RAILROAD MEN'S TROUBLES MANY

IN ADDITION TO PREVIOUS DEMANDS MADE UPON ROADS, ARMY CAMPS MUST NOW BE SERVED BY 2,500 CARS DAILY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The railroads' war board, which has been making herculean efforts to keep the cars moving in all parts of the country, despite the extraordinary demand, today is facing a new problem.

All the necessities of life must be supplied to sixteen non-productive cities of population of 40,000 each, and to fifty-six smaller cities of a population from 300 to 3,000. These cities represent the new National Army and National Guard cantonments and encampments, most of which are located where no railroad facilities existed before.

Figures just compiled show that 2,500 carloads a day of feed and other necessities are being delivered daily by the railroads. As it takes at least five pounds of food a day for each soldier, in addition to clothing, fuel and other supplies that are constantly needed, the problem is decidedly difficult, but the carriers are expected to prove equal to the task.

Mediterranean Sea Is New Trap for Sub Boats

CORFU, Sept. 18.—(Correspondence of Associated Press)—Travel in the eastern Mediterranean during these war days is no easy matter, for the usual routes of travel are now barred by long lines of steel nets, set to catch the submarines, but at the same time establishing a vast labyrinth of danger and obstruction for any sort of travel. The nets stretch clear across the main channels, from island to island, and from the shore islands to the main land, sometimes ten and fifteen miles away. Through these nets the privileged steamer—for all the regular lines are abandoned—must pick its way, during the brief interval that an opening is made daily to permit the passage of friendly shipping.

Seen from the deck of the steamer these torpedo nets stretch away for miles. The visible part above water consists of steel cylinders, about twelve feet long and three feet in diameter, like a good-sized log. These cylinders are chained together about thirty feet apart, and at intervals of every 300 feet a large anchored buoy holds the chain in an unbroken straight line. Thus the chain runs for miles—cylinders and buoys—with the meshes of steel net hanging under water from the chain, to gather in submarines just as fishermen make their hauls of herring.

One gets occasional glimpses of this under-water net as it comes to the surface on the station ships. These are small trawlers, or steam fishing launches, every mile or two apart, and two of them are at either side of the narrow passage admitting friendly ships. It is their business to raise the net at stated intervals, and to look over the papers of the ships that pass.

As we moved thru the passage the steel net was plainly visible drawn up on the station ships. It looked to be about twelve to eighteen feet across. The strands of steel wire were very heavy—about one-eighth inch—and the mesh rather open, as a submarine in such large game that a fine net is not needed to take it. It was seen,

KILLING YOUNG CALVES STOPPED

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 9.—City food inspectors have discovered a new form of wastage of food among the dairymen of the city.

Because of the high prices for milk, many dairymen have been killing the young calves rather than allow them to feed from the mother cows. As calves under four weeks cannot be sold for meat, the hides are taken and the meat destroyed. This practice has been stopped by the authorities.

REWARD OFFERED FOR FIRST GERMAN

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 9.—Citizens of Sweet Grass have pledged a fund of $500 as a reward for the first Toole county soldier who captures a German soldier, according to E. R. Holderny of that town. He said the offer provided that the German be taken alive, or must have been killed in resisting capture.
