

Marines Prove Mettle At Chateau Thierry

Portland, August 2.—When the Germans were pounding the French in their recent drive on Paris, word was received that reinforcements were urgently needed at Chateau Thierry. The French were hard pressed and could not hold out much longer. Troops were needed that could rush in and do whatever was most needed, from the building or destroying of bridges, looking after refugees, to fighting in whatever manner was most needed.

Railway facilities were inadequate to transport troops to the front and things looked very black indeed for the French front.

The call for reinforcements and the conditions were reported to the marines. They at once rushed out and commandeered motor driven vehicles of every description, and by morning the 75 mile trip had been made and thousands of marines were pouring into the trenches to the aid of their French Allies. At the same time huge motor trains had been started; these kept a continuous stream of food and ammunition pouring into the trenches. Once in the trenches the marines did not wait for the oncoming Germans, but went out and met them over half way and drove them back at every smash. Many more men with this same spirit are needed for the service in the marine corps as infantry, artillery, aviators, signal men, and machine gunners. At present men who are qualified as linemen, telegraphers and radio operators may enlist for special duty and will be sent east to enter signal battalions now forming for duty in France. Vacancies also exist for a limited number of auto and gas engine mechanics for duty with the marine corps aviation and will be sent to the aviation base in Southern California for duty.

Men who registered June 5th last have the privilege of enlisting with the marines as have all registered men whose numbers are so low they will not be needed to fill the current quota of their local boards. Young men 18 years and over may also enlist and should not overlook the marines as about 1500 vacancies for commissioned officers still exist and are open to worthy enlisted men. Men who are interested and wish to investigate or join this branch of service may do so thru their local postmaster, also at the marine recruiting station.

Airplane Mascot Does Stunts on Machine

This airplane mascot of the British flying corps is not afraid to go in the air. Occasionally he does acrobatic stunts at dizzy heights. Many times he has been up with aviators who have shot down German planes.

cruel devastation wrought by defensive fighting against the German legions on their own soil, but war has come by air, and just as it has been necessary for the Entente Allies to bomb German billets in Belgium and French towns, so they have frequently had occasion to bomb Luxembourg and with deadly effect.

Naturally the German propagandists in Luxembourg, as in Belgium, have tried to arouse hostility against the Entente by exploiting the air raids. But again, as in Belgium, their efforts have proved singularly unsuccessful. The Luxemburgers persist, in spite of all propaganda, regarding the German invader as the real culprit; they recognize clearly that Luxembourg is raided because the German is there. Protests by the Luxembourg parliament and government against Germany's action in placing anti-aircraft guns around Luxembourg have been unavailing.

Luxemburg People Have Bitter Lot

London, August 3.—(British Wireless Service).—The whole world understands and appreciates the tragic position of heroic Belgium and Serbia and all the allied peoples have sympathy for Roumania and Montenegro, but only scant attention has been given to the bitter lot of the people of Luxembourg.

For four years now the citizens of Luxembourg have lived isolated under the yoke of German military domination. It is said there are 3,000 Luxemburg volunteers in France's foreign legion, and that they are gallant fighters on the side of justice and humanity. It is true that Luxembourg has not faced the
