SIRENS OF THE SEA

The Jewel feature at the Orpheus Tuesday and Wednesday, April 2 and 3, was six months in the making, and was completed at a great expenditure. The director, Allen J. Holubar, achieved in its undersea and water scenes some of the most unusual photographs yet transferred to the screen—notably the night scenes on the enchanted island. The picture was made at Santa Cruz, an island in California, and constantly employed a cast of 1,000 persons, headed by Louise Lovely, Carmel Myers and Jack Mulhall. Grace Helen Bailey is responsible for the story, which has to do with the odd adventures which befall a girl cast in a storm on the bleak shores of the lonely island in the Pacific.

Mrs. O'Grady Is Vindicated

"Elvin o'clock, is it?" exclaimed Mrs. O'Grady. "Sure, at this time yesterday 'twas only tin o'clock." That's what congress has done to the time—set the clock an hour ahead. Sort of made it a 35-hour day, for we gain an hour without missing it out of the 24. That is, you gain if you have an alarm clock from Upp's. It will get you up on time without fail.
