Western Department of the army to deal instantly and vigorously with such public enemies.

So, if necessary for you to go into the woods, be careful about lighting fires. No doubt it would be better to keep out of the woods unless you have urgent business therein.
