

Germans Now in Bad Predicament

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Russian bolsheviks have put the imperial government between the "devil and the deep sea," according to the general opinion of authorities here.

Germany's next effort to avoid one of the other contingencies will be some "additional concessions" in her peace terms in a desperate effort to prevent final and complete breaking off in the negotiations.

Amicable relations with Russia are vitally necessary for the kaiser's empire after the war. Opportunities for economic penetration to restore the Teutonic commercial position is imperative—and particularly with Russia. In the view of observers here it is almost more important than any eastern conquests.

The German leaders, facing this necessity, are nevertheless apprehensive lest the bolshevik government may not "stand up."

On the other hand, they are afraid to lose the bird in hand conquests their armies have already grabbed while there is a chance of catching, also, the whole flock.

Evidence multiplied today also that the internal situation in Germany is worrying the imperial government leaders. The pan-Germans are insistently demanding that all conquests be retained.

The liberals and socialists are just as determined that all be given up. The situation in the reichstag is such that it offers the first chance for a trial of strength between the annexationists and the democrats.

The reichstag is at present in recess, but dispatches received by way of Amsterdam report a strong demand in Germany for immediate summoning of this body. There is considerable doubt, in view here, that the government would care to risk sessions of that legislature just now with the certain consequence of an open debate on the government's course in the Russian negotiations.

Ban Is Put On Tourist Travel

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Much of the transcontinental passenger traffic to the Pacific Coast is to be cut off, despite the protests of Pacific Coast business interests, has been stated at the office of Director General McAdoo.

Protests have come to his office from the Pacific Coast chambers of commerce and other interests, stating that the tourists industry on which the coast cities have annually thrived should not be interfered with.

"The attitude of Director General

McAdoo and his advisory board is that the transcontinental tourist is not to be entirely cut off. The Western railroads are not nearly so badly congested as those in the East. Many locomotives are to be brought east from the Western roads to supply the lack on the Atlantic seaboard, but enough will remain.

"The American people must realize that we are at war, and that business cannot be as usual, and that pleasure and winter touring cannot be as usual," said Director McAdoo.

German Prisoners In Miserable Condition

ITALIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN NORTHERN ITALY, Jan. 7.—The officer commanding the 1,400 Austrian prisoners captured in the recent French success on Monte Tomba gave the correspondent an opportunity of going among them and talking freely with officers and men on war conditions and what the enemy still could do in carrying on the struggle.

A more miserable lot of human beings it would be difficult to imagine. The officers were even in worse condition than the men.

The officers were unkempt and had not been shaved for a week. Their red hands looked like pieces of raw beefsteak. None had overcoats, as all were wearing light trench uniforms when the French swept around them. Yet, despite this misery, they put up a surprisingly bold front, and anyone thinking they are crushed is closing his eyes to facts.

The correspondent met the prisoners on a road leading to the town, where they are being rounded up preparatory to being set to work or sent to a prison camp. One detachment carried spades and picks.

All ages were seen among the prisoners. A coating of trench mud made them look worse than they really were, for they had stout boots, leggings and overcoats. Some had shawls and blankets. Their headgear consisted of battered helmets and caps with heavy hoods. Each man got a small tin of meat and a large chunk of bread when food was distributed. The prisoners said it was the best food they had had in weeks.

"The correspondent was told by the prisoners that the method of the French attack was an entirely new experience for them, as they had seldom undergone such a murderous artillery fire. Most of the men were Moravians, Dalmatians and Gallians. The sudden French charge, after the artillery fire, bowled them over before they had any chance to offer resistance. Concerning the war they all expressed themselves as heartily sick of it, and said the Germans were keeping the others in the fight.

LaFollette Is Not Popular With Writers

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Demand for the impeachment of Senator Robert M. La Follette has been renewed. Vice President Marshall announced to the senate on Saturday the receipt of more than forty letters from members of the "vigilantes," composed of prominent authors and writers, calling for the expulsion of Senator La Follette from the senate.

The vice president declared that, following the rule previously laid down, he would not submit the letters to the senate, but would refer them to the senior senators from the states in which the writers reside.

Porter Emerson Browne referred to Senator La Follette as a "magnificent seditious." Meredith H. Nicholson condemned the "toleration in our highest law-making body of a man who speaks the language of Berlin" as "an insult to every American soldier and sailor and every loyal American citizen."

Emerson Hough called him "worse than an enemy alien." Daniel Louis Hanson characterized him as "the king bee of the pacifists," and declared he should be "tobogganed out of the senate."

"La Follette not only rocks the boat, but denounces the oarsmen, slanders the bos'n and bora holes in the bottom of the boat. And the storm is at its height. He makes the senate ridiculous. If he won't go ashore, push him overboard," wrote Rupert Hughes.

Wealthy Man Gives Odd Wedding Party

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Two thousand wedding guests, chosen from among the poor and unfortunate of Los Angeles, were entertained Saturday by Dr. F. E. Yoakum, in honor of the marriage of his daughter, Miss Ruby Yoakum, and William M. Whitney of New York.

Dr. Yoakum has conducted a mission here for many years. He knows hundreds of unfortunates who because of physical affliction or other handicaps have little opportunity for enjoyment. When the date was fixed for his daughter's wedding he announced his plans for its observance, and based his action upon a quotation from the Bible:

"When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor any rich neighbor, but the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind."

GOES HOME TO PAPA

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—John D. Rockefeller Jr. has closed his new York home and moved into his father's house in Tarrytown because the Standard Oil company has been unable to provide him with oil stove heaters.

each morning before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to such headaches, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drugstore, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Adv.

Kaiser Wilhelm As a Turkish Field Marshal

This photograph of Kaiser Wilhelm, dressed as a field marshal of the Turkish army, was taken when he received several German nurses in the precincts of the great mosque at Sophia at Constantinople. The short left arm, which he usually in his photographs makes an effort to hide, is here plainly visible.
