FASHIONS

Hats are broader of brim and heavier of crown than last year. The tendency to brims that curve outward from the face is accentuated, and the brims flare even more than this spring. Turbans are much in favor, but rather high and heavy. Colors in turbans incline toward browns and grays.

Coats this year are to be longer than those of last year and dresses are correspondingly longer. The lines in both coats and dresses are straight. The collars are larger, but the cuffs not so extremely large. In suits the coats are so long and straight that they appear to be a tunic attached to the skirt.

Tunics are really very stylish, and they break the line of the severely straight skirt. Some of the skirts have a drapery towards the back that almost resembles the old-fashioned bustle. Others have a drapery on only one side. The skirts are narrow, some of the extreme styles being only one yard in width at the hem.

Dresses are of the same long straight lines as the coats. The sashes and loose girdles are a feature, as they are draped gracefully or crossed and buttoned sometimes on the pockets or on the waist. The collars are not very different than those of last year, the ones that are square in the back and running down to the closing of the V-shaped neck in front are the most favored.

As to materials, velours are still high in favor. The new velour has a twill to it. Broadcloths, velvets, especially blacks, silks and home-spun. Embroidery and thread stitching are still very popular.

The coats and suits are not trimmed quite so much with furs this winter, and only the very best quality of fur is used. Dyed furs have given way to those of their natural colors. A separate cape and muff or long stole and muff are very stylish. Squirrel, mink, seal and raccoon, all in their natural colors, are very popular.

fund of $100,000 has been privately contributed to meet the expenses of members of the commission to France unable to pay their own way.

The war council has sent to Europe five separate commissions, each composed of representative Americans skilled in business administration, in medical and surgical work, and in other lines of Red Cross effort. The work covers a wide scope of relief, from the establishing and maintaining of hospitals for soldiers in the American army in France, to civilian aid, including the care and education of destitute French children and the rehabilitation of the devastated areas in France and Belgium. Relief and preventive means against tuberculosis, which has greatly increased since the war, also will be supplied. A plan has been devised so to extend aid to soldiers and civilians held as prisoners by the enemy. These are only a few of the many avenues through which Red Cross relief will flow to the countless thousands of war victims.

The Red Cross in France has assumed the management of the war relief creating house. It has taken over under control of the United States army, the administration of the American Ambulance hospital at Neuilly. It has assumed the financial responsibility for Dr. J. A. Blake's American hospital in Paris. It has allied itself with the work of the American Surgical Dressing committee, which distributed in France in July 782,949 dressings among 438 hospitals.

The effort has been in accordance with the expressed views of the President of the United States and of the civil and military authorities of France to co-ordinate along helpful lines all relief work being done in France and America. The first and the supreme object of the task is to care for our own army and navy. Toward this end the Red Cross is establishing field canteens which it will provide for every corps of the French army, as well as for the American army. There are now large reception camps near the coast, where United States soldiers are received.

Along the route to the firing line the Red Cross has established infirmaries and rest stations. At railway stations canteens are being established where our soldiers may find rest and refreshment. Baths, food, games and other comforts will be available. When American troops start for France the men are given comfort kits. Christmas parcels will be sent over later.

Activities of Red Cross Are Outlined

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—Approximately $12,000,000 for war relief work in Europe will have been expended by the American Red Cross in the first six months since the United States has been at war with Germany, according to a report addressed today "To the American People," by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross war council, in which full details are given of the activities of the organization in various nations abroad, chief of which is France.

More than $10,000,000 of this sum, appropriated up to and including August 31st, by the war council since its appointment, May 10th last, is for use in France. Other countries to receive relief are Russia, Roumania, Italy, Serbia, England and Armenia, the grand total amounting to $12,339,681, the greater part of which will be used by November 1st, also some of the appropriations cover a year. Most of the persons in charge of the Red Cross work in France are giving their time and paying their own expenses. A special wounded French soldiers and their families; $100,000 for medical research work in France; $500,000 for supply warehouses; $1,500,000 to buy food stuffs to be sent to France, and $1,000,000 for the hospital supply service. The transportation problem with which the Red Cross has had to cope in moving supplies over seas has been most difficult, but thru official French, British and Italian co-operation with the United States shipping board and leading steamship and railroad companies, vast quantities of supplies are now shipped almost daily. A special Red Cross transport service has been developed in France as the railroads there are overtaxed with military needs.

Six base hospitals were sent to European fronts in advance of the American soldiers, and more than a dozen are now actively in service there, and others are rapidly being made ready.

It is not the policy of the Red Cross to rebuild French villages, but it is hoped to afford new starts in life to a large number of persons now destitute thru ravages of the German army. A provisional experiment along this line is being worked out.

"DEAD" SHARK BITES MAN'S ARM

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 11.—Biting a ten-foot shark into an automobile to bring it to the city, Carl Nakulna was bitten by the scavenger. Nakulna supposedly killed the shark when he drove a bullet into its head while he was fishing off shore. But when Nakulna and three companions were putting the shark into an auto, the shark, with a dying gasp, sunk its teeth into its captor's arm, gashing it for several inches.

POOR "DOBBIN" MUST GO

RALPH TURPIN IS INDICTED

GRANTS PASS, Sept. 11.—The grand jury empaneled at the April term of court in adjourned session returned one indictment, that of second degree murder against Ralph Turpin, who has admitted the killing of William McCallister at a sawmill near Selma last month. Turpin was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Turpin is the young man captured by the officials at Klamath Falls recently, following his escape from Grants Pass after the murder. He was recognized on the street by a former resident of Grants Pass, and confessed his identity after being grilled at the sheriff's office.
