

Bolsheviki Threatens Destruction of Russia

STOCKHOLM, May 16.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Belief that the people of Russia want, above all things, peace at any price, is a mistake, asserts Vladimir Bourseff, a noted Russian former revolutionary and newspaper man who has arrived here from Finland.

"The Bolsheviki threaten the total destruction of Russia," said Bourseff to a writer in the Dagens Nyheter. "They attained power by the help of the Germans and by the same means are maintained in power. Bolshevism is a danger not only for Russia but for the whole world, and it is necessary that the supporters of its doctrines should be thoroughly defeated. Russia cannot be saved so long as the Bolsheviki are in control. I am convinced they can be conquered and I hope it will not be long before they are suppressed.

"What Russia needs is a government composed of Democrats and Cadets (Constitutional Democrats) with a man like Korniloff or Milyukoff at its head. The idea that the land above all things wants peace at any price is a mistake. This would be made plain under another government which unlike the present, was not dependent upon German support."

Bourseff at the beginning of the war was living in Paris as a refugee.

He immediately returned to Russia to offer his services to the government against Germany. He was arrested the moment he reached Russian soil and sent to Siberia. After a year there he was released on the intercession of President Poincaré of France. He returned to Petrograd, where he opposed the Bolsheviki. When the revolution broke out he was imprisoned in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul. After four months imprisonment he escaped and reached Helsingfors, whence he came to Sweden.

All wool is economy Better have it in your clothes

NEXT time you buy clothes, no matter where you go, ask if they're all-wool. Don't be put off without a plain answer. The clothier may say: "You know me; you know I wouldn't sell you anything that wasn't all right;" but that doesn't answer the question.

If he says, "yes," you can tell, perhaps, whether it is all-wool or not; he may think it is; maybe he doesn't know.

There's only one sure way of knowing what you are getting in clothes this spring, aside from a chemical test of the fabrics; and that way is to buy goods that are guaranteed by the maker to be all-wool and all the rest that goes with it.

We offer you Hart Schaffner and Marx clothes because the makers dare to take a positive ground on the quality question; they don't dodge; they don't keep silent; they're positive in their statement and their facts. You can depend on them; and us.
