This money will go to the Junior Red Cross auxiliary of the high school. Some of the foot stools made by the boys were not sold, and they may be seen at the Virgil furniture store.

MUCH FIR SENT EAST

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Special trains carrying 80,000,000 feet of fir timber have left the Pacific Coast for the Atlantic and Gulf shipyards, which have been delayed in wooden ship building by traffic tie-ups. The trains are being rushed across the continent in one-fifth the time usually required. In another month it is expected that the southern shipyards will have an adequate supply of Southern pine, and be independent of Pacific Coast timber.

NAIL DOWN LOOSE BOARDS IN WALK

"Keep the boards in the sidewalk in front of your property nailed down," says Mayor C. B. Crisler, "or the council will get you if you don't watch out." Several complaints have been made in regard to loose boards, and serious accidents have been narrowly averted. A fine for having loose boards in front of one's property may be imposed under the city ordinance, and it will be resorted to if people do not heed this warning.

Also, free mail delivery was allowed here on the condition that they must have goon sidewalks.

Keno Road Strewn With Full Bottles

Did you ever go along the road and find your way strewn with bottles—big, fat, full bottles? This is what happened to some early travelers who started out shortly after dawn Sunday morning. They were unsuspecting, and had no idea that perfectly good bottles would be thrown away on the road between here and Keno, but they found such to be the case.

they saw, three bottles of whiskey and eight of beer for one car, and four full quarts of Yellowstone and a bottle of beer for chaser by another car. Another bottle which was slightly damaged by the fall, but still three-quarters full was left by the wayside.

The occupants of the cars were not wasteful, and so gathered up what

LOCAL MAN TELLS OF LIFE AT CAMP LEWIS

E. W. Gowen, justice of the peace, has returned from an extended trip to Bremerton, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and Salem.

Mr. Gowen is very enthusiastic about the conditions which he found existing at Camp Lewis, and said it was almost impossible for one to realize the splendid manner in which the work is being carried on there. The personal lives of the men, their language, and even the grounds, he says, are cleaner than one could imagine possible.

While there he met several Klamath County boys, one of whom said that he would rather get $60 a month there than $150 in Klamath County, because of the education he gets along with it and the conditions in which he lives.
