New Draft Slacker Now Being Sought

Portland, Or., June 21.—Federal authorities are getting ready to institute a merciless campaign to run down and punish a new form of draft slacker.

This new slacker is the draft registrant who was granted deferred classification at the time of his registration, but whose status since has so changed that he no longer is entitled to exemption, yet who remains silent about this change in the hope it will be overlooked.

There are estimated to be hundreds of such cases in Oregon, and thousands of them in the United States. Suspicion particularly has been directed against a great many of the deferred classifications granted for industrial reasons.

It now appears that the status of many of these men is not the same as when they were granted deferred classification. Yet they have failed to notify their local boards and continue to enjoy exemption from military service. In some cases, also, the original classification was not justified.

Many cases where deferred classification was granted for dependency also have changed in status, but the registrant has not notified the local board.

With the time at hand when the need for man power is so urgent that every available man must either "work or fight," and when lower classifications are to be revised in order to make more men available for Class I, this form of evading military service will not be tolerated.

The draft regulations are very plain and blunt in describing the penalty for failure on the part of a man granted deferred classification to notify his local board at once if his status is changed.

"Every registrant shall, within five days after the happening thereof, report to his local board any fact which might change or affect his classification," says Section 116 of the Regulations.

"Failure to report change of status as herein required, or making a false report thereof, is a misdemeanor, punishable by one year's imprisonment."

The campaign to run down these draft slackers will be started very soon, and it will be a vigorous campaign. Men guilty of evading military service by failure to report when they should be re-classified, need look for no mercy.

"Every patriotic registrant who has been granted deferred classification, but whose status has changed so that he is no longer entitled to that classification, will report the change immediately to his local board," said Captain John B. Cullison, in charge of the execution of the draft law in the office of the adjutant general.

"Those who have not the patriotism to report voluntarily will gain nothing by it. They will be found out and not only re-classified, but will be subject to severe punishment. If a man is in doubt as to change of status, he should see his local board about it without delay."

Will You Help Our "Home Town" Boys

Almost simultaneously with the declaration of war, the conscription bill was passed. Hundreds of thousands of young men were called to the colors in the first great draft, thousands are now going into service every month.

Boys from our town are among them. They are the ones your War Savings Stamps money will help. Do you think more of the enemy's soldiers than you do of our home town boys?

After all, this war is a very personal affair. It's your war and our war. Our sons are going "over there" to protect us—and it is up to us to show ourselves worthy of their sacrifice.

America Must Face the Truth About Shoes

Conditions that Reach Every Home

Many makers who never used substitutes for leather before are doing so today. But notwithstanding this, there are others, who, like Buckingham & Hecht, still build their shoes of all-leather.

If you insist on all-leather shoes you uphold America's aims of true economy and unimpaired service.

The greatest difficulty that confronts the public is to tell the real leather shoes from the substitutes. Even experts are sometimes puzzled by clever imitations. So for safety's sake request Buckingham & Hecht Shoes and look for our name imprinted on the sole. Do this, because these shoes contain no substitutes for leather and never have. They are made of all-leather and all selected grades. They have been standard for 60 years.
