SOLDIERS MUST DO THEIR OWN FATIGUE DUTY

DAYS OF CAMP FOLLOWERS ARE OVER—ODD JOBS GIVEN AS PENALTIES FOR MINOR DELINQUENCIES

Behind British Lines in France, July 28.—(Correspondence to The Associated Press.)—Life on active service is not entirely composed, as some people believe, of fighting, of sitting in trenches, of resting billets, of marching, eating and sleeping. It is true that the main activities of the soldier are comprised in the above list, but there are countless other duties which he is called upon to perform—duties which might best be called "odd jobs" and some of which are distinctly odd.

The days of camp followers, who used to perform the more menial tasks of the battle zone, are gone never to return. The soldier must now be his own hewer of wood and drawer of water. He must attend himself to all the little details of life, the cleaning of his quarters, the digging of trenches, the carrying of his food. Broken trenches must be mended, fresh trenches dug, and dugouts built. All these odd jobs, which the soldier is called upon to do in what would otherwise be his spare time, he sums up under the comprehensive heading of "fatigue."

Fatigue duty, as the name implies, is not often a light or restful form of occupation. It may involve a long march with a night's work at the end of it.

The first men to be picked for a fatigue party are the defaulters, men guilty of minor delinquencies, such as the possession of a rusty rifle, or an unshaven chin at the morning parade. It follows that the term "fatigue" has fallen somewhat into disrepute, for it has come to be associated, at least in the civilian mind, with an idea of punishment. In consequence, an attempt has been made to differentiate between extra work which is definitely allotted as a form of punishment, and extra work which is included in the duties of every soldier, be his character ever so stainless. For this purpose a new phrase has been introduced. This new phrase is "working party." Men are selected for working parties in turn, so that everyone contributes a share.

So far as possible working parties are employed on essentially military operations, such as the putting up of wire entanglements, the digging of trenches, the carrying of rations and stores, whereas a fatigue party is likely to be employed on more menial forms of occupations.

It is difficult to change old names, and the distinction between a fatigue party and a working party is carefully observed in official orders, the British soldier himself is still inclined to apply the old name "fatigue" indiscriminately to all forms of extra work.

In the main, it is the unfortunate infantryman who is called upon to supply working parties. The engineers, for example, depend to a great extent on infantry labor for the carrying out of their various operations.

"PORTERETTES" LATENT STUNT IN SEATTLE

Seattle, Aug. 8.—A "porterette" has been advertised for by a local barber shop, and the other boss barbers are to take up the idea, they say. It is a war measure with the razor men. They cannot get the men, and the work or fight rule will make the labor supply still more scarce.

Therefore the customer who has become accustomed to being whisked up seven or more floors to his downtown office by an "elevatorette" and receiving his mail from a woman carrier, will soon be falling in line to have his hat dusted and his coat fluffed by a young "porterette."

Barbers say the plan is expected to bring them more business.

WOUNDED TRANSPORTED BY LIGHT RAILWAY

The transportation of the wounded from the front is one of the most serious problems of the military authorities, and the most logical plan yet devised is via the light railway. It is constructed at very low cost and can be shifted at will as the tide of battle changes. Many of these railways are now being used.

STATE PEN SERVICE FLAG HAS 40 STARS

Portland, Aug. 8.—The service flag at the Oregon state penitentiary now contains 40 stars, representing about one percent of this prison population. State Parole Officer Joseph Keller has announced. Each star stands for a man paroled from the prison who has enlisted in the army or navy, and practically every man has been restored to citizenship by Governor James Withycombe.

MEN MAY BE FORCED TO GO TO SCHOOL

Sacramento, Aug. 8.—A recommendation that the state legislature pass a bill requiring men more than 21 years old, who cannot read or write, to attend school at least eight hours a week, day or night, until they are able to do so will be made at the biennial session next January by Will C. Wood, commissioner of secondary schools, he has announced.

Commissioner Wood recently visited the schools maintained at Balboa Park, San Diego, Cal., for the instruction of draft soldiers in reading, writing and other subjects.

WOMAN'S COMMITTEE, COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

Anyone interested in the work of the Woman's Committee, Council of Defense, work, will find some one every Saturday afternoon, from 1:30 to 4:30, at the council rooms in the city hall.

BIG DANCE TONIGHT

Tonight is the night of the big dance at the Mills Addition hall, which the War Savings society of that district is promoting to raise money for sewing machines for the Red Cross rooms.

The best of music by the Peerless orchestra and a fine time is assured those attending. The public is cordially invited.

FORECLOSURE ACTION

A suit for the foreclosure of a mortgage on Klamath County property held by the First National bank as security for a $350 note signed by M. J. McDonough has been instituted in the office of the Circuit court clerk thru the bank's attorneys, Rutten & Yaden.

The complaint alleges that a second lien on the property was given at a later date to Harry Peitz for $416.82, and asks for the sale of the property, the satisfaction first of the bank obligation, the payment of the amount due Mr. Peitz, and the sum of $75 for attorney fees.

Local Red Cross Activities

Those present at the sewing room yesterday were Mesdames Frank Moreland, W. J. Steinmetz, J. M. Johnson, W. P. McMillan, A. B. Lums, E. B. Sedge, W. R. Boyd, L. E. Sullivan.

Merrill sent in a donation of $50 August 5th, which was thankfully received.

Workers in the surgical dressing department were Mesdames L. O. Mills, Ruth S. Addison, Z. C. Kimball, O. L. Brown, Hattie Thraasher, G. E. Erwin, Harry Kinney, Jas. H. Driscoll and Miss Faith Kimball.

NOTICE

Owing to the improvement now started on the county road past the Altamont ranch, it will be necessary to close this thoroughfare to the general public until further notice. Travelers from the east will turn north at the Wheeler road, three-quarters of a mile east of the Altamont ranch, and come in roads thru Mills Addition. Those from the south will turn off by the Summers school and come in by the slaughter house road. 8-51

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Cisco, the largest selling elgar in the world. Two hundred million sold last year. Try one and learn why. Six cents straight at all dealers. Mason, Ehrman & Co., wholesale distributors. 5-61

IF MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who get up with a bad breath coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.—Adv.
