

Periscope on Bayonet of British Soldier

British soldiers on the western front have a pocket periscope which they fasten to their bayonets, thus reflecting the activities of the Boche in the trenches behind. This soldier with his back to the Boche can see every action of the enemy.

Beer Manufacture to Be Curtailed

Washington, July 6.—Brewing of beer and the manufacture of "near-beer," will be curtailed 50 per cent thru fuel restrictions in the year beginning July 1, according to a joint announcement by Fuel Administrator Garfield and Chairman Bapich of the war industries board, after the weekly meeting of the president's war cabinet.

The fuel restriction amounting to 50 per cent will include fuel of all kinds and will be based upon the average annual consumption between January 1, 1915, and December 31, 1917. The order applies to brewers of beer, ale porter and other cereal beverages, and to the manufacture of non-alcoholic cereal beverages.

At the Theaters

These dramatic situations predominate in "Blue Blazes Rawden," starring Wm. S. Hart, an Aircraft picture produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince, which will be shown at the Star theater tonight.

J. G. Hawks, who wrote the scenario especially for Hart, adopted the bold expediency of divesting the not-makes demonstrates afresh her surprising versatility, and her beauty never wanes. Her success in drama is as great as in comedy; tears she evokes as easily as smiles and always she is a unique figure on the screens of the world.

All the world loves a fighter. That is why William Farnum, who is pre-eminently the fighting man of the screen, is one of the favorites of the silent drama. The distinguished William Fox star has literally smashed and bruised his way to photoplay fame because of the strength of his hard right arm.

None of Farnum's battles have been "stagey." The famous player has battered his way to victory each time. Now he is pitted against a man still more rugged, and probably as powerful as himself.

This man is Walter Law, who is cast for an important part in "The Heart of a Lion." Law has acted in many William Fox productions and is counted as one of the most Herculean members of the film profession. He weighs 225 pounds, stands 6 feet one inch high, has a 37-inch waist and a chest measurement of 41 inches. His entire build is greater than that of his adversary but Farnum has never quailed in the slightest before superior size.

Wm. S. HART in Blue Blazes Rawden

So if you want to see a real hammer and tongs, up-and-at-'em bout, watch for the picture. The fight is sure to be the best in the history of the photoplay because both of the contestants have a hankering for the vigorous. At the Orpheus Sunday and Monday.

Wholesome comedy, striking dramatic action, an interesting love story and a very plausible and illuminating expose of spy activities in the army are phases of the stirring production "American Buds," in which Jane and Katherine Lee will be shown at the Orpheus theater tonight.

The Fox "Baby Grands" appear not only in the expected role of trouble wholesalers, but Jane also is a heroine, her midnight excursion from bed to the living room being responsible for the catching of a member of the German secret service.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv ed actor of his familiar western garments and of replacing the dashing horses and other usual appurtenances of a Hart picture, with scenes of dramatic suspense.

There is plenty of action in the story, which is laid in the snow and ice bound Canadian Northwest, and deals with the brawny lumber jacks and trappers, who were quick to resent with physical force any real or fancied infringement of their rights.

Never so completely in her element as when surrounded by mystery and suspense, Mabel Normand is the central figure in another Goldwyn drama said to be a worthy successor to the now celebrated "Dodging a Million." The second production in which Miss Normand is starred by Goldwyn bears the interesting title of "The Floor Below." It will be shown at the Star theater beginning Sunday.

An international favorite, known wherever pictures are shown, Mabel Normand enjoys phenomenally good fortune. Every appearance she

ed efforts of our enemy to estrange allied powers one from the other. The rumor of a possible rapprochement between Germany and Japan is a fine new specimen of German propaganda. It is a matter of regret that such a preposterous canard can find even a momentary credence. I am satisfied that however cleverly started and spread, the report itself betrays utter ignorance of the national character of the Japanese people to whom, whatever other qualities may be wanting, the chivalrous spirit and deep sense of obligation have never been lacking."

Ambassador Pledges Allegiance of Nation

New Bedford, Mass., July 6.—Here, where the American-Japanese friendship began nearly three-quarters of a century ago, Viscount Ishii, the Japanese ambassador, reiterated his nation's wholehearted devotion to the cause of liberty and paid tribute to America's part in the war.

"Let me avail myself of this opportunity to say a few words with regard to the war," said Viscount Ishii. "As to what part Japan as an ally has played in the past, is playing actually or will be prepared to play in the future, I do not feel justified to enter in detail.

"Under no circumstances should our enemy be given opportunity to draw strategic advantages from untimely disclosures. Suffice it to say that Japan is thoroughly prepared to contribute to her noble allies in this terrible war in a way which in her judgment is most efficient and conducive to the ultimate success of the common cause.

"There is one thing, however, to which I would direct your particular attention, and that is the untiring
