Allies Condemn His Peace Proposals

LORD LANSDOWNE

Lord Lansdowne's suggestion that the allies give up certain of their war aims and negotiate peace before Germany is thereby beaten has been unreservedly condemned in England and America. Lord Lansdowne has been ambassador general of Canada and India, and he was foreign secretary for five years. These and other past services to his country make his criticism of the allies' war aims a particularly serious one. His letter will have a considerable influence in America. The "Times" without any suggestion, however, found no response in Washington.

Prussian Soldiers Are Forced Into Service

FRENCH FRONT, Dec. 28.—German soldiers from some of the towns of Alsace are sent to the front and avoid guard "as criminals are led to the executioner," says a letter found on a dead German soldier, who was killed in a recent battle on the French front. The writer had given a vivid

Germans Realize Desperate Conditions

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 28.—A gloomy picture of Germany's future was painted by Grand Admiral von Tirpitz in his recent speech in Essen, according to the Hamburg News. Regarding a successful economic war against Germany after the war, he said: "Imagine the position if we simultaneously have to bear the burden of taxation which must fall on every German, and, despite the fallen value of German money, we still have to buy the most necessary food and raw materials from abroad. Can anyone in his heart of hearts really believe that in these circumstances, without an increase of power, without indemnity and without security, we could avoid Germany's ruin?"

Germany's plight at the hands of England he bemoaned as follows: "Not only has England taken our colonies and Mesopotamia, but everywhere she has made deeper and firmer bases for her maritime and colonial supremacy. She has tarnished and trodden down the prestige and honor of Germany by unprecedented calumnies. In the whole trans-Atlantic world we are considered as conquered and done for."

RESERVATION VOLUNTEERS

In listing the names of young men of draft age who left during the early part of the month to enlist in the service of the country, the Herald gave the names of Charles Hood and Fred R. Hood.

Later developments show that both these boys are under draft age, and were tending their services to their country voluntarily, and had no idea of escaping a draft call in so doing. They are now in the United States navy.

Charles Hood is the son of the late Robin Hood of Yainax, and Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hood of the Klamath Agency.

Enlisted Men's Club Started In South

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—An enlisted men's club, at which any enlisted man serving in any capacity with the colors finds a welcome, has been opened here as a part of the war camp community service. Well stocked library, comfortable lounging quarters, a writing room, billiard tables, musical instruments, a lunch counter and a soda fountain are among its attractions.

The club occupies a suite of rooms in the Trinity Auditorium building, near the business district, provided by the Los Angeles Investment company, owners, and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and the furnishings were donated by Los Angeles merchants.

A group of Los Angeles women, headed by Mrs. M. J. Connel, has arranged to supervise social activities at the club. These include a general entertainment each Wednesday night at which local motion picture actors and well known persons appearing at theaters here are asked to "do their bit."

description of the scene at the departure of a detachment of reinforcements from Saarlouis, a town in the Rhine region. The recruits were intended to fill gaps in a battalion which had suffered heavy losses. The writer says: "The first battalion is ordered to furnish a reinforcing detachment of 50 men. To escort them to the Saarlouis station 300 men have been ordered out, some of them with arms, to march alongside the men going off, and others to act as pickets on the way to the station. The men were all ready in the afternoon, and had to wait some time for another squad of recruits from the 1st company of convalescents, who eventually arrived.

"What a scene! Ahead marched a squad of guards and to right and left of each file two armed guards, while another squad of guards brought up the rear to guard these German soldiers—our brave soldiers in field-gray, who, according to the magnificently phrased stories of the newspapers, dash forward, full of joy, and sustained by love of Fatherland to destroy our enemies.

"The detachment moved off with a band playing a march. The guards were so numerous that there was one for every two men of the departing detachment. Is it not a scandal that our children in field-gray should be led to war to fight and shed their blood in the same way as criminals are led to the executioner or, still worse, like cattle to the slaughter house? It was not sufficient that for hours before hand—in fact, from the moment of the announcement of the departure of the detachment—even soldiers who did not belong to it were prevented from going into the town by sentinels posted every five yards. No, it was considered necessary to submit the men to the shame of marching to the depot under guard.

"Do not the magnificent mendacious articles in our papers represent in a false light our brave boys in field-gray going to fight and destroy the enemy for the love of the Fatherland, while such things as these are happening. Verily, it is a voluntary sacrifice!"

Lemons Whiten and Beautify the Skin! Make Cheap Lotion

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.—Adv.

Hold That Made Frank Gotch Greatest American Wrestler, Famous

If Frank Gotch, who was champion of the wrestling world, had not invented the toe hold he might still have been famous. With that hold, however, he was a terror in the ring against most of his opponents. While he had several ways of handling men on whom he had got this hold, the photograph here shows it very well. He took a man who was lying face down, and reaching for the opponent's right foot with his left hand, twisted it so the pain was excruciating. "He could easily break the ankle, and if the victim failed to roll over on his back his ankle would be broken. But almost every man on whom he secured the hold turned over before his ankle was broken.
