HENLEY HAPPENINGS

The farmers of this section are rejoicing over the great amount of moisture from rain and melting snow that is being absorbed by the soil. It means fine crops next season.

A number of Henley young people attended the dance given at the Glenn Steeman home Friday evening. James Morris of Henley played the violin.

Mrs. Burrell Short and her three young daughters, Eva, Burrell and Dorothy, are visiting relatives of Mrs. Short's in South Dakota.

Mrs. McClay has been on the sick list for the past few days.

The ladies of the Henley Parent-Teachers Association met at Mrs. R. C. Short's last Friday afternoon to work on the quilt that will be auctioned or raffled off to raise money for the soldiers' comfort bags.

Henley School Notes

Rowe Kinney, who has been attending school at Olney, entered the Seventh grade of the Henley school last week.

The students of the high school are busy with term and semester examinations this week.

Miss Emma Jackson has entered the Freshman class of the high school. Girls of the Henley high school are planning to give an entertainment the latter part of the month for the purpose of raising money to make comfort bags for the soldiers. The ladies have made a handsome silk and velvet suit that will be sold at that time. Pillow cases of various kinds are to be auctioned off. A good program is being planned, and everybody is invited to come.

Mrs. James Henley presented the school with a fine potted petunia this week.

Portland Launches Another War Drive

PORTLAND, Jan. 18.—Portland's campaign for a fund of $50,000 to finance war camp community work is now in full swing, having started January 7th, when campaign workers met at a banquet and launched the drive. The money will be used to further the national war work under Young Women's Christian Association auspices. The hostess houses at Camp Lewis, Vancouver barracks and the Bremerton and Portland's Club and recreation room for soldiers and sailors, will be the chief beneficiaries. The plan of war workers here is to secure two floors of a building with central location, probably at Fourth and Washington streets, which will be fitted up for welcoming officers and men.

At Vancouver barracks the hostess house is rivaling the Y. M. C. A. headquarters in popularity with enlisted men. A homelike building has been fitted up and recreation and friendly interest which the soldiers find there has made it a much frequented place. Emery Olmstead, manager of the campaign, and his lieutenants, say they will secure Portland's quota for the war work, without difficulty, despite the multiplicity of Red Cross and Liberty Bond drives. Following the raising of the local fund a state wide campaign will be launched wherein all the towns and cities of Oregon will be asked to do their share.

Uncle Sam Does Not Want Small Railroads

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—More than 600 "short lines" have been informed that their services would not be required by the government in its consolidation of transportation systems. Their executives, many of whom have received detailed orders from Director General McAdoo on how to conduct their properties, were at first too much astounded to speak. Then they declared the situation—with the big railroads getting all the business by the government edicts—meant certain bankruptcy.

The disclosure that they will not be used came at the house interstate commerce committee's hearings. Mr. McAdoo's attorney, John B. Paine, made the announcement. Questioned as to his position, Paine said he had full authority from the director to make his reply. "Only lines 'essential to the war' were to be taken, he said McAdoo had decided; further, McAdoo was said to have come to the definite conclusion that only the main arteries of commerce were thus essential. The reason assigned by Paine was that the "jerkwater lines" might prove unprofitable in operation, and thus prove a financial drain on the nation if their owners were guaranteed the usual profits.

Hird M. Robinson, attorney for the "short lines," said: "Under that ruling, all the business will move over the bigger systems. We are told that, in theory, we are to go ahead with our business as usual. But, in fact, our business is to be taken away, and we are simply left out in the cold. "If the government takes over the big roads and guarantees their earnings, but leaves the small ones unprotected, I wouldn't take the whole collection of little fellows for a while."

Enlistments in the naval coast defense reserves have been closed.

The new regulations of enlistment for the period of the war only will enable postmasters again to aid in recruiting a large number of men between the ages of 18 and 21, and 21 and 35, who are not subject to the draft, as well as men of draft age who have desired to enlist in the navy, but only wanted to obligate themselves for the period of the war.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTER TO HAIR

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.
