

Diamond Stars Playing For Uncle Sam Now

Joe Jenkins, catcher of the White Sox, and Sherrod Smith, pitcher for Brooklyn last season, will this spring and summer play for Uncle Sam—if they do not by that time go to France to meet the Germans. These photographs show Jenkins taking a hot one from Smith in sending to him at Camp Gordon. They will form the crack battery in the club of the camp, which will meet other clubs of other camps when the season opens.

Big Auto Show At Portland Soon

PORTLAND, Jan. 21.—The ninth annual Portland automobile show will be held in the new city auditorium here from February 7th to 13th inclusive. In connection with the automobile show this year there will be held also a big truck and tractor show to emphasize the forward strides made by the motor truck and the tractor during the past year. Thus the show will be of particular interest to every farmer who is thinking of buying a motor truck to add to the efficiency of his farming methods, as well as to the prospective purchaser of a passenger automobile.

Great stress will be laid upon the practical side of the automobile at the coming show. The keynote will be utility and practicability. The automobile has long ceased to be a luxury to be enjoyed only by the very rich, and has become a business and commercial necessity. All the latest motor car, truck and tractor models will be seen at the show. The committee in charge has issued a special invitation to dealers and all persons interested to take advantage of the special reduced railroad round trip rates during the show to visit the show.

Spirit of Democracy Growing in Germany

By J. W. T. MAMON (Written for the United Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Infection of the Russian spirit of democracy is beginning to manifest itself in Germany. For the first time since the outbreak of the war, German socialists are developing the lost spirit of internationalism, in their attitude toward the socialists of Russia.

of his way of making peace. Autocracy has always feared a revolution in a neighboring country next to a revolution at home. German socialists cannot help being sympathetically inclined toward Russia's freedom to experiment with ultrademocratic doctrines. This sympathy is becoming more and more obvious, and more and more disconcerting to kaiserism. The threats of the Russian bolsheviks that they intend appealing to the German people to make a democratic peace over the heads of the kaiser's statesmen may turn out to be no idle boast. Certainly the kaiser dare not scoff at the possibility.

The new situation that is thus arising in Germany is entirely serious for the kaiser. The patriotic control kaiserism hitherto has exercised over the German socialists is beginning to break. When it vanishes completely kaiserism will disappear. Interference with the German-Russian peace negotiations by the German socialists became apparent as soon as the kaiser's representatives started to inject imperialistic aims into the proceedings. This was the first refusal to heed the appeals to patriotism that the Teutonic socialists have displayed since the beginning of the conflict. The present movement must receive further impetus before there is an open estrangement between the Hohenzollerns and the German people, but the primary impulse has been given. The kaiser cannot afford to risk much more domestic criticism of his way of making peace. Autocracy has always feared a revolution in a neighboring country next to a revolution at home. German socialists cannot help being sympathetically inclined toward Russia's freedom to experiment with ultrademocratic doctrines. This sympathy is becoming more and more obvious, and more and more disconcerting to kaiserism. The threats of the Russian bolsheviks that they intend appealing to the German people to make a democratic peace over the heads of the kaiser's statesmen may turn out to be no idle boast. Certainly the kaiser dare not scoff at the possibility. The German government has never before been faced with an internal situation as serious as this. Or is not probable that the socialists and the militarists of Germany will permit a dispute among themselves to reach the stage of open revolution. But, the socialists, because of their number, have the upper hand. They can compel acceptance of their views if they are sufficiently insistent. How strongly they will exercise their power for a democratic peace now depends more on the influence of the Russian revolution than on any other single cause.

Packer Declares Meat Prices Too High

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 21.—The supply and demand, and no other prices of sheep and lambs are not fixed by the packers, according to Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co., who addressed the National Woolgrowers Association here. He said in part: "You know the packers do not fix the price, because, if they did, they certainly would not fix the mass high as they are at present. Prices are fixed by conditions of

Brazil Very Active Against German Spies

RIO GRANDE DO SUL, Brazil, Jan. 21.—Brazil, now that it has entered the war, is having its spy scare, and it has become more general even than in some of the other belligerent countries. It is only necessary for a person to be a foreigner and a stranger in any Brazilian town to become the object of suspicious regard by the people and even of police surveillance. Orders have gone out from Rio de Janeiro for the arrest of large numbers of Germans, many of whom appear to be innocent business men, although there is no doubt but that German espionage is well organized in Southern Brazil. Spies are reported to have been especially active in the state of San Paulo and the govern-

TROTSKY'S PAST IS DUBIOUS

RUMANIAN BOLSHIEVSKI FOREIGN MINISTER IS FOUND TO HAVE JAIL RECORD IN SPAIN—WAS FORCED TO LEAVE THERE

MADRID, Jan. 21.—The Spanish newspapers have just discovered that Leon Trotsky, the Russian bolshevik leader, was under arrest in Spain for a short time in 1916. He reached Spain from France in October of that year, but the police, having learned that he was a "dangerous anarchist," arrested him at Vigo, took him to Madrid, and lodged him at the central prison from November 4 to 13, pending investigation. Subsequently he was released, but was requested to leave the country. He then embarked at Barcelona for the United States.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning
Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gnawing acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach liver kidney and bowels drink before breakfast each day a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink crystallized hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.
