

Gun Leaders Scorn U. S. War Efforts

NEW YORK, June 7.—American participation in the war, in the fight against German submarines and in the ship building program were belittled by Vice Admiral von Capelle, German minister of the navy, in his speech in the reichstag a few weeks ago, as reported by German newspapers received here.

"The military help of America in the first year of the war was very little regarding troops and airplanes," declared von Capelle. "The expectation of our enemies has been greatly disappointed. If America later wants to maintain half a million troops in France, it will need permanently a freight space (in steam ships) of about 3,000,000 tons, which again would be depreciated from the service of supplying her allies."

"According to American and British statements, the participation of such large army is no longer involved in the campaign.

"In order to carry out the gigantic American program of shipping construction, the shipyards must first be built. In 1917, America, following all her huge promises, built 50,000 gross tons of sea-going ships. The large merchant fleet which America has ordered is not being built for the war, but in order to take the place England as the world's shipper, after the war, when the ships will have been completed."

Discussing the economic situation created by America's entrance into the war, von Capelle pointed out that the United States was the most important source of supplies for the entente nations, but he added: "Owing to the tremendous armament program of President Wilson, such economic difficulties have developed that America, the land of export, must now begin to ration herself instead, as had been hoped, to aid the entente nations in increasing measures. All in all, it can be said that the economic difficulties of our enemies have been increased by America's entrance into the war.

In reply to charges that the German submarine building program was not progressing as rapidly as it should, von Capelle admitted that German's enemies had attained certain successes in their defensive measures against the U boats. "But" he added, "they have at no time affected the U boat warfare in any way decisively, and, according to foresight, will not be able to do so in the future.

"The American U boat shadow over which much fuss has been made, are a failure. "The convoy system, which gives the ships a certain protection, on the other hand has great disadvantages. There is not a day in which one or several ships are not shot out of commission by the U boats."

German Youth Now Lacks Patriotic Ferver

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.—German youth no longer rush to the colors with the enthusiasm that marked the mobilization of 1914, according to an article in the Berlin Vossische Zeitung, telling of the wartime impairment of the German educational system.

"The spirit of voluntary service which at the beginning of the war revealed itself in its fullest aspect has now disappeared," says the article. "Everywhere we hear lamentations over the increasing distaste shown for military service."

Scholastic standards in the public school have fallen so low, it is said, that "promotions no longer represent any definite standard of accomplishment." Scholastic efficiency has suffered considerably because pupils subsisting on war diets for long periods are found to be generally under-nourished.

Juvenile delinquency has spread to an alarming extent, and it is announced ed that "Already the number of violent crimes committed by youths in the city of Berlin is more than three times the number reported in 1914." "Thus," concludes the article, "dark shadows are falling over the brilliant picture of 1914. Every disciplinary influence, every effort of the still fundamentally sound German nation must be exerted to oppose this tendency, and to lead the children back to the path of rectitude."

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why, is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, dependent, worried; some days headachy, dull and ungrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we would all practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, ruddy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself, each day, of all the waste which it produces under the present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. It is a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleaning, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their burn at constipation, bilious attacks, cold stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become well again about the second week. Each of a quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but it is worth it to discover the joy of its cleansing, sweetening and purifying effect upon the system.
