

German Press Censored For Deceiving People

New York, Aug. 7.—The press in Germany was accused during a debate in the Reichstag of spreading false reports regarding Allied attacks on German cities, according to German newspapers received here. The cause in question was the air raid on Cologne on May 28.

Deputy Kueckoff of the Centre party, said there had been no timely warning of the population by the military authorities.

Deputy Meerfeld, Socialist, said that, although every child in Cologne knew that 25 persons were killed the newspapers on that day were forced to say "that unfortunately there have been some casualties."

"What will be the reputation of the press if they are forced to spread such false reports," he asked. Meerfeld said that the methods of the general command reminded him of the thing that "under martial law every jackass can rule."

Battalion, before enlisting was getting $12 a week for driving a city milk route. He lost an arm and a leg and, after a course in a re-education hospital, he obtained a position as a metal turner and fitter at $75 a month.

VISITS FROM PORTLAND

Mrs. H. R. Reynolds of Portland is a recent arrival in Klamath Falls. She reports that Mr. Reynolds, who invested extensively in Klamath county ranch property here two years ago, thru Major C. E. Worden, is now one of the "dollar a year" men in the service of the government. It is Mrs. Reynolds' expectation to spend some time here looking after her husband's interests.

Crippled Veterans Are Taught Paying Trades

New York, Aug. 7.—Thousands of men who have been crippled in industry and in battle. Such men, according to Mr. McMurtrie, instead of becoming dependent derelicts or mere pensioners, have learned trades and professions which have made them happy and successful.

A mechanic who enlisted in the Princess Patricia's regiment and who was wounded and returned to Canada, spent three months in a convalescent hospital and now earns, it is said, double his former pay, having taken advantage of the mechanical drawing and arithmetic classes carried on in at the institution. Writing to the hospital instructor he said: "At present, since my discharge from the military service, I am, technically, a better man all around; I am able now to hold a job as foreman in a machine shop, with more than twice the salary I was getting before."

Douglas C. McMurtrie, director of the Red Cross Institute, has knowledge of hundreds of typical cases of
