

Army Y. M. C. A Is Soldiers Club

When the day's drill is over, the American soldier has a place where he can go and find rest and entertained out to him. In every camp there is an Army Y. M. C. A. for the enlisted men.

Y. M. C. A. TENTS ARE ALWAYS WARM AND ALWAYS OPEN TO THE SOLDIERS

One of the greatest problems in any military cantonment is to find something for the soldier to do during his leisure hours. For this reason the government opened its camps to the Y. M. C. A., and rendered every possible assistance to the organization to work among the men. As a result the morale of the American army is the best of any troops in the world.

The Y. M. C. A. tent or building is crowded at night. Ofttimes it is the only warm spot the soldiers can find. Checkers and other games are enjoyed, boxing matches are pulled off, and pretty nearly every night there is an entertainment of some kind, a motion picture show or vaudeville stunts supplied by the men themselves.

The Y. M. C. A. is the club for the enlisted men. Wherever they are sent the Y. M. C. A. follows. Everything is free. No membership is required, and it is open to all. In order to continue this work and to extend it

ENGLISH WILL ATTEMPT TO FIND OIL DEPOSITS

LONDON, Nov. 16.—It was announced in the house of commons this week that "certain eminent American geologists, who have come from the United States to advise the government, hold that it is well worth while to spend a considerable sum of money in exploring the possible petroleum deposits in Great Britain."

The speaker, a spokesman for the board of trade, added: "It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of finding oil in this country. We cannot yet say that it is here, but it is certainly worth looking for. Oil is almost more important at this moment than anything else. You may have men, munitions and money, but if you have no oil you are without the greatest motive power we are using, and the rest will be of little value."

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly, fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.—Adv.

Italian Reverses Due to German Propoganda

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—Light is thrown upon hitherto unexplainable reverses to German intrigues in the ranks of the Italian army by an official dispatch received here from Rome. It tells how, on the eve of their great offensive the Teutons circulated among the soldiers at certain points of the Italian front newspapers carrying sensational stories of rebellions in Italian provinces, of English soldiers shooting down women and children, and of French cavalry men riding over the bodies of agitators.

In further explanation of the break down of the Italian defense, the message says Italian speaking Bulgarians and Croats in Italian uniforms penetrating the lines on the eve of the offensive caused great confusion by telephone orders for the abandonment of important positions. "An investigation," says the dispatch, "has brought to light the most treacherous ruse resorted to by the enemy in order to undermine the morale of our soldiers immediately before the present offensive. On the 20th of October the enemy succeeded in smuggling thru our lines and distributing thousands of copies of Il Giornale d'Italia and Il Corriere della Dra, in which were reported tumults and rebellions in Naples, Florence, Sicily and Puglia, with hundreds of people killed in Tuscany by English soldiers firing upon women and children, and also describing the French soldiers riding over the bodies of agitators, etc.

"It was also established that in certain sections Bulgarians and Croats, wearing Italian uniforms, speaking Italian perfectly, ordered our soldiers thru telephone communications to abandon Italian defensive positions, and thereby causing great confusion and anxiety."

Accounts of the Italian retreat before the Austro-German drive have told of the failure of the Italians at crucial points to make a show of fight against the invader.

College Girls Prove Angels of Mercy

FRENCH FRONT, Oct. 31.—(Correspondence)—A small band of Smith College girls is mothering the distressed populations of those districts of France devastated by the Germans before they were forced to retreat last spring by the victorious French and British troops, who had hammered them on the Somme. The correspondent of the Associated Press passed a day with the young women in the war zone, where they have arrived to install themselves in the midst of the stricken people. They have made their headquarters in the grounds of the Chateau of Robecourt. There they live in shacks and portable houses in sight of the blackened ruins of the castle, burned by the Germans. From this center they go to twelve villages which have been taken over for relief by the American girls. Before the war they had altogether a population of approximately 4,600. Now this has been reduced to about 1,200.

The "American Angels of Mercy," as the Smith College girls are known, brought with them from America or purchased in Paris large stores of articles of first necessity for the people. Many of the peasants had money which they had been able to conceal from the Germans, and these people were quite willing to pay for articles provided by the American girls. Others among the peasants were destitute of both money and goods, and for these the American girls made charitable provision.

The girls brought motor trucks and several of them are motor drivers. Once or twice a week each of the villages in their district receives a visit from a party of the girls in their trucks, which are loaded with necessities, and these are sold to the peasants at cost price or less, and thus many of the needs of the people are met. Food, linen, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils and live chickens and rabbits are most desired.
