Montana Pupils Will Aid In Farm Survey

BOZEMAN, Mont., Feb. 1.—District schools of Montana will adjourn for two days this month to permit the pupils to assist in making a survey of farm labor requirements for the coming crop season, under plans announced here by the state college extension department, the state department of public instruction and the state and federal departments of agriculture.

Each school in the state will prepare a list of farms in its vicinity, and these will be visited by the pupils, who will obtain information regarding labor to be required. A summary of the needs of the district will be sent to the county superintendent of schools, and in turn be forwarded to the state college, where the state summary will be prepared.

Costly Railroad Bed In Montana

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 1.—Four cars of ballast, costing approximately $30 a ton, or about $2,200 for the entire lot, are being tried on a section of the transcontinental railroad near Billings. Whether it proves successful or not, it is not likely that any more will be used.

The four cars, filled with manganese ore, were started for the Pacific coast from a mine at Phillipsburg, Mont., and were mistaken for clinders. The ore is black, and resembles coal somewhat in appearance, but is extremely heavy. The officials are trying to learn who commandeered the ore for track foundation.

Unusual Method Of Forming Friendship

RED LODGE, Mont., Feb. 1.—Correspondence that originated in 1916, when a rancher of this vicinity attached a small bottle enclosing his name and address to the neck of a hawk, which later was shot near Bogota, Colombia, is responsible for a journey to this town by Louis Felipe Rueda, a wealthy textile mill operator of Bogota.

Rueda wrote to the local man, and later to other persons in this vicinity, and friendships developed which the South American is now en route here to further in person.

at the Temple tonight. Part of the picture shows McGraw's Giants on the field, and baseball is one important theme of the story.

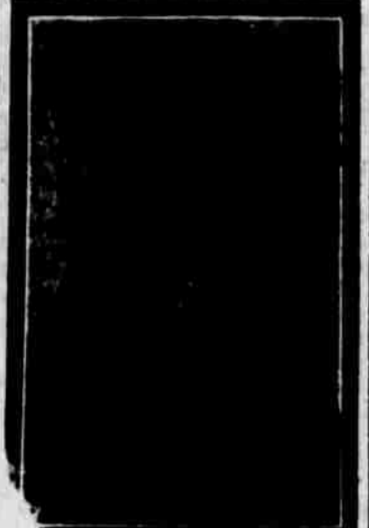

In his latest Artcraft picture, "The Man From Painted Post," now at the Star theater, Douglas Fairbanks discloses many new cowboy tricks learned from champions of a recent Rodeo meet, who appear with him in the photoplay. The story of Wyoming cattle rustling days presents the versatile Douglas in many thrilling situations offering typical Fairbanks surprises.

MOVE FOR IMPROVED SERVICE

CHILOQUIN RESIDENTS WOULD DISCONTINUE STAGE LINE TO AGENCY FOR DAILY TRAIN SERVICE TO KLAMATH FALLS

With the idea of bettering their mail service, the residents of Chiloquin have started a move to secure daily train service between that point and Klamath Falls and to discontinue the stage now operating between Chiloquin and the Klamath Agency. It is understood, however, that this move, if successful, will not affect the present Klamath Falls-Fort Klamath stage service.

It is also reported that the request for a townsite for the town of Chiloquin has been made by Superintendent J. M. Johnson of the Klamath Indian reservation.

BAKER MAN PROVES HIMSELF PATRIOT

BAKER, Ore., Feb. 1.—Charged by some with being a German sympathizer and enemy to the United States government, Louis Reens, whose record was revealed when he enlisted at the local recruiting office, proved to be a patriot.

restaurant which he patronized, frequented only by men, he, because of his pessimistic views concerning the outcome of the war, often became engaged in altercations, and several times had personal encounters. When his story became known it was shown the man had given his all, including 150 pairs of shoes, to the Red Cross, and himself enlisted to again do his bit for Uncle Sam. His record was revealed by Corporal Ozley, in charge of the local recruiting office.

No. 127, I. O. O. F., have not been present at lodge meetings for some time, and it is hinted that they are afraid to come out because they are rusty in the work. Never mind. The Noble Grand will delegate a committee of one to brighten you up if that is the case, and you can come out tonight, and start a new system for entertainment for each Friday night of the year. Lodge called to order at 7:30. Don't forget.

Born in Holland, he came to America when young, and served as a volunteer in the Spanish-American war. Later he volunteered for service in the Philippine insurrection, and now, at the age of 45, he has again offered his life to the country of his adoption. Reens was a Jew peddler, and in a
