

SUNDAY QUIET ON BIG BATTLEFIELD

ANOTHER DEFENSIVE EXPECTED TO START

THEY TRY TO FIND WEAK SPOT IN ALLIED LINES, BUT HAVE BEEN DISAPPOINTED THUS FAR—PICARDY FIELD QUIET YESTERDAY

GERMANS EXPECTED TO MAKE FURTHER ATTEMPT TO REACH RAILROAD AT AMIENS. FRENCH WITHDRAW TO HIGH GROUND IN MOUTH

The big Hindenburg offensive, which was launched with such tremendous pressure the last of the week was suddenly calmed down, and today was reported quiet on both sides from Arras on the north to Amiens on the south.

The Germans are nibbling at the Allied line in an effort to find a weak spot, but have thus far been disappointed.

The French forces have retired to higher ground in the Channy-Coucy-Bligny triangle, along the Oise River on the extreme eastern and southern end of the present battle front. It is believed that the Germans are not given up hope of reaching Amiens on the Somme River, and that another heavy attack on the British front will follow in a short time.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY, April 8.—Two German raids were repulsed by the Americans in the sector northwest of Toul on Friday night. The American infantrymen not only repulsed the invading Huns, but chased them back thru their first line trenches into their support trenches.

LONDON, April 8.—The British advanced their lines slightly on the northern bank of the Somme River last night. The Germans are continuing intense artillery action today north of the Scarpe and south of the Somme, but there is no infantry activity evident as yet.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—The war department review issued today notes the improvement in the strategic position of the allies on the nearby battlefield, and declares that the German plan has been upset by the stubborn defense in which the enemy has been forced to throw in fresh troops to gain their limited objectives. BISHOP TELLS BIG CROWD OF CAMP LEWIS

SAYS BOYS ARE WELL CARED FOR—EXPLAINS THEIR MORAL, EDUCATIONAL, SOCIAL AND RELIGIOUS LIFE AT HOUSTON'S LAST NIGHT

The life of the men at Camp Lewis socially, morally, educationally and religiously, was depicted in a clear manner by Bishop Paddock, Bishop of Eastern Oregon, who addressed a crowd which jammed Houston's opera house last night.

If any of those at home had fears concerning the welfare of their boys, they were allayed by Bishop Paddock, as he told of the clean healthy lives which they lead. Bishop Paddock spent the Christmas holidays and part of January at the camp, instead of spending it with relatives and friends, and thus got a chance to become well acquainted with "the boys."

"You don't live as well as these boys do," said the Bishop. "They have better food of better variety to accomplish the desired ends, than most of you at home. They have the finest camp fare in the world. In regard to sleeping conditions, he stated that every man had his own cot, with plenty of covers, and that the windows were always wide open, as they had learned the value of fresh air. Everything, including the libraries, Y. M. C. A. huts, hostess houses, class rooms and the grounds themselves, were described, until one could readily understand it, when the Bishop said, "the boys are beginning to feel just a little sorry for us poor civilians."

"There is a social secretary in charge of the social life," said the speaker, "and even the roughest of the soldiers are learning manners. Many of them never had a chance before. These boys are meeting thousands of the nicest girls in Seattle and Tacoma and the other towns around. When the social secretary plans an entertainment, he sends word to some one in charge of the matter in the different towns, and they send only the best girls from the churches and lodges. They send only girls they can trust, and if any of the men should have a thought that was amiss I'm afraid the other men wouldn't let him have another thought coming."

Speaking in regard to the educational life of the soldier there, he said: "The boys are studying French and German. They know they are the report of the American troops joining the allied forces. British attaches declare that every day finds the allies in better position to successfully combat the efforts of the Huns on the west front. French, British and American reserves are said to be pouring in daily to defend Amiens.

Vladivostok Extra Guard May Cause Some Trouble

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—The British cruiser has landed fifty soldiers at Vladivostok to guard the consulate there, and the Japanese garrison has been increased to 250 men. The landing of these forces against the objections of the bolshevik promises to cause the state department no little concern. The United States has assumed the "hands off" policy, and the Russian National Council of Soviets has announced its intention of protesting to the United States against the present step.

THE COURT HOUSE FIGHT

We had hoped that both sides in the coming recall election would accept the offer of the Herald in the spirit in which it was made, and frankly present their arguments and facts before the people of the whole county. To date the opposition to County Judge Hanks has not seen fit to publicly take the voters into their confidence and present their reasons why he should be removed from office in the middle of his term, and replaced by their choice.

Providing that the location of the court house is the only question at issue, it is probable that very little argument is necessary, and from the charges in the complaint we would assume that this was the intention which the petitioners are asking the removal of the county judge. This being the case, it should not be difficult to place the facts before the people in support of either location, in order that the voters can reach their own conclusion.

If there are other issues which are depended on to influence the voters, these should be honestly presented, in a public manner, otherwise the only conclusion that can be reached is that the opponents of the court are not placers in their claims of working for the interest of the taxpayer and the county, and hope by creating prejudice and by misrepresentation to influence votes to their side. We do not wish to intimate that these are the facts in this case, but it should be remembered that the people are intelligent and independent thinkers, and the day is here when the voters are beginning to look with suspicion on the "gum shoe" campaign. It pays to be honest with the voters, and arguments that will not bear the fullest publicity are a detriment to any cause.

Robert H. Bunnell is to be considered the standard bearer of the opposition to Judge Hanks, and we believe the people are expecting a statement from him. The Herald will be pleased to print the platform of Mr. Bunnell and any message he may have to offer the people of the county.

As previously stated, the Herald realizes the injury to the whole county in bitter factional fights, and regrets that the people have again been forced into another controversy, and believes it is our duty to assist in every way to minimize the damage that is sure to result. We believe this can best be done by the parties on either side of the fight, confining themselves to actual facts and making a clean, open campaign thru the newspapers, which are the source of information of the people. We again freely offer the columns of the Herald without charge.

THERMOMETER REGISTERS OVER THE TOP NOW

The Liberty Loan thermometer, located on Fifth and Main streets, registered "over the top" at 2:30 this afternoon, with indications that the temperature would continue to rise. The thermometer was painted and is in charge of Fred Houston of the K. K. K. store.

KLAMATH GOES OVER TOP LAST SATURDAY

EXACT FIGURES NOT YET REPORTED, BUT NO QUESTION OF RESULT, ACCORDING TO CAPTAIN, FOR KLAMATH DISTRICT

SEVENTH PRECINCT LEADS CITY OF KLAMATH FALLS—UPPER LAKE PRECINCTS IN EARLY BLUE LIST TO BE PUBLISHED FIRST

Klamath County's message to the Kaiser was stated in no uncertain terms. The county went over the top in one day, and the exact figures are not yet reported, there is no question about the result.

The amount actually reported on Saturday evening was the sum of $193,850, with no report from fourteen precincts. The Seventh precinct was the leading precinct in the city, clearing the top at about 2 p. m. on Saturday. Pelican City and Shipplington reported over the top at 9 o'clock in the morning. The Third and First precincts are on top of the fence, ready for the jump, and would have gone over Saturday if the solicitors could have located all the people. Many were away from their residence or place of business, which will cause the solicitors to call again, but thirty minutes' work in each precinct will insure the full quota.

Owing to some misunderstanding the Fifth and Sixth precincts did not get to work on Saturday. Had these precincts been as active as the others the city of Klamath Falls would have reported over before night fall on Saturday.

Many residents of these precincts appeared at Liberty Loan headquarters and signed their subscription blanks before being called upon by any solicitor. Never in the history of Klamath County has such earnest cooperation been evidenced. Flows were left standing in the field while solicitors in the outside districts responded to the call of their country, and placing personal and private interests in the background, even at great sacrifice, took up the work.

The Blue List now being published shows that more than 90 per cent of the people of Klamath County responded to the call of their government with subscriptions. The Red and Yellow lists will not be published until later in the campaign, for many who did not subscribe are now coming forward and getting in the blue column, not desiring to fall

Your Bond May Bring Him Home in Safety

The supreme tragedies of war are not enacted on the battlefield, but in the home.

Above the shouts of command and encouragement, the roar and shock of the great guns, and all the swelling tumult of battle which bear the husband and father to a hero's grave and a martyr's glory, there rise the weeping of the bereaved wife and the cries of little children deprived of a father's love and care.

American fathers are now on the battlefronts of France. Many must fall; how many depends upon us who remain safely at home.
