

Some of the Girls at Work in British Munitions Factory

Here is the way in which British women help the war. This is an actual scene in a munitions factory, and it shows women doing not only the light work of stenciling shells, but of wheeling them about and lifting them.

Red Cross Articles Are Never Sold

The following statement has been issued by Harvey D. Gibson, general manager of the American Red Cross:

"A story is being circulated to the effect that sweaters, socks and other articles knitted for the Red Cross are being sold, either to the public in shops or direct to the soldiers. This is emphatically not true. No articles whatever, either knitted or otherwise, made by Red Cross workers and turned into any Red Cross chapter, branch or auxiliary, or to any supply warehouse, are sold either to the soldiers or in shops.

"If any wilful case of this sort should come to the attention of headquarters, the chapter of the Red Cross or subsidiary sanctioning it would be immediately withdrawn with full publicity. Should it transpire that an actual instance of the above character occurred wherein an individual sold articles after their having been turned in to the Red Cross, such action would be clearly in violation of the fundamental law covering the Red Cross, and we would take vigorous steps to prosecute the offender.

"It is also true that any case of persons, other than those acquiring the right prior to January, 1905, using the name or emblem of the Red Cross to assist in the sale of merchandise, is a violation of the provisions of the federal criminal law, and the offender should be reported to the United States district attorney for prosecution.

"There is no way to prevent people from making the same type of articles as are produced by Red Cross workers and selling them for their own advantage, thus subjecting the Red Cross to unjust criticism. Should they use the name or emblem of the Red Cross in connection with such sales, however, they will be vigorously prosecuted."

French Priest Is Decorated for Bravery

Father Souris

Father Souris, who has been given every decoration the French government can give for bravery, has come to the United States to tell the American people about the war. He said he would talk to Americans from the religious point of view about the war.

rifles, blankets, kits and the day's rations. This looked like a heavy load as the long ranks ranged along the roads, but the men did not mind it, altho they said the long marches had been hard on the feet. The regimental bands were in line, and Italy may hear music again, if things go right. All the Italian bands have disappeared in the fierce carnage of recent days, and the bandmen are charging with bayonets.

The whole appearance of the British and French gave a feeling of great power because of the perfect organization and ardor of all ranks, accentuated by the timeliness with which they arrived in the vicinity of the battle front.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF BLADDER IRRITATION OR BACK
ACHE

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headaches or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder troubles.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

Italians Braced By Arrival of Allies

ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS, Nov. 28.—It was a dark day with a gray sky that the allied reinforcements reached the Italian lines, but the whole scene seemed to lighten up as the color of the Italian gray was tinted everywhere with British khaki and French blue. They had been on the march eight days, making more than fifteen miles a day.

The French reinforcements were first seen in force. They were splendid looking men. One of their officers with whom the correspondent talked, and who had stripes earned by gallantry on his sleeve, said they had just arrived after hard forced march, with others following.

Soon these others came in view, and for two miles the party passed through endless lines of French. There were squadrons of cavalry in the road and in the nearby fields, and long lines of troops with artillery trains and supplies. Field kitchens had been set up at one point, and the midday meal was being served. The men looked in best of condition, and did not show a trace of fatigue from their long march.

Just beyond here the color turned from blue to khaki, as long lines of the British came into sight. In the lead were cyclists, and then came engineer trains. Following were long ranks of infantry, cavalry and artillery. At one point headquarters had been temporarily established along the roads, and guards were at the gate as the officers came and went.

Further on, a British general and his staff, all finely mounted, were cantering forward.

The artillery horses were especially marked for the sleek, well fed condition, and the observers noted how all the brass work of the guns and equipment glistened with the thoro care it had had. One engineer corps came rumbling to the rear with huge pontoons, as it had been found these were not needed, but all the rest of the force was moving forward.

The men looked hard as nails, despite their steady marches. Both officers and men were eager to hear how the fight was going, and were anxious to get forward.

Talks with these men along the road gave an idea of what they had been doing. They had been marching steadily for several days. The start was made every day at 3 a. m., with an early breakfast, and with rations; subsequently served at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. Along the route their headquarters were in village schools, houses, barns and public buildings. The men carried loads of about 70 pounds, including

Seven Children and One Mother of These Killed in Zeppelin Raid

In the last Zeppelin raid over London seven children shown in this photograph and one of the women were killed. A bomb fell on a house occupied by a widow and her seven children and another woman and her one child. The seven children of the widow and the other woman were killed outright, and the eighth child was very dangerously injured.

Russian Church Is Leaving Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 28.—The Russian church, which was closely identified with the history of Alaska before that territory was transferred to the United States, may retain its branches in Alaska no longer. Presumably on account of the turmoil in Russia no money for the maintenance of this church has come from the holy synod in Petrograd for some time.

Bishop Philippi of the Russian church of Alaska is at present on his way from Sitka to Petrograd to endeavor to obtain money to keep the churches open. The bishop is traveling by way of Seattle and Vladivostok.

Valuable works of art and historic relics are housed in several Russian churches in Alaska.

LADIES DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

USE GRANDMA'S SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR RECIPE AND NOBODY WILL KNOW

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning, never have any headache or know a miserable moment.—Adv.
